WAR VETERANS MUTINY AND MANY ARE KILLED

Czar's Soldiers in the Far East Participate in a Conspiracy.

OFFICERS ARE SHOT

Forty-two Commissioned Men of the Army Are Executed for Treason.

BATTLE BETWEEN COMRADES

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 17.—A mutiny in the Manchurian army is the latest sensational rumor in this city. According to the report the emperor has received a dispatch from Gen. Linevitch, telling him of a revolt among the troops which was only suppressed after a regular fight in which many soldiers were killed or wounded. Forty-two officers are reported to have been shot for participation in the conspiracy. No confirmation of the rumor is obtainable from the officials of the war office.

In some quarters the belief is expressed that martial law will be proclaimed in St. Petersburg tomorrow. It is said that the emperor and grand dukes insist on this step against the counsels of Count Witte.

The employers during the day finally informed the workmen that they had decided against an eight-hour day. There was an unprecedented run on the savings banks today. Some of them were unable to meet the demand immediately.

About 600 members of the new party, the Moderates, were present at a meeting today held under the presidency of M. Krosowsky, president of St. Petersburg municipal council. A resolution to support the government and condemning the present strike was adopted. The meeting also decided to issue an appeal to the workmen.

A Fatal Misunderstanding.

The workmen's organization today addressed the following appeal to the soldiers and sailors:

"Comrades and brothers: For a long time we have misunderstood each other. Your officers taught you to regard us as enemies of the fatherland and as criminals whom you should shoot, beat with your whips and butcher with your bayonets. Our struggle for the people's freedom and the people's well being, has been depicted to you as a revolution against the fatherland which you are obliged to suppress. Many of you, believing this, have shot your own brothers, filling the streets of our towns with blood.

"The case is now altered. The eyes of many of the soldiers and sailors have been opened. They understand that all of us are brothers and that we are sons of the same nation whose common enemies are your commanders and those in power. They understand that the liberty of the people is their own liberty and the good of the people their own good.

"The men of the Black Sea fleet at Odessa stood against their commanders and signified that they wanted to lead the lives of men, that they wanted liberty, and they associated themselves with the cause of the people. A hundred sailors at Cronstadt have been handed over to a court-martial and today or tomorrow may be executed. Knowing this, we workmen of St. Petersburg struck, demanding the release of our soldier and sailor brethren and the abolition of court-martial and the death penalty.

"Is it possible that you, soldiers and

PLEADING WOMEN ENDING STRIKE IN RUSSIA

Under the Influence of Their Wives, Workmen Desire to Resume Occupations.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—(12:45 a. m.)—Though, according to surface indications yesterday, the outlook for the speedy ending of the strike was gloomy, the revelations made at a meeting last night of the council of the workmen's delegates showed that a large portion of the workmen were breaking loose from the control of the leaders and were anxious to return to work, and a plebiscite which will be taken today in the various factories probably will result in a decision to abandon the strike Monday.

At the meeting of the council delegate after delegate from different factories arose and reported that the workmen, under the influence of the ultimatum issued by the employers announcing that the factories would be shut down indefinitely unless work was resumed on Monday, and with the pleading of their wives and of conservative workmen ringing in their ears, were demanding that the strike should be ended.

One fiery speaker thundered his denunciation of those who wished to discontinue the struggle.

Gen. Dedulin, prefect of police, issued a proclamation today calling on the inhabitants to yield to the demands of the strikers for the cessation of work, which demands, it is pointed out, are sometimes accompanied by threats. The proclamation announces that all measures will be taken for the repression of violence.

MOSCOW, Nov. 17.—All the Moscow railroads, with the exception of the Nicholas lines, are working regularly. The local strike committee today pronounced itself as opposed in principle to the general strike declared in St. Petersburg.

WARSAW, Nov. 17.—Regular railroad traffic has been resumed throughout Poland, the strike of the railroad men having ended. The normal life of the city has been resumed.

Erie Flyer Crashes Into an Engine and Passengers and Employes Are Injured.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

The most seriously hurt are: John Duggan Susquehanna, baggagemaster; arm, back and head bruised; Thomas Scott of Binghampton, express messenger, back sprained; J. W. Lewis of Wyoming, scalp lacerated and sprained shoulder; George Esmay of Uniondale, spine injured; Thomas Price of Hudson, contusions of the right leg and forehead; Bonita Capwell, aged 11, of Susquehanna, face bruised.

The engine of the flyer was badly damaged, and the "helper" had its tender stove in and was derailed.

CITY RECEIVES $100,000 SCHOOL FUNDS FROM STATE

Over Half of Appropriation for This Year Remains Unpaid—Money Will Be Used to Meet General Municipal Expenses.

City Treasurer Steel yesterday received from the state treasurer $100,000 in part payment of the amount appropriated by the state for the schools of Pittsburgh. There remains unpaid to the city by the state $127,508, which the city treasurer expects to receive this month or next.

The regular appropriation of school funds for Pittsburgh this year is the same as last. It is based upon one-third of the paid teachers of the city, one-third of the children of school age and one-third upon the number of taxables.

The school funds from the state go into the general fund of the city instead of being held intact by the city to pay the expenses of the schools. The city councils make an appropriation each year to meet the expenses of the schools, based on the estimate presented by the central board of education, and the levy for this appropriation is included in the general levy of the city.

Treasurer Steel said yesterday that the school funds are forwarded by the state treasurer about the same time every year. During the recent campaign, when political capital was being made by charges in reference to the state funds, Controller Larkin wrote to the state treasurer, demanding a remittance of the appropriation due the city.

QUICK RESPONSE TO GAZETTE'S APPEAL FOR RUSSIANS

FIRST DAY NETS $430

Pittsburgh Relief Society Indorses Gazette Fund and Urges Its Support.

MERCHANTS TO RESPOND

New York, Nov. 17, 1905.

The Pittsburgh Gazette, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

Highly appreciate and value your benevolence in beginning a subscription for the suffering Jews in Russia. Private cables more than confirm all the horrors reported by the Associated Press.

OSCAR S. STRAUS,
Chairman National Relief Committee.

This expression of appreciation was received yesterday by The Gazette by telegraph and the same congratulations were offered by many prominent local business men and professional men of all faiths who are in sympathy with the inauguration of a popular subscription fund to offer relief to the suffering Russians.

Although The Gazette fund was opened only yesterday morning subscriptions aggregating $350 were received at this office during the day and many merchants made known their intention to contribute to The Gazette fund within a day or two.

Several days ago a relief fund was organized by the Jewish people of this vicinity and an organization was effected under the title of the Pittsburgh Society for the Relief of Russian Sufferers. This organization has devoted itself to appealing chiefly to the Jewish residents of this vicinity and yesterday sent its third installment to the national fund headquarters in New York. In all this society has raised $6,000 from the merchants of this city.

However, as the reign of massacre and pillage in Russia has been directed regardless of creed or religion; as the funds are to be distributed through the British consuls, regardless of the religious faith of the sufferers, as the cry coming from Russia is one that must appeal to all members of the human family, and as disaster knows no faith or dogma, the columns of The Gazette have been thrown open to all people and all classes.

The Pittsburgh Society for the Relief of Russian Sufferers has not only commended the action of The Gazette, but has issued a statement asking all those in sympathy with the movement to aid the distressed to support The Gazette fund. The statement is as follows:

The Pittsburgh Gazette has kindly volunteered its aid in the cause of the suffering humanity in Russia and it is co-operating with our committee, and we heartily indorse its efforts in this direction. Any contributions made to The Gazette fund will be appreciated by us and will be turned into the local committee fund.

ALBERT M. HANAUER,
Treasurer Pittsburgh Society for the Relief of Russian Sufferers.

Subscriptions received yesterday are as follows:

The Pittsbugh Gazette	$100
McCreery & Co.	100
Rosenbaum Company	150
F. C. Smith, proprietor Colonial hotel	50
Mt. Sinai Lodge, K. of P.	25
Adolph Grabscheid, Braddock	5
	$430

Big Addition to Fund.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Contributions today from all parts of the country by the committee for the relief of the sufferers from the Russian massacres amounted to $67,179, making a grand total of $360,870.

WOMAN KILLS HERSELF.

Failing to Effect Reconciliation With Husband She Sends Bullet Through Heart.

RIDGWAY, PA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Myrtle Grenols shot herself through the heart in her bedroom this morning and died instantly. She had threatened to commit suicide if she failed to induce her husband to live with her.

She returned last night from Los Angeles, Cal., where she had gone to see her husband, and it is supposed she failed to affect a reconciliation. A letter was found addressed to a sister, Mrs. Rose Jones of Braddock. It contained $70, but did not mention suicide.

Big Fund in London.

LONDON, Nov. 17.—The fund for the Russian Jews now amounts to $730,000, of which the United States contributed $400,000.

MOTHER AND CHILD MEET DEATH IN TWO FORMS

Fire and Gas Fumes Cause a Double Tragedy in Home at Blair Station.

Mrs. John Lonkusky, aged 28, and her 6-year-old son, John, Jr., were found dead last evening at their home at Blair station, Jefferson township. The husband is a glass worker employed at Brownsville, and at a late hour last night he had not been reached.

The Lonkusky home is opposite the Peter Gross hotel at Blair station. Mrs. Lonkusky and her son, who were usually seen about the house during the day, did not appear yesterday, leading to the suspicion that something was wrong. Last evening Constable Michael Snare and John Kuntz, a bartender at the hotel, went to the house and found all the doors locked. They forced a door and found the woman and her son dead. The boy was lying on a lounge and the mother was bending over him. Both bodies were nude and the flesh of each was scorched. Gas in a stove in the room was turned on full, making a heat so intense that the walls were blistering hot. Fumes of unconsumed gas filled the room. It is believed the gas ignited after it had been turned on full, the boy's clothing caught fire and he was fatally burned and that Mrs. Lonkusky in trying to save her son, was herself burned to death. The position of the bodies when found indicates that the mother carried the boy to the lounge and that there the two died.

RESEMBLANCE WINS HIM.

Widower Meets Dead Wife's Sister and Marries Her After a Two Days' Courtship.

KENT, O., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Daniel Blackmore, aged 66, of Kent, went to Montreal this week to meet his late wife's sister, Miss Susanna Gast, who was on her way here from Bristol, England, for a visit.

When they met, after a separation of 35 years, Blackmore discovered Miss Gast is almost the exact counterpart of his dead wife. Two days later they were married at Toronto, and arrived here last night. The bride is aged 68. Blackmore is a deacon in the Congregational church of Kent.

HAUL DOWN THE FLAG.

Longshoremen Object to British Ensign Flying Over Cunard Pier in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—An attempt to haul down the British flag was made by longshoremen today at the Cunard line dock, where Prince Louis' flagship the Drake, is anchored.

The flag which was attacked was not on the warship but floated over the dock in honor of the British guests. The longshoremen were fought off by a dozen policemen, who saved the emblem from violence.

DEAF MUTE CHILD ORDERED BACK TO INDIA

Little One, Who Was to Be Adopted by Pittsburgher, Is Held at Ellis Island.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—Brought all the way from India that she might be educated and later return to impart its benefit to others, Hooktie Wood, a 10-year-old deaf and dumb girl, who arrived on the steamship Canopic, Monday, in charge of Missionary Elmer Burgess, was ordered deported today. An appeal was made tonight to the department of commerce and labor by Charles R. Myles of Natchez street, Pittsburgh, Pa., who came here today to get the girl.

The child is an orphan and has no known relatives. She was picked up in India after one of the terrible famines had swept over the country. The little one was taken care of by Miss Lillian Sprague, a missionary of the Pentecost church of America, which has a mission at Buldana, India. Miss Sprague appealed to American Christians to find a way to bring the girl to the United States and educate her. The appeal came to the niece of Charles R. Myles of Pittsburgh, a member of the Fourth Avenue Baptist church, who is himself a deaf mute, and he made arrangements to have the child sent to America.

If the appeal to the department of commerce and labor is of no avail, it is said President Roosevelt will be asked to act in the child's behalf.

HAS TO SWEEP FLOORS AND EAT BAKER'S BREAD

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

FRANKLIN, PA., Nov. 17.—Alleging woes almost by the score, Attorney Harley W. Fisher of Oil City today filed a bill of particulars in his divorce suit. He cites among the things his wife did when she got angry that she turned the pictures of all his family toward the wall and defied him to molest them. On another occasion, it is alleged, she barricaded his library door and kept him out of the room three weeks.

A grievance on which Mr. Fisher lays particular stress is that he was compelled to eat baker's bread, because his wife would not bake. He had to get his own meals for a week at a time, he says. His wife even went as far as to command him to sweep the floor, he declares, but he rebelled.

On application of Mrs. Fisher Judge Criswell has granted a special jury trial. The case will be heard in December.

Famous Riverman Is Dead.

MARIETTA, O., Nov. 17.—Capt. Horatio Booth, aged 91, a well-known riverman, died here this morning. He was the first white man to take a flatboat from the upper Ohio river to New Orleans.

"RAMBUNCTIOUS" ONE'S NAME IS FORGOTTEN

Senator Depew's Memory Fails Him of Friend Who Made Annual Visits.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—With the end of the morning session today Senator Armstrong's committee on insurance investigation finished a week that for strenuousness and importance has been eclipsed by no one week since the investigation was inaugurated. Besides being the week in which the most sessions have been held, the witnesses have been the most important, including "the big guns" in the financial world as well as in the insurance business.

Early in the week James Hazen Hyde was examined and made charges against E. H. Harriman and former Gov. Odell, who successively appeared and denied Mr. Hyde's statements, and Mr. Hyde, being recalled, affirmed his testimony. Then Senator Chauncey M. Depew was heard, and when the session opened today it was plain that before the day was over Senator Platt would be called.

He is wanted to testify as to the collection of contributions to political campaign funds by the insurance companies, Mr. Odell having testified yesterday that Senator Platt collected all such moneys up to last year. It is now expected the senator will be heard early next week, possibly on Tuesday, when the sessions will be resumed.

Knows Nothing of His Father.

Frank B. Jordan, son of the former controller of the Equitable, who at a previous session said he did not know where his father was or whether either his father or mother were living, was called again today and said that he had received a letter from his mother, who was in Canada, since he first testified, but that she said nothing of his father. He could tell nothing as to the amount of fire insurance business he had done for the Equitable or why he got it, but is going to supply that information later. Samuel S. McCurdy, assistant register of the Equitable, and not related to the McCurdys of the Mutual Life, said he had charge of the vouchers for legal service. From him was gleaned a story of trouble in California in 1897, when the insurance commissioner of that state demanded an examination. Thousands of dollars were spent by the Equitable in this matter, as accounted by Mr. McCurdy, and he justified the expenditure on the ground that it would have cost the Equitable about $50,000 had no defense been made, hence the expenditure for counsel. He seemed to think the demands of the California commissioners were exorbitant.

When the Country's Safe.

Mr. McCurdy said he did not know when David B. Hill's retainer as counsel to the Equitable society began. The first voucher from Mr. Hill the witness had issued March 20, 1895. Mr. Hill's letter to J. W. Alexander accompanying the voucher and acknowledging the receipt of the retainer created much laughter. In a note at the end of the letter Mr. Hill wrote:

See Announcement on Page 16

"I am feeling pretty well now that congress has adjourned and the country is safe. When the legislature adjourns the state will be safe."

Senator Depew was called to give any information he might possess as to a number of vouchers for legal services, but his knowledge was rather limited, and many of the expenditures and signers of these vouchers he had never heard of.

Mr. Hughes, counsel for the committee, read an extract from the letter which was written by Nichols to the senator, in which the following appeared:

"That this is to remind you that some one gets round this time of the year."

"Do you recall," asked Mr. Hughes, "who this someone is?"

Had Forgotten His Friend.

"I don't recall his name," said Senator Depew.

"Here Mr. Hughes again read from the letter: "Our friend up the river has been very rambunctious of late and wants to know, you know."

Mr. Hughes asked if that referred to the same man.

"I believe so, but I don't recall his name," said the senator. He added that the man was not connected with the legislature and he thought he had nothing to do with politics, but was an insurance man.

"Did you know Thomas D. Husted?" asked Mr. Hughes. "I did very well. He is now dead, he was the son of General Husted, and he was retained by the Equitable up to the time of his death, said the senator.

"New York, Dec. 19, 1896.

"My Dear Depew:

"My friend who usually gets around at this time of the year, has written me several letters to which I have not replied. He now writes me that he will be here Monday or Tuesday, and desires to have me help him as usual. What shall I do?

"Faithfully yours,

"JOHN A. NICHOLS."

Don't Care a Hang, Etc.

"New York, Dec. 4, 1900.

"My Dear Senator—Our friend up the river has been very rambunctious of late and wants to know you know. Don't care a hang, etc. and etc. As soon as you can conveniently say, will you kindly do so?

"Wishing you all the good things of life in this holiday season, I am,

"As ever yours,

"JOHN A. NICHOLS."

The senator said that he did not know to what service the letters related, but that he knew at the time he received them, and that he turned them over to Mr. Alexander or Mr. Hyde of the Equitable society.

Gage E. Tarbell was called just before recess and had hardly got started in his testimony when Senator Depew was called. When he resumed it was almost time for adjournment, and Senator Armstrong announced that the sub-committee of Senator Tully and Assemblyman Cox would take the deposition of Mr. Sopris at 3 o'clock, therefore no afternoon session would be held.

Mr. Tarbell told of his 25 years' connection with the Equitable, and his activities in the interest of the policy holders. He started as a solicitor in Greene, N. Y., and later was given a general agency for the southern tier counties of this state with headquarters at Binghamton. He was opposed to money being spent for legislative purposes, and thought the policy holders in a body could defeat any legislation inimical to their interests. He said he had tried to interest the New York Life and the Mutual Life in an agreement to appoint a committee of one to look after such matters, but the officers of the Mutual Life said it was impracticable. Mr. Tarbell knew of no money expended for legislative purposes.

Mr. Tarbell was on the stand when the adjournment until Tuesday was taken.

The deposition of George H. Squire, former financial manager of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, was taken before a sub-committee of the Armstrong committee on insurance investigation this afternoon. The deposition was not made public, as it will be read for the record Tuesday morning next, when the sessions of the Armstrong committee are resumed.

INGALLS DENOUNCES INSURANCE SYSTEM

Former Director of Equitable Says He Wanted Hyde and Alexander Out Long Ago.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—Melville E. Ingalls, chairman of the Big Four board, formerly a director in the Equitable Insurance Company, said in an interview today that he had begged Hyde and Alexander to get out long before the sensational disclosures in the New York investigation. He said:

"My predictions have been like holy writ in this instance. I begged both Hyde and Alexander to get out months and months ago and save the company from the disgrace of these disclosures. The investigation had only been on a few days when I plainly saw how things must terminate.

"The Erick report was the fatal finish. It sounded the knell of the old regime. Now what we should do is to secure the enactment of laws which would not lend to this form of gambling insurance. I can call it by no more polite name. We must wipe out this system of deferred payments which create a large surplus. The line between a mutual insurance company and an insurance company run for the benefit of stockholders should be clearly defined by law, and the law should be enforced. An insurance company should not be allowed to work the hocus-pocus of running its affairs ostensibly for the policy holders and then turning the business around to the advantage of the stockholders. I cannot say too emphatically that we must do away with gambling insurance, the large surplus and the quasi mutual stock company."

BIGELOW LOOKS FOR NEW ISSUE

Declares Municipal Ownership May Be a Big Factor in Next Fight for Mayoralty.

SAYS BROWN WILL NOT RUN

"I don't care to talk about a municipal light plant just now. I am chary on that subject because municipal ownership may be an important issue in the campaign for mayor in February."

Director Bigelow made this statement yesterday when he was asked for an opinion concerning a municipal light plant, what it would cost and if it would reduce the expense to the city of lighting its streets. Mr. Bigelow occasionally becomes very frank in the expression of his ideas concerning public matters in which he is interested. He was in such a mood yesterday when he was approached on the subject of the electric light contract. He said he would not be surprised if some candidate for mayor would appear in the field who would advocate municipal ownership of certain public utilities, such as the street lighting system, and also make better street car facilities a part of his platform.

Municipal Ownership May Be Issue.

Director Bigelow evidently had in mind such a platform as had William Randolph Hearst, who was a candidate for mayor of Greater New York November 7 on a municipal ownership platform.

"I believe that Hearst was really elected, but even if he was elected he will never get his seat," said Mr. Bigelow, "because they will continue the fight in the court until the term of the next mayor expires. That is the history of almost every contest for office after an election."

Director Bigelow said a candidate pledged to such municipal reforms as cheaper light and heat and better street car service would cut a large figure in the mayoralty fight in February, and he repeated that for this reason he did not care to go into a discussion of the merits of a municipal light plant to furnish light for the streets of Pittsburgh instead of the city paying $100,000 a year, as it does now, to a private corporation.

Mr. Bigelow would not claim, however, that the Citizens party candidate had any intention of promising these reforms to the people in February, the failure of that party to keep its other reform pledges being of too recent a date to offer additional promises.

Clings to Fee System.

Mr. Bigelow drifted to the subject of other reforms which the Citizens party made to the people and which it failed to keep. He mentioned the office of delinquent tax collector, which averages in income to Andrew Fulton about $35,000 or $40,000 a year. The Citizens party in its platform three years ago, when Mayor Hayes was elected, pledged itself to abolish this office or to reduce the profits of the collector. Instead, the office is still in existence and the delinquent tax collector is still drawing the same fee he received under the previous administration.

"I believe that the delinquent tax office is a good thing for the people, as well as the collector himself," said Mr. Bigelow. "The fee is an incentive for him to collect all that is due the city and the city shares in the benefit. It may be that his fees are too large, that the collector receives too much and the city too little, but the fee system should not be abolished."

Director Bigelow next talked of candidates for mayor in February.

"James W. Brown would be a candidate who could not be beaten, but he will not run," said the director. "I am for H. Kirke Porter, but I was told today he would not run. So, there you are. We all know what kind of a man Pittsburgh ought to have for mayor, but the trouble is to find the man."

PLATT TALKS ABOUT NEW YORK POLITICS

Says Republican County President Halpin Is an Unfit Man and Must Go.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—United States Senator Platt continued today his campaign to secure control of the local Republican organization. After a talk with some of the Republican district leaders Senator Platt said:

"There must be a change in the local Republican organization. President Halpin of the county committee must go. He is not a fit man for the place and the president knows that as well as I do. A change has got to come and the outlook for a reorganization in December is very encouraging. I am going to talk with the leaders from day to day and find out the exact situation. We must first clean up the local organization and then we can give our attention to the state and other matters. There must be regeneration all along the line."

The senator said that he had asked J. Van Vechten Olcott to become chairman of the Republican county committee in place of Mr. Halpin and that Mr. Olcott was considering.

HELD IN HEAVY BAIL.

Suitcase Conspirators Plead Not Guilty. Crawford's Wife Dies at Mrs. Bishop's Home.

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—William L. Hunt and Louis W. Crawford, who were arrested in New York in connection with the death of Susan Geary, the chorus girl pleaded not guilty today to an indictment charging them as accessories before and after the fact to an unlawful operation which caused the girl's death. Each was held for trial in bonds of $25,000. Bail was not furnished and the men were committed to jail. The government will attempt to prove that Hunt and Crawford disposed of the dismembered parts of the victim's body by placing them in suit cases and throwing them into Boston harbor.

Mrs. Crawford, the wife of one of the defendants, died at the home of Mrs. Jane Bishop at West Newton today from the effects on an operation performed to cure a throat trouble. Mrs. Crawford had been ill several months and for a fortnight her condition had been critical.

CATCH BOLD HIGHWAYMEN.

North Braddock Police Arrest Two Negroes Robbing Hungarians.

"Rastus" Edwards and W. F. Conway, negroes, were arrested by the North Braddock police yesterday, and identified as the men who held up and robbed Joseph Palkowich, George Polkois and his wife last Wednesday night. The negroes were committed to jail by Justice Richards on charges of highway robbers and felonious assault and battery.

The victims were on their way home to Port Perry when stopped by the negroes at East Pittsburgh. Polkois refused to hold up his hands and the negroes shot him through the arm. The negroes took $42 from the trio. Sevastiana Dalusa was also robbed by the two negroes on the same night at Dockers hollow. They took $5.35 from him.

VETERANS MUTINY AND MANY KILLED

sailors, will not arise and help your brothers at Cronstadt? Is it possible that you will remain hand in hand with the murderers of your brothers at Cronstadt?

"We workmen say 'the cause of the soldier and the sailor is our cause' and so we have gone out on strike.

"You must say everywhere, 'the cause of the workmen is our cause, and the struggle of the workmen our struggle' and you must associate yourself with the struggling people. You must strike and refuse to perform the duties imposed on you. Do not listen to the word of command calling upon you to put down the workmen's movement. Let not one shot be fired by you against the people.

"Down with the blood-thirsty commanders! Long live a free government and a free people!"

The outlook for an early collapse of the strike is more gloomy today. The situation is distinctly more menacing. The council of workmen's delegates, or strike committee, is manifestly encouraged by the extension of the strike in St. Petersburg, various organizations, including the bank clerks, telephone girls and some of the professional leagues having voted to join in the movement. Moreover, it is certain that the workmen's council have received mysterious supplies of funds and consequently they present a bolder front.

Scornful Reply to Witte.

Practically all the pretexts based on economic demands have been abandoned, although the eight-hour day figures in the oratory at meetings in order to hold the workmen who have no thought except improvement in their material condition.

The workmen's council returned a scornful reply to Count Witte's personal appeal to his "brother workmen," ridiculing the government's profession of solicitude for the workmen and renewing their demands for the immediate abolition of martial law in Poland.

Count Witte's attempt to negotiate directly with the strike leaders has come to naught, although he offered concessions in the case of the Cronstadt mutineers in the event of their being condemned to death. But the leaders refused all compromise. "All or nothing," was their response.

The imperial ukase on the land question, issued today, although it wipes out about $60,000,000 of the peasants' arrearages of debt which under ordinary circumstances might have been received with joy, is another disappointment. The promises of additional lands are too vague to calm the agitated, starving peasants who in the valleys of the Don and Volga are again marching, pillaging, burning and murdering.

No confirmation has been obtained of yesterday's report of a false emperor leading the peasants to Penza.

Threaten General Lockout.

The mill and factory owners at a meeting just held, while offering to make some concessions in the matter of hours of labor, generally to ten hours, took a final decision that unless the men resumed work Monday they must close down indefinitely. Should the men be locked out in the face of winter it would only make the situation more desperate.

The news from the provinces shows that practically no movement has been started there in support of the general strike, but there is a deep suspicion that this may simply be the lull of preparation.

The Social Democrats and revolutionists are keeping their plans dark. Their organizations have ramifications throughout the country and at a signal they might again be able to bring the industries of the country to a standstill.

At the navy department it was stated that there is no intention to try the great mass of the mutinous sailors, the outbreak being regarded more as a drunken riot than as a mutiny, and for which the officers themselves were largely responsible. Only the leaders will be tried and their punishment will be as light as possible. The bulk of them will be sent to sea on a punitive cruise.

Today's dispatches from Poland indicate a break in the ranks of the strikers. The Vienna-Warsaw line is open and street cars are running at Warsaw. Should the strike collapse in Poland it necessarily will weaken the movement here. M. Nemenaieff, the minister of communications, has sent a notification to all the railroad employes and officials to be at their posts at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning and commence work; otherwise they will be dismissed from the service.

SOUTH SOLVING NEGRO QUESTION

Bishop Galloway Makes Remarkable Address at Church Union Meeting.

BODIES FAVOR CO-OPERATION

Special Telegram From J. H. RALSTON, Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—The morning session of the inter-church conference swung away to missions at home and abroad and the Rev. Charles R. Watson, D. D., corresponding secretary of the board of foreign missions of the United Presbyterian church, urged federation on the ground that strategy in missions would be promoted and economy, efficiency and momentum would be secured.

The most notable address was by the Rev. C. B. Galloway, D. D., of Mississippi, a bishop in the Southern Methodist Episcopal church, who has recently been saying to the public much about the negro problem in the south. He said that the time was by when wrangling over the responsibility for slavery was proper, and that non-residents should not criticise the white neighbor of the colored man when they were trying to work out one of the hardest problems of the times. No crime, however dastardly, is a justification of lynch law. The rudiments of education should be given to all colored people, an industrial training for the many and a college education for the few who are to be leaders of that people. The christianizing of the colored man is the only means of his elevation and salvation.

Federation as already attempted in localities was the topic for the afternoon and testimony from cities, states and foreign mission fields was unanimous in its support, the recent movements in India, Japan and the Philippines being conspicuous.

Hon. H. Kirke Porter of Pittsburgh, in taking the chair as presiding officer at the evening session, the topic being "The United Church and the Fellowship of Faith," said in part that the contemplation of God, the Father, the Son, the Holy Spirit, and the holy scriptures would bring all the delegates very close to one another, and to a partial realization of the answer to the prayer of the Lord that His disciples should all be one. President Patton of Princeton, spoke on our faith in a personal God, and the Rev. H. L. Willett, Ph. D., recently prominent in the revival of the Disciples of Christ in Pittsburgh, spoke on our faith in the holy scriptures.

The anticipated influence of the conference in promoting a closer fellowship among the representatives of the denominations is more than realized, some skeptics as to the outcome being already converted. Dr. Robert S. McArthur of New York has said that this conference will mark an epoch in the church history of the country.

The Rev. George D. Lindsay of Greensburg and Mr. J. Campbell White of Pittsburgh are at the conference, and the latter gentleman is to be one of the speakers at the meeting for young people in the Broadway tabernacle Sunday afternoon, his topic being "The Evangelization of the World—the Great Unifying Conception."

Canadian Insurance Company Has Nine Policies in Minnesota and Wants Bonds Returned.

ST. PAUL, MINN., Nov. 17.—The North American Life Assurance Company of Toronto, Canada, has brought suit in the United States court here to impel State Insurance Commissioner T. D. MAN THOUGHT TO BE DEAD TURNS UP

John Shicola, Who Was Believed to Have Perished in Coal Mine, Is Alive.

RECOVER ALL OF THE BODIES

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MONONGAHELA, PA., Nov. 17.—John Shicola, who was thought to have been one of the men killed in the Braznell mine disaster Wednesday, is alive. He belonged to the shift which went down into the shaft and was checked off by the timekeeper to go down with the other six men who were killed by the explosion. Shicola, who is known as No. 8, for some reason did not go down. He was standing near the top of the shaft when the explosion occurred and was hurt by flying debris. His first thought was for his own injuries, and he went to his shanty nearby and has been there ever since. Last night when Dr. Booth, who attended the injured, was going over the list it was found Shicola was among the number. They went to his shanty and found him sleeping. The number of dead is, therefore, reduced to seven, and the wounded increased from three to four.

The seven bodies have all been recovered and brought to Monongahela. At 11 o'clock last night the first body was brought out. It proved to be that of J. Hoskins. Shortly afterward the bodies of Joseph Stokes, colored; Edward Farragher and George Wagoner, with the exception of the right leg, were brought out. The rescuers had to work in several feet of water at the bottom of the shaft. At noon today Wagoner's leg, which was severed at the hip, was brought to the surface, and 15 minutes later Edward Hastie's body came up. Frank Newman, the last of the dead men, was removed from the shaft at 12:15 o'clock.

The bodies were brought to Scurfield's morgue. Coroner Sipe and Mine Inspector Louttit, both fatigued with their hard night's work, accompanied the bodies. Coroner Sipe announced the inquest will be held at Bentleyville Monday morning. The body of J. Hoskins was shipped to Pottsville, Schuylkill county. The bodies of Frank Newman and George Wagoner were shipped to their former homes at Meyersdale. Joseph Stokes will be buried in the Monongahela cemetery.

HORSE SHOW SEES ITS BIGGEST DAY

Prince Louis Returns to the Horses and Divides Honors With Them.

JORDAN WINS MORE RIBBONS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Nov. 17.

Friday is always the "big" day at the horse show, but it was "bigger" than ever before because of the presence of Prince Louis of Battenberg, who was so delighted by his brief visit of Monday night that he returned again. Even though it was afternoon, he saw a spectacle that was well worth while. The garden has rarely been so crowded in daylight, and, of course, nearly all the boxes were filled with those who had already been the guests or hosts of the sailor prince.

After luncheon at Sherry's, the prince arrived at the show at about 3:30 o'clock. He was accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thayer of Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Elliott, Mrs. Lawrence Townsend, Lady Susan Townley and Walter Beaupre Townley and Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, with whom he had been spending several days in their country place in Rhinebeck.

Entering unobserved, the party walked first to the box of A. J. Cassatt of Philadelphia, which had been loaned to the Thayers, where they remained for, perhaps, half an hour. Then the prince made a circuit of the tanbark with Mrs. Astor, pausing for a moment at the Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt box to speak to Mrs. Vanderbilt and to salute his nephew, Prince Alexander, who sat there. Then, after escorting Mrs. Astor back to the Cassatt box, the prince left in an automobile with Mr. Thayer.

Even D. Jordan forged ahead in his blue ribbon winnings again by winning the Brewster prize for pairs shown before park vehicles, with his Hildred and Plymouth Champion. Mr. Jordan also took the blue ribbon in the class for ponies in harness with his champion Tangerine, Mrs. John Gerken's Solitaire being second and George Watson, Jr.'s Prima Donna third.

In the preliminaries of the pig pen jump there was one woman rider, Miss Belle Beach. She rode Countess, a horse exhibited by Henry L. Collins. She made the difficult jumps gracefully and without mishap, although there were several accidents to mounts which men were riding.

The best event of the morning classes was the contest for the ladies' prize, $100 in plate, for single horses to be shown to a lady's phaeton and driven by women. Six horses competed, among them Hildred of the Jordan string, driven by Miss Bell Beach, and Lord Baltimore of the Watson string, driven by Mrs. C. Blaisdell. Lord Baltimore won, with Lady Eocene, driven by Mrs. T. M. Whiting, second, and Hildred third.

The class for pairs attached to lady's phaetons and driven by women resulted in a victory for Miss Helen Fargo, Steam Dainty, and Poetry.

STRIFE FOR POSTOFFICE AT CHARLESTOWN, W. VA.

Proposal to Divide the Office Between Two Aspirants Is Resented By One Candidate.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Dr. H. N. Bradley, assistant postmaster at Charlestown, W. Va., called at the postoffice department today to inquire if any steps had been taken towards appointing a postmaster at his town. There is a vacancy and the Republican county organization has indorsed Dr. Bradley for the place. There is another candidate for the appointment in the person of Capt. H. C. Getzendanner, who is recommended by Senator Elkins. The senator is out of the city at present, but upon his return some action will be taken by the department.

Postoffice inspectors have been investigating the Charlestown office, but have not yet made their report.

It is said that a proposition has been submitted to Capt. Getzendanner that if he gets the postmastership he is to retain Dr. Bradley as assistant and is to allow him a portion of the postmaster's salary in addition to that of assistant. To this the captain demurred and told Senator Elkins that if he is to be postmaster he will insist upon making his own appointments and keeping his own salary. This view of the candidate may result in Senator Elkins withdrawing his support, it is said.

SENATOR PENROSE FAVORS GOVERNOR

Heartily Indorses the Reform Legislation Which Will Be Taken Up.

DISCUSSES THE VARIOUS BILLS

The Pittsburgh Gazette Bureau, Press Building, PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.

Senator Boise Penrose today discussed the special session of the legislature. He indicated that he was in full accord with the reforms advocated by the governor, also expressing belief that they will be enacted into laws by the legislature during its extra session.

Senator Penrose returned this morning from his Virginia hunting trip. He spent a large part of the day at Republican headquarters, talking freely on the subject of suggested legislation. Mr. Penrose does not expect to be in Harrisburg during the special session. His duties at Washington will occupy his time. He expects to remain here until November 28 when he will leave for Washington. Speaker Henry F. Walton and the senator today discussed the vacancies to be filled.

"In my opinion," declared the senator, "every reform measure recommended by the governor in his call for the special session will be enacted by the legislature. The Republican state organization will lend its aid to this end and will most likely introduce bills covering all the subjects enumerated by Gov. Pennypacker in his call. The people of the state have demanded these reforms in a way there is no mistaking and, in my judgment the time has come when they should get them. There may be some difference of opinion as to the wisdom of these measures, but these can all be adjusted and embodied in the bills that will finally be passed by the legislature.

Can Muster Safe Majority.

"An attempt has been made in certain quarters to create dissension over the proposed reapportionment bills. In the past the chief obstacle to the passage of such measures has always been the protest from the country districts to the centralization of legislative power in the cities and industrial centers and the corresponding loss of prestige and power. The demand for reapportionment, however, is the result of the natural growth of population, and notwithstanding the objection of those counties that will lose members, the mandate of the constitution is plain and can no longer be ignored.

"With representative reapportionment the rearrangement is comparatively easy. It will increase the total membership of the house from 204 to 207. It is absurd to say that such a bill cannot be passed, because the figures show that the total membership of the house at present the counties which will gain members control 81 votes, the counties which will lose control 54, and the counties which are unaffected have 69. A large majority of the unaffected counties are likely to vote for the bill. With this condition I don't see how a fair bill can be defeated.

Interest Question Troublesome.

"With senatorial reapportionment it is different. I don't believe that a more equitable apportionment and distribution of power can be made than at present. This is by reason of the constitutional limitations which prohibit the splitting of counties. It is almost impossible to maintain a ratio as provided and keep the number of senators to 50 as required. However, a new bill will be put through with as few changes as can be made.

"Regarding the increase of the interest on state funds in banks, I rather think the provisions of the bill will have to be worked out. It is a question for the important financial and business interests of the state to discuss with the legislators. It is plain that only the weaker financial institutions would be willing to pay high rates of interests for funds, for anyone who has dealings with the more conservative and sounder banks knows they would refuse to enter into a competition to secure deposits which they can well do without.

"It is the sound banks in which people of the state wish to see the state's money held.

"On personal registration and the repeal of the ripper bills I believe they can be put through almost unanimously. The people, whether right or wrong, want them and should get them.

Talked Over Months Ago.

"The other subjects of the governor's proclamation will hardly meet serious objection from any quarter and I believe the bills enacted will reflect the views of the men who have advocated such measures."

In regard to ballot reform and uniform primary elections, the senator said:

"Those subjects have been gone over thoroughly. I will say that Gov. Pennypacker, Senator Knox and myself discussed the advisability of calling the special session as long ago as last summer. We had several conferences, the last at Browns Mills, when I was the guest of the governor at his summer home. I have been thoroughly in accord with him on all these subjects. Both he and Senator Knox agreed it would be better to postpone the call until after the November election, and I think the general approbation given the governor's action shows the wisdom of the decision."

Senator Penrose said he thought the work could be accomplished in six weeks or two months at the longest, but that to do that the members will have to buckle down to work as soon as they meet at Harrisburg. He was asked if he had given any thought to realigning the forces in the state and in reply said that he was too busy to discuss that matter and that it was too early anyhow.

POLICE SUPERINTENDENT MUST DELIVER THE VOTES

"Buck" Wallace's Successor Is to Be Chosen for His Political Backing—Detective William Elmore Is Mentioned.

Pittsburgh's next superintendent of police will not be appointed until he will be able to pledge the support of the downtown wards to the Citizens ticket in the February municipal elections. He must be a man who will look good to the whole Bigelow faction. He must have a record as a police officer, but the cardinal points which will make him available will lie in his ability to make votes and hold them. This is the conclusion reached by Mayor Hayes and his triumvirate of advisors.

Detective Cecil G. Rice, who was at first regarded as a good man as successor to Wallace, has been eliminated from the list of probable appointees. Detective Rice was not mentioned after the mayor's council, and yesterday Director Moore of the department of public safety, speaking for the mayor and his advisory board, said this:

"Mr. Rice is not being considered. The next superintendent will be a man of experience in the police business. Mr. Rice, I fear, has not had sufficient experience. At the same time things are getting along very nicely in the hands of Acting Superintendent E. J. Kennelly."

The above practically amounts to an ultimatum. It means that a political hustler is being looked for, and the appointment will certainly not be made at random. Yesterday Detective William Elmore was mentioned favorably for the office. He has had much experience and has a brilliant record as an officer. Moreover, he would be a power in the political end.

Numerous "dark horses" are being groomed. Among these is Councilman William McKelvy of the Eighth ward. While he never cut much of a figure as a detective, he is thoroughly all right with the advisory board in other respects. In addition, he has the backing of Roger O'Mara.

STEVENSON BOOM MAY BE LAUNCHED

Orphans Party of Fourteenth Ward to Pick a Candidate for Mayor.

GREATER PITTSBURGH PLANS

What will probably be the mayoralty "coming out" party of William H. Stevenson will be held in the Bellefield school, Fourteenth ward, Tuesday evening. The typewritten notice was received at The Gazette office last night:

A suggestion meeting of the independent voters of the Fourteenth ward will be held in Bellefield school Tuesday evening, November 21, to consider the name of a candidate for mayor, who will redeem the pledges made to the people in 1902. The meeting will be under the auspices of the Orphans party, which extends the invitation to every citizen who favors good government. Prominent reformers from different wards of the city will be present.

J. Denny O'Neil will probably develop his mayoralty boom in McKeesport tonight. He will be host at a supper and smoker this evening tendered in recognition of the assistance given him by his friends in the recent election. It is generally believed O'Neil intends to become a candidate for mayor of his city and the boom will be launched at this function.

Plan of Senator Goehring.

The Allegheny county legislative delegation will caucus this afternoon at Republican headquarters. Senators Goehring and Woods, who were elected as Citizens, will meet with the other legislaters and expect to act with the delegation during the extra session. At this meeting the advisability of petitioning Gov. Pennypacker to issue a supplemental call to permit the legislature to consider a primary election bill will be considered. Greater Pittsburgh and the other legislative subjects will be discussed.

Senator Goehring will suggest that the annexation bill provide for the creation of a greater city in three years from next April. This plan will permit the mayors elected in Pittsburgh and Allegheny in February to serve out their terms. The senator says this is a fair proposition and would take all politics out of the question.

There was some talk yesterday about having the annexation bill provide for consolidation in April, 1907. In February of that year the voters living within the confines of the proposed city would vote for mayor. There would be a provision making the mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny eligible for election as executives of the big town.

Mayor Hays yesterday declared against the governor appointing the first ruler of Greater Pittsburgh. He is also opposed to consolidation without a vote of the people.

McKeesport Opposed.

A meeting of prominent citizens and officials of McKeesport was held last evening in common council chamber to protest against the passage of legislation concerning the annexation of McKeesport to Pittsburgh. Capt. A. B. Campbell presided.

Assemblyman James F. Woodward, representing the Eighth district, was the first speaker, and he stated he had seen Representative Cook and others, but could get no information as to the proposed construction of the Greater Pittsburgh bill. He said he was unalterably opposed to annexation to Pittsburgh and desired the support of the citizens of McKeesport. Other speakers were: W. E. Thompson, J. Denny O'Neil, Attorney E. P. Douglass, ex-Mayor R. J. Black, John Eakin, Archie Duncan and J. W. Stewart. J. D. O'Neil introduced a resolution which was unanimously adopted as follows:

Whereas, The governor of Pennsylvania has called a special meeting of the legislature to consider a Greater Pittsburgh bill that will endanger our city, and as the people of McKeesport are unalterably opposed to any legislation annexing their city to Pittsburgh, we call upon our senator and member of the house to do all in their power to defeat such legislation.

Resolved, That the chairman of this meeting be instructed to name a finance committee of five members and a general committee of 10 members to act in connection with the committee from councils and other bodies to defeat all bills that provide for annexation without giving a township, borough or city a separate vote.

John W. Stewart was selected as treasurer of the movement.

Tax Board Organized.

The members of the county tax board yesterday took the oath of office before Judge Collier. Later the board organized by the election of E. Z. Smith as president and T. L. Rodgers as secretary. Until January 1 the new officials will have their headquarters in the deed registry department, on the third floor of the court house.

President Smith says the board has not made any plans for the reorganization of the tax assessment system of the county. The old assessors are at work and will not finish their assessment until January. They will not be disturbed. After the first of the year the board will be ready to divide the county into districts, as the law provides, and the reorganization will take place. Both President Smith and William Hill say that in the future the subordinate assessors will be appointed because of their ability and politics will play no part in the selection. For the present there will be no changes in the clerks in the transcribing room of the commissioners' office and the deed registry department. These offices are now under control of the board.

The returning board finished the calling of the vote in the various districts of the county yesterday. The complete figures may be ready late today. The $200,000 filtration bond issue of McKeesport was carried by a majority of 35. The vote stood 1,459 for and 664 against.

James McMahan, Joseph Kant, Frank W. McKernan, Charles W. Wells, John Pistohgowski and P. C. Murray filed an affidavit for the use of the name Citizens party in Glassport at the February election.

C. D. Tilbury, H. H. Loubath, Louis Kable, W. G. Lindsay and W. S. Wakefield filed an affidavit for the use of the name Orphans party in the Nineteenth ward in the February election.

IN FIGHT OVER SWAG, ALLEGHENY MAN IS SHOT

Trio Quarrel in Resort and One Has Four Teeth Knocked Out by a Bullet.

The Allegheny police are looking for two men, said to be ex-convicts, who participated in a shooting scrape Tuesday night in a house in Post alley, Fourth ward. John Kemp had four of his teeth knocked out by a ball from a 22-caliber revolver. He was taken to the Allegheny General hospital, where his injury was dressed. After giving him this aid the other two men left the city. Kemp is said to be stopping with some relative in Spring Garden borough.

Acting Superintendent of Police John Glenn is very secretive about the affair. He charncterizes it as "simply a drunken quarrel," but he has several detectives looking for the men who did the shooting.

According to what is told among the habitues of the lower wards, where the men are known, they went to the Post alley house, where they got into a dispute over the division of some loot. Kemp is said to have struck one of the others and was immediately shot for his rashness. Glenn denies there has been any big robbery in Allegheny recently, and it is said the booty that caused the quarrel came from Pittsburgh or one of the suburbs. Glenn says he will arrest the other men if he can catch them, for they are known as tough characters.

LOSES A LEG AND A HAND BY FALL OF STEEL BEAM

An Italian whose name is not known is at the Allegheny General hospital with his right hand and left leg amputated. He was injured yesterday afternoon at the Ambridge plant of the American Bridge Company's works by a "heavy steel beam falling on him. His hand and leg were so badly crushed that they had to be amputated at the works. He was brought to the hospital last night and is in a critical condition.

U. P. CHURCH TRUSTEES WILL MEET COMMISSIONERS

The county commissioners yesterday received a reply to their letter to the trustees of the Third United Presbyterian church, offering $275,000 for the church property, sent after a consultation with the judges. The trustees merely say they have received the commissioners' letters and will meet them some time regarding the matter.

Cocaine and a Good Time.

Police raided the house of Cora Pierce at 13 Townsend street last night and arrested two women and six men. They found, it is alleged, several boxes of cocaine which the occupants were using, and a general "good time" was in progress.

Evans Wants His Wages.

Louis H. Ford, a negro, was committed to jail last night by Alderman Groetzinger on a charge of embezzlement. James Evans alleges Ford went to the place where Evans was employed, and representing that Evans had sent him, drew $16 due the latter.

12 and 16-Button Black Kid Gloves.

ELBOW sleeves have created a great demand for long black kid gloves, not only in this town, but throughout the country. There are none in any of the large cities. New York has been out of them for weeks, so has Chicago. Our stock was exhausted several weeks back.

We used the cable freely to our people over in France, and yesterday, by fast steamer, inbound to the Pittsburg Custom House, we received a fine collection of black glace and suede gloves in 12 and 16-button lengths for three-quarter and half-length sleeves.

These gloves are of a very superior grade, and each pair is made of one-piece skin—no joining together of different skins as is the case in many makes of long gloves.

Men's { $18.00, $20.00, $22.50 Raincoats / $16.50, $18.00, $20.00 Fancy Suits } $12.50 Each

Consider again, if you please, the character of clothing handled by us.

You know as well as we do that it is a common household saying: "Oh, if you want anything good, go to Horne's."

A letter from Odessa, the first detailed account of the massacres, lays special stress on the heroism of the Jews, who "fought like soldiers on a battlefield" in defense of their lives and homes. "The Jewish youth fought like Maccabeans of old and there is no doubt that but for the assistance of the police and Cossacks, the assailants of the Jews would have been wiped out in the first two hours." This is not surprising. The Jew has never been charged with cowardice. He has been overcome only by overwhelming force of numbers.

Yesterday's report of the Carnegie Technical schools committee shows there were 2,389 applicants for the night classes of the institution, of whom but 338 could be admitted, owing to lack of room. The Gazette has received inquiries as to when additional facilities will be provided for night instruction. The opening of the School of Apprentices and Journeymen in January will enable the admission of more night students. It is becoming more apparent every day that the Carnegie Technical schools will fill a great and growing need in this industrial community, while extending their influence throughout the country.

The football season in this country reaches its climax today with the long-anticipated meeting of Yale and Princeton. Spectators will be present from every state in the union. The keen interest manifested in this contest throughout the country is significant of the American spirit of wholesome sport. No horse race, with its gambling accessories, could excite one-tenth the interest manifested in today's contest between strong young men who represent the flower of American youth and who engage in the primic battle for glory and pleasure and not for gain. Whichever wins, it will be a game to stir the blood and make the oldest spectator young again.

The partisan effort to place President Roosevelt in the attitude of not only snubbing but insulting the delegation of Massachusetts shoe and leather men, headed by Gov. Douglas of that state, was one of the meanest misrepresentations of actual occurrences that has transpired outside of the heat of a political campaign. Nothing of the kind happened; on the contrary, the Massachusetts delegation was delighted with the considerate treatment received at the White House. This is proved by the concluding sentence of Gov. Douglas' final address to the President: "I want to assure you on behalf of all here of our feelings of personal gratitude to you in listening so kindly and patiently and giving us this good plain talk."

As the result of the popular expression of opinion, Prince Charles of Denmark will today be elected king of Norway by the parliament, and preparations are making for his enthusiastic reception one week from today at Christiania. While many adverse criticisms have been passed upon the people of Norway for desiring a monarchy when a republic was within their grasp, it may be questioned whether the more liberal form of government would be best adapted to their needs at present. The rule will be a beneficent one, for the people are not enslaved by a militarism like that of Russia. If they find the monarchy distasteful, they can exercise the privilege of changing their minds with as much ease as any people in Europe.

A pertinent cry comes from the Colorado Springs Gazette against the Christmas tree habit. As it remarks: "This is the season when the man who a little later on has Christmas trees for sale sharpens his ax and gets ready to go out into the mountains on his annual tour of destruction. By the time his job is finished he has usually cut down hundreds of young pine and spruce trees, to replace which will require several years of growth." The Monongahela and Ohio valleys have suffered year after year from the denuding of the forest crowned hills by unexpected floods. Nothing has been done to replace the trees turned into merchant lumber. The sentimental view of the Christmas tree should give way to the practical and helpful one with regard to the water supply. To cut down old trees is bad enough, but to nip the young evergreens is a serious evil beyond reparation.

A Good Beginning.

The Gazette's fund for the relief of the Russian Jews, who have been reduced to the most pitiable poverty and suffering through Cossack barbarities, received a substantial addition yesterday, as will be seen by the report elsewhere in this issue. This is only the beginning. The Pittsburgh region, never more prosperous, should loosen its purse-strings, as Thanksgiving time approaches, and testify its appreciation of its blessings with generous contributions for the aid of afflicted fellow creatures across the sea. Yesterday Jacob H. Schiff, treasurer of the national fund to which are forwarded all contributions received by The Gazette, made public the following cablegram from Lord Rothschild in London:

Russian catastrophe, according to details from Russia today, far greater than expected. Outrages, murder and wholesale robbery and incendiarism in 84 towns, so relief fund has huge task to grapple with.

It is apparent from this message that every dollar that can be collected will be needed. In thousands of cases the head of the family has been cut down by the rioters and the children are starving. Homes have been burned, businesses destroyed, whole regions laid bare by fire and sword. America must not only respond to the cry for help, but respond quickly. Those truly give twice, in this emergency, who give at once, and the whole Pittsburgh district should respond promptly and generously to this most deserving of causes.

A Guess at the Message.

Certain Washington correspondents, experimenting with clairvoyance, have told an eager nation what subjects will be considered by the President in his annual message to congress and the language he will employ in their elucidation. To date, the mention of the "race suicide" question, which is known to lie very near the presidential heart, has not been predicted, but should Mr. Roosevelt conclude to restate his well known views along this line, it would doubtless be because of recent assurances of support received from unexpected quarters. Mayor Beall of Alton, Ill., is the latest conspicuous worker in the great cause of swelling the census statistics. In the language of our President, he is "a man after my own heart." Mr. Beall, who is the owner of numerous dwellings and apartment houses in the city of Alton, a few years ago was struck with the paucity of births in the community. Inquiry showed that the condition was due to the supposed obduracy of landlords, who did not wish to rent to persons with large families. Many owners of apartment houses would not rent to couples possessing even one infant, though guaranteed to be of the rare noiseless variety. Mayor Beall decided to effect a transformation. He not only refused to rent his dwellings and apartments to those who were not possessed of large families, but offered to donate a baby carriage wherever it would be acceptable. A rebate of three months' rent was allowed for each birth in one of his dwellings. "And," said Mayor Beall to President Roosevelt, as the two statesmen were having a confidential chat in the White House the other day, "the result is that, whereas there were only 404 births in Alton last year, there have been 748 for the 10 months of this year." As Mr. Beall was descending the White House steps after his conference, the President called after him: "I'm de-lighted to have met you, and will certainly give your suggestion carcful consideration." Now, the question is, what was that suggestion? Are rate legislation, tariff revision and all the other live topics to be ignored by the President in his forthcoming message in favor of a subject of still greater importance to the nation? We shall know soc Correspondents are agreed that the message is to be the most interesting on record. The nation will await its publication with breathless interest.

The Lesson of Hyde.

Living in expectancy of something to come that will make one independent for life is a poor sort of look into the future. Rarely are the visions realized. And when they are, the victim of inherited wealth has no training or capacity to take proper care of the windfall. A life of ease and comfort unacquired by personal effort was what James Hazen Hyde was looking forward to, and his father was wrong in encouraging that idea in his son. The fictitious value placed on the meretricious services of young Mr. Hyde by the arbitrary action of the company with which he was associated is a revelation not calculated to encourage individual effort and ambition, when the attainment of place, as shown in this case, is due to influence without regard to ability.

However, the disclosures made in the investigations and probing of life insurance companies are bearing their fruit. The most tangible result of that remarkable inquiry will be that, however long the "soft snap" may obtain, the long lane of ease finally has a sudden turning. There is where the plodding, industrious and salary-earning man can compose himself to the pleasant reflection that he is giving something for what he gets.

Young Mr. Hyde was educated in a wrong school. The sons of wealthy men today are being raised in a different one, and it is a double credit—the good sense of the fathers and the honest ambitions of the sons. That is, the young men of late have taken to the idea of work and preparation for a future career without regard to the expectant legacy from rich fathers. It is the best hope of the country. One of the Vanderbilts mastered the mechanical end of the railroad business through apprenticeship and recently the son of a St. Louis millionaire went into a packing house at $10 a week to learn the business from the ground up. These young men will succeed because they will have gained both a practical and technical knowledge of affairs. Young Mr. Hyde's case is different. He may have a competence gained through questionable methods, but no training to fit him for a struggle for life should riches, which they are liable to do, take wings. Here is where the well-equipped young man steps in and rests on his oars while the once envied one flounders around in the currents of uncertainty, unable either to land or navigate an open sea of opportunity.

The Business Situation.

The only new development of the week in financial circles was the advance to 25 per cent in the rate for call loans paid by New York stock exchange borrowers, and the subsequent decline to 6 per cent. At the same time there were violent fluctuations in rates for sterling exchange. The fluctuations in both call loans and sterling were to some extent the results of manipulation, although the movements in the money market for some time past have puzzled banking experts. However, there are several features of the situation which are quite plain. One is the uneasiness which prevails in foreign financial circles, due to conditions in Russia. The effect is seen in the tenacity with which some of the great foreign banks guard their supplies of gold. If financial panic should follow political anarchy in Russia, then the foreign bankers would have need for all their resources in protecting the market. Another thing that is plain is the strain upon the banking credits of the United States. There is nothing alarming in this, because the cause of the strain is well understood. The volume of legitimate business is so great that the demand for credits is unprecedented, and because of the soundness of the situation there is no special need of restraint in extending the desired credits.

Experience teaches every banker and every business man, however, that when conditions reach a stage like the present the dangers of a runaway market for both commodities and investments are increased. It was the runaway market for iron and steel during the latter part of 1902 and the first quarter of 1903 that brought about the subsequent sharp reaction. It is human nature to buy confidently upon a rising market and to wait in a falling market. No one recognizes this fact better than the managers of the United States Steel Corporation, and there is evidence that they are trying to avert a repetition of the experience of two years ago. It seems to us that the time has come for bankers also to exercise their power to enforce conservatism, especially upon stock market operators. Instead of surrendering to the temptation of relatively high rate for money quoted in Wall street, bankers should husband their resources for the needs of home customers. After the turn of the year, when we will know more about the situation abroad, and when we will be better able to gauge the requirements of legitimate trade, will be time enough for a resumption of speculation in the stock market.

Our foreign trade statement for October furnishes additional proof of the prosperity prevailing in this country. During the month we purchased nearly $15,000,000 more of foreign merchandise than in the same month last year, while our sales of merchandise to foreign consumers fell off about $8,500,000. The falling off in exports was due to the smaller movement of cotton, while the increase in imports was due to our ability to indulge more freely in foreign luxuries. The effect is a reduction in the balance of trade in favor of the United States, and this has a direct bearing upon our money market. Instead of importing gold at a season when it is most needful, sterling exchange has advanced to a point where foreigners may draw upon our supplies. For weeks past financial markets abroad have been flying cautionary signals, but our own markets have almost entirely ignored them.

A rural molder of public opinion remarks that if Ambassador Reid continues to be invited out so much, he will have little time left in which to "ambass." If murdering the language were a capital crime, that editor's widow would now be collecting the life insurance.

Chancellor McCracken says: "The future of Christianity depends upon the plain pastor." This is hard on the young preachers who are assiduously cultivating those handsome theological seminary whiskers.

The Iowa convict who paid all the expenses of his trial and conviction gets a wholesome example to some of the fellows who are being investigated down in New York. And they could afford it better, too.

The Boston men who caught a fish which emitted electric sparks and severely shocked its captors, will help to disprove the charge of G. Bernard Shaw that Americans are deficient in imagination.

The fellow who can have his salary cut in two and still receive half again as much as the President of the United States needs no tears of sympathy.

Norway probably despaired of being able to get as good a president as ours, and so decided to be a monarchy. Less is expected from a king.

Unless Mr. Johnson's anti-suicide commission proves effective, Cleveland is going to make a poor showing in the next census.

Those who say it is in poor taste to erect statues of the living offer another objection to that Detroit monument of satan.

Prince Charles of Denmark has chosen the name of King Haakon. It will not be so easy to convert into a nickname.

Who says the Japanese are not a revengeful people? They are sending the Russian prisoners home.

A few more deer than human beings have been shot in Pennsylvania so far this season.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

Do you feel that the world is going to the bad generally?

If so you should get up on high places and look it over from the right side.

One of the places of vantage from which to view the world, or that portion of it which most intimately concerns us, is at a county teachers' institute held in a country town.

As is very well known we live off the country. And yet city folk are disposed to poke fun at farmer folk, even when gathering around a table and feasting upon the good things planted and harvested by these same folks they are poking fun at.

This has become so common that uppish city folks regard farmers as a coarse lot, and not worthy of much notice.

The uppish set, fortunately, does not count for much when it comes to doing things worth while.

This does not apply to folks who are up or have the ability to get up—only to the uppish.

* * *

Not only is the city dependent on the country for its creature comforts, but for much, if not most, of its best brain and brawn.

Would it not be wise and proper for city folks to cultivate the acquaintance of the country, and the people who inhabit it? Were they to do so they would not be so inclined to poke fun at farmers and country people, and might be surprised to find so much talent, culture and refinement among them.

Country fairs are good places to go to see products of the soil, but in order to meet those who do things, who are responsible for the prosperity of the country, and who hold the balance of moral force, you should attend farmers' institutes and teachers' county institutes.

It is at them you come in contact with those who train and develop the brain and brawn that makes the city prosperous and the nation great and powerful.

* * *

It was institute week and there were about 300 teachers present, not to mention directors and others interested in school work.

You would have to be awfully uppish—up in the air, clear off the earth—to look down on such a crowd as that, for it was composed of men and women who stand on a level with good, practical, useful people, no matter where they hail from.

These folks wouldn't have asked you how much money you had, but what you do for a living and how you are making out, for they are of the comfortable sort and take pleasure in doing things that are worth while.

There wasn't a loafer, nor a dude, nor a stuck-up woman in the lot, and that is a good deal to say of so large a crowd.

* * *

The style of entertainment demanded by people may always be safely taken as a fair index of their tastes and styles.

Judging by this standard Mercer county people are well to the front in the grand procession wherein intelligence, culture and true worth are fairly represented.

Among the instructors and entertainers were Dr. A. E. Winship, Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, Dr. C. C. Miller, L. E. McGinnis; F. W. Hayes and a large contingent of professors and good singers. To this array of talent must be added Senor Ramon Reyes Lala and the Ion Jackson recital company.

What think you of that bunch of talent? And it wasn't a bit too big nor too heavy for the occasion.

But you would not have wondered at that had you been able to look into the faces of those composing the audiences. Indeed, they do say that these county Institute audiences are even more exacting and critical than city audiences.

* * *

From a social point of view the occasion was one long to be remembered, for of social talent there was plenty and to spare.

Say, you count in Dr. Winship of Boston, one of the most popular and jovial educators in the land; Dr. Miller, president of Lima college, an all-round good fellow; Supt. McGinnis, of Steelton; A. Bryan Wall, our cheery story-telling artist; Capt. Charles W. Wuistler, the Dickens of Western Pennsylvania, and you have a bunch that is hard to match and harder to beat.

Then count in a whole lot of good fellows, male and female, who would naturally be attracted by such a forceful magnet and you have a social feature well worth butting into at any cost.

And it wasn't for a day or an evening only, but for a week straightaway.

So don't think for a moment that your country cousins, as you patronizingly call them, haven't any good times, nor that their social entertainment consists in kissing plays, pussy wants a corner, singing gospel hymns accompanied by a cottage organ.

* * *

The chasm separating city and country is being rapidly and effectually spanned by the irrepressible trolley. And as the people become more intimately acquainted one section with the other city folks will be surprised to find their neighbors so far advanced in social culture; but hardly more so than the country people at finding them so far behind, considering their claims and common report.

The sooner the chasm is effectually bridged the better for both city and country and the world at large. Heretofore they have been looking at each other across this chasm from which arose a sort of mist, as it were, that kept them from seeing each other just as they are—brethren of a kindred blood, with a common purpose, and hearts that beat as one.

When next you hear of a county institute take a day or two and see it for yourself.

THE NEGATIVE POSE.

If you cannot, by chance,
Give a long song and dance
On Plato or Wagner or Shelley,
Or if you can't think
In glib Masterlinck,
Or fluently talk Botticelli;
If each time you bark
A Rubens remark
At a long hair-and-high-forehead dinner
You've sat on by those
Of the positive pose,
Try the negative one—it's a winner.

It's worked in these ways:
Gaze on all native plays
And show no approving emotion;
Inspect with sad eyes
And deep, pensive sighs
All art from this side of the ocean;
Observe with wan smiles
American styles
In building and sculpture and letters;
And when you speak, why,
Distinctly imply
That the Zulus in taste are our betters.

Don't say much; 'tis best
To vaguely suggest—
Just sigh and avoid explanations;
Look misunderstood
And all to the good
In the matter of mind decoration;
Then the people will say,
Who rule your blase
Condition and thoughtfulness artistic:
"That's young Mr. Blank—
His mind is a tank
Of taste and of feeling artistic."

ARCHBISHOP READS SERVICE FOR SAILOR

Touching Sympathy Shown by Passengers for Humble Italian Killed on Board Ship.

By FRANK A. PARKER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—With an archbishop to read his funeral service and an Italian grand opera company to sing requiems at his bier, Vincenzo Giordano, a sailor of the Konigin Luise, who was killed Wednesday morning by falling from the crows-nest, was buried at sea yesterday morning when the big ship was only a day's voyage from New York. Giordano had been stationed as lookout with another seaman, Curton Witte, and both were being relieved at 4 o'clock in the morning when the accident happened. The Italian, who was following the German sailor down the ladder, slipped and fell, striking Witte on the shoulder and knocking him off his feet. Both men plunged 40 feet, one on top of the other. Giordano, who was undermost, had his skull fractured, but Witte escaped with only a bad shaking up.

At 10 o'clock yesterday the Konigin Luise was stopped and although it was raining hard, scores of passengers stood bareheaded while Archbishop Riordan of San Francisco, assisted by Father Conolly of San Francisco, read the burial service, and five members of the Milan grand opera company, who are on their way to Mexico, sang a requiem. After the body had been slid over the ship's side, the archbishop and the Rev. Angelo Andriano, an Italian priest, took up a collection for Giordano's wife and four children who live in Genoa. Nearly 2,000 lire were contributed by the cabin passengers and about 300 more by those in the steerage.

Beauty of Municipal Ownership.

The municipal ferryboat system, in addition to erratic and unsatisfactory service, is likely to prove a very costly experiment. The operating expenses have been trebled while the traffic, owing to the uncertain service, has certainly not increased. On the basis of having larger boats the dock department has increased the working force threefold. The old company ran the boats on a shift of 12 hours each, but the new regime has established three shifts of eight hours each. This has necessitated a large increase in the working force and a largely augmented salary list.

Certainly a Cool Burglar.

Policeman Travis of the Coney Island station was trying the doors and windows of Clayton's hotel before daylight when he saw what he believed to be a burglar in the barroom. He aroused the proprietor from his bed and they started an investigation. Mr. Clayton was beginning to think the policeman had raised a false alarm, when he happened to open the door of the icebox. Crouched in a corner of the box was a white-faced young man. They dragged him out unceremoniously and hustled him to the station house.

Caught by Glamour of the West.

That the glamour of the west has not lost its grip upon the city youngster was proved when 45 boys were sent to Texas at their own request by the emigration department of the Children's Aid Society, to be assigned to farms and ranches. It is the custom of the society, in conjunction with its farm school in West Chester county, to send many of its charges to good homes all over the country. When it is possible the boys are sent to a place away from this city or for that matter, from any city.

One More Deserted Baby.

As Louis Stitzer of Williamsburg was going through the hall of the apartment house leading to his rooms today he stumbled over a bundle and heard a cry of pain. Stitzer carried the bundle to his wife, who unwrapped it and found a little blue-eyed girl about two months old, richly clad in warm woolen undergarments, a fine white dress and a white silk hood with tassels. Stitzer wanted to keep the little stranger, but Mrs. Stitzer said "No," and the baby was taken to the Clymer street police station.

Preparing to Shovel Snow.

Complications again have risen in the bids for the snow removal in Brooklyn for the winter of 1905-06. Twice before Commissioner Woodbury of the department of street cleaning has opened bids and found himself unable to award the contract. The bids show the two lowest of the six bidders tied at 16 cents a cubic yard. When the first advertisement was made eight bids were received Commissioner Woodbury, without announcing the figures, threw them all out as bearing evidence of collusion.

THE COOKING BOX AND ITS ECONOMY

The Value of the Ingenuity to the Poor Is One of Its Greatest Recommendations.

The state department, through its consular bureau, issues a pamphlet of interest to the housewives of the country, and it pertains to a "self-cooker." The information is gained from the Frankfurter Zeitung, which describes a cooking box exhibition at Baden, Germany. The report says that: "In connection with the twenty-fifth annual meeting of the German Union for Assisting the Poor, the Women's Union of Baden provided for an exhibition of cooking boxes. In recent years much attention has been given by manufacturers to this new and useful article of kitchen furniture. Instead of being made entirely of wood, cork and hard paper are now also being used. Moreover, felt and feathers are taking the place of "wood wool" for upholstering the boxes, and the covers of the enameled pots are made more airtight than formerly. Numerous manufacturers have produced more or less remarkable "self-cookers," and inventors are still at work.

"On the occasion mentioned above a Karlsruhe lady exhibited an unusually large box, equaling a range in its completeness and containing pots of every imaginable size and variety. Furthermore, the Baden Women's union (Frauen-Verein) has published a cookbook explaining fully the use of the box and giving a large number of tempting recipes. Of course the food is thoroughly heated by means of fire before the pots are transferred to the cooking box, where they continue to simmer for hours. The process is particularly good for those kinds of food which require slow development, such as soups, boiled meats, legumes, vegetables of the cabbage family, rice and some sorts of puddings.

"The value of the cooking box to the poor is self-evident, and a skillful workman can very easily adapt for the purpose any good box, lining it with "wood wool," or any good nonconductor of heat, and carefully fitting in ordinary pots. In Norway the cooking box is already very extensively used, but in Germany it has been found much more difficult to interest working women in this new friend. For many years the Grand Duchess of Baden has been doing her utmost to induce people of all classes to experiment with a very simple sort of cooking box, and on her journeys she usually takes one with her for the purpose of practically demonstrating its usefulness by distributing warm food. In spite, however, of this propaganda, which is being made throughout the country by philanthropists, the result cannot yet be said to be very encouraging, for whatever is new and simple is sure to be opposed by prejudice. Most women, especially those who are uneducated, do not comprehend the natural law of bad heat conductors, regarding it as unnatural and incredible that the same feathers and thick woolen materials which imprison the heat in our bodies in winter and thus keep us warm are likewise capable of preventing the escape of heat stored up in food by previous exposure to fire. No one is more conservative than a cook. Accordingly, in order to obviate prejudice by familiarizing the rising generation with the advantages to be gained in this way, many German women's clubs are now providing cooking boxes for use in their housekeeping schools."

How Football Could Be Improved.

An interesting letter is contributed to the current Harper's Weekly by a correspondent who, having read Walter Camp's much-discussed football articles in the Weekly, writes to say that, from a spectator's point of view, the English game is infinitely ahead of ours. He thinks the following points in the English form of play could be adopted with advantage to the game as played in this country:

First (he says)—Do away with all interference, which in the English game is off-side play.

Second—Introduce more of the spreading out of half-backs and full-backs, and pass the ball.

Third—"Dribble" the ball down the field.

"It would really," says the correspondent, "be more than worth while for the different colleges to send a committee to England to witness the game, study it closely and adopt many of its features which have stood the test of time."

What's Needed in Russia.

The Export Verein of Prague calls attention of Austrian exporters to the increased demand for many classes of goods in Russia and the opportunity offered to secure a firm footing in the trade of that country. Prompt action on the part of exporters is urged, as competition is sure to soon arise. Among the articles in which a demand is said to exist are good leather, especially kid and chrome leather, fine footwear, brass and bronze wares, trimmings and haberdashery, neckwear, silks, foulards, hardware, ironware, cheap jewelry, purses, cutlery, cuff-buttons mounted on brass, fans, fine laces (Valenciennes a la Calais), ribbons, watch chains, metal buckles for girdles or belts, metal bags, canes (mostly of natural wood), stationery, penholders, pens, fine paper, knitted wool gloves, socks, stockings, majolica ware and various other articles.

Living Without Drinking Water.

"I believe men could live without drinking," said John Lover, the zoo keeper. "There are three kinds of gazelles that never drink a drop. Sloths never drink. Neither do the llamas of Patagonia. Rabbits and parrots can do without drinking for months and years. I have heard that drinking water is what hardens the arteries and produces old age. I have heard that the thing to do is to eat juicy fruits, like oranges, and lemons and limes, quenching the thirst that way, and at the same time destroying in the system the lime that brings senility on.

"I used to think it was impossible for a man to live without water. If animals can do it, though, why can't we?"—Philadelphia Bulletin.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

Joseph C. Armstrong, coroner of Allegheny county, went to Philadelphia last night to consult his physician of the Jefferson Medical hospital. During his absence in Philadelphia, and also during his possible absence on a health sojourn in California, Florida or elsewhere during the cold weather, the coroner's duties will be performed by Deputy Coroner Harry W. Lowe. The good weather of the past couple of days has permitted Mr. Armstrong to appear at his office without serious affection of the bronchial trouble from which he has been suffering for some time.

"I have not yet decided to go to California or anywhere," said Mr. Armstrong last night. "My going away is not assured. It may be that I can remain in Pittsburgh. I am going down to consult my physician at the Philadelphia hospital, and my course for the next few months will depend entirely upon his advice. If he says I ought to go to a better climate I shall do so. During my absence Mr. Lowe will be in charge of the coroner's office."

Enjoy Fort Pitt Hospitality.

The members of the Hotel Proprietors and Restaurant Keepers' association of Pittsburgh enjoyed the hospitality of the Fort Pitt hotel last night in connection with their monthly meeting. The business session was presided over by President E. E. Bonneville of the Hotel Henry. This was the first meeting of the association at the Fort Pitt, which is the youngest member of the organization.

O. S. U. Alumni Hold Banquet.

The Pittsburgh alumni of the Ohio State University held its annual banquet last night at the Hotel Duquesne. Covers were laid for about 35 members of the Pittsburgh association. The graduates of the university include a number of civil, electrical and mechanical engineers of this vicinity. C. F. Scott was toastmaster, and the speakers included J. S. Myers, Albert Kingsburry, A. Hartwell and J. K. Lewis.

Gray and Graybum Take a Jaunt.

Samuel Gray and George Grayburn, the two Union station men who have been appointed to take charge of the information bureau at the station, took several jaunts about the city yesterday to add to their store of knowledge for informing the people. They spent the early part of the day in the East End district, studying the routes of the cars and the streets reached by each route. In the afternoon they sought information regarding points to be reached and other data about stations on the Panhandle, being carried out on the road in a special train. It is likely the information bureau will be opened on Monday morning.

Revision of an Old Song.

The Chickasha (I. T.) Express reprints the following from one of its exchanges: "Sing a song of pestilence, a fellow full of rye, four and twenty serpents dancing in his eye; when his eyes were opened, he shouted for his life; wasn't he a pretty chump to go before his wife? His hat was in the parlor, underneath the chair, his trousers in the kitchen, his collar on a shelf, but he hasn't any notion where he is himself; when the morn was breaking, someone heard him call—his head was on the icebox, which was the best of all."

BOOKS and BOOKMEN BY GEORGE SEIBEL

A BOOK by the son of Henry George is the most interesting of this week's publications. It is entitled "The Menace of Privilege: A Study of the Dangers to the Republic from the Existence of a Favored Class," and is published by the Macmillan Company. No less important, because of its timeliness is Carl Joubert's work, "The Truth About the Tsar," which Lippincotts publish.

Three historical works of formidable character make their appearance almost simultaneously. "A History of the Civil War in the United States," by W. Birkbeck Wood and Maj. J. E. Edmonds, is published by G. P. Putnam's Sons; so also is "The Development of the European Nations, 1870-1900," by J. Holland Rose; while the Macmillan Company issues the "Life of Oliver Ellsworth," by W. Garrott Brown.

Among the new fiction worthy of mention is "Outside the Law," by James Barnes, published by D. Appleton & Co.; "The Perfume of Eros," by Edgar Saltus, published by the A. Wessels Company; "Miss Desmond," by Marie Van Vorst, published by the Macmillan Company; and Meredith Nicholson's eagerly awaited new novel, "The House of a Thousand Candles," which the Bobbs-Merrill Company is publishing.

A VERTIGINOUS VOCABULARY.

Visionaries. By James Huneker. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 342 pages. Price, $1.60.

Dozens of people are writing historical novels, problem novels, society novels, war novels, every brand of fiction, but James Huneker has his field all to himself. No other has command of his vertiginous vocabulary; no other can run the diapason of the dictionary like he. Some years ago, in the collection of short stories entitled, "Melomaniacs," he first displayed this tonal sorcery; since then he has exhibited its marvels in musical and literary critiques, until everyone is familiar with it. He is a Rodin and Boecklin of language, a Chopin and Strauss of style; his periods are woven of words bizarre and titanic with mystic undercurrants of strange music. He has been influenced by Baudelaire, whose "Flowers of Evil" have left exhalations in his diction; by Flaubert, the barbarous opulence of whose "Salammbo" has reflected itself in his sonorous sentences, whose chaos is so symmetrical; by Nietzsche, whose rhapsodic ravings in "Thus Spake Zarathustra" frequently find an echo in his pages. To enumerate the musicians that have also left their impress one might as well copy Grove's index; but it may be said bluntly, although Mr. Huneker may think otherwise, that he is most indebted to Meyerbeer and Berlioz, far less to Brahms and Tschaikowsky.

Such a style can be described only by itself. It is all trumpets and sky-rockets, a hippodrome of crashing vocables, a maenad dance of gargoyle phrases, a volcanic eruption meeting a shower of meteors in midair. The eye is dazzled, the ear is deafened—it is as if, in his own words, "from the figurating ovens of the Milky Way there shot forth streams of audible light." Perhaps "The Tune of Time," from which story this phrase is borrowed, exhibits Huneker's peculiarities of style more forcibly than any of the nineteen others, except "The Eighth Deadly Sin." That is a nightmarish phantasmagoric whirlpool of words—there is nothing in English literature like his description of olfactory music, built upon the germ of an idea which Huneker evidently got from Huysmans. Attune your timid ears and listen:

Mozart passed roguishly by in strains of scarlet pimpernel, mignonette, syringa and violets. Then the sky was darkened with Schumann's perverse harmonies as jasmine, lavender and lime were sprayed over him. Music, surely, was the art nearest akin to odor. A superb and subtle chord floated about him; it was composed of vervain, opoponax and frangipane. He could not conceive of a more unearthly triad. It was music from "Parsifal." Through the mists that were gathering he savored a fulminating bouquet of patchouli, musk, bergamot, and he recalled the music of Mascagni. Brahms strode stolidly on in company with new-mown hay, cologne and sweet peas. Liszt was impressed as ylang-ylang, myrrh and marechale; Richard Strauss by wisteria, oil of cloves, cyprre, poppy and crab-apple.

Suddenly there developed a terrific orchestration of chromatic odors; ambrosia, cassia, orange, peach-blossom and musk of Tonkin, magnolia, eglantine, hortensia, lilac, saffron, begonia, peau d'Espagne, acacia, carnation, liban, fleur de Takeoka, cypress, oil of almonds, benzoin, jacinth, rue, shrub of Jamaica, olive, vanilla, cinnamon, petunia, lotus, frankincense, sorrel, neroli from Japan, jonquil, verbena, spikenard, thyme, lyssop and decaying orchids. This quintessential medley was as the sonorous blasts of Berlioz, repugnant and exquisite; it swayed the soul of Baldur as the wind sways the flame. There were odors like winged dreams; odors as the plucked sounds of celestial harps; odors mystic and evil, corrupt and opulent; odors recalling the sweet, dense smell of chloroform; odors evil, angelic and anonymous.

Verily, it seems as if the proverbial bull in the china shop had escaped into the perfumery department! But this excerpt shows Huneker in his most Hunekeresque mood.

All his characters can say to each other as the cat said to Alice: "We must be mad, or else we shouldn't be here." They see things through a diffracting medium of their own—the moon looks to them like an "opalescent button," the sun like "a sulphur-colored cymbal." The sky for them is filled with "turquoise effervescence," with "brilliant violet auroras," with "seven-tailed vermilion comets."

Mr. Huneker himself has characterized his book as "occult and pagan, mystical and Gothic." Poor futile adjectives! There is nothing nearly like it except the fantastic tales of E. T. A. Hoffmann and some of Poe's. It is literary absinthe and opium—and James Huneker has the absolute monopoly of it.

THREE GOOD NOVELS.

Heart's Desire. By Emerson Hough. New York: The Macmillan Company. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 367 pages. Price, $1.50.

Yolanda. By Charles Major. New York: The Macmillan Company. 407 pages. Price, $1.50.

The Deluge. By David Graham Phillips. Indianapolis: The Bobbs-Merrill Company. 482 pages. Price, $1.50.

It is rarely that one can pick up three popular authors in succession and honestly declare that each is at his best. The popular author degenerates more quickly than fresh fish. You may have noticed it in Charles Major. In Irving Bachelier, in Anthony Hope, in a score of others, many of whom have become extinct within five years of their first successful book. The rule holds good despite the fact that Charles Major has just redeemed himself nobly; that Emerson Hough has just written a beautiful western idyl far above and utterly unlike "The Mississippi Bubble," and that David Graham Phillips' new story is the climax of the satirle and melodramatic business novels he has been writing of late.

When Mr. Hough wrote "The Mississippi Bubble," as neat a piece of literary carpentry as ever was done, no one would have suspected his capability of producing so thoroughly artistic a story as "Heart's Desire." By a curious coincidence, the hero, the real hero, bears the same name as the hero of Roger Pocock's latest story, "Curly;" and by another coincidence the book of Mr. Hough challenges comparison at all points with Mr. Pocock's, surpassing it in its rare humor. The description of the Christmas dinner at Heart's Desire, the coming of the Man From Kansas, with the Littlest Girl, the fate of the fourth can of oysters and the unfortunate assasination of the pig which led to the first lawsuit in Heart's Desire, are related with a gusto and dramatic verve that remind one of Bret Harte. Mr. Hough has done his best work in portraying this far western community, with its rough-shod chivalry, its kindly devil-may-care, its wholesome humanity. It is a book that leaves a good taste in the mouth, and at the same time is permeated with exquisite art.

In "Yolanda" Charles Major has given us a romance worthy to stand beside "When Knighthood Was in Flower." He had forfeited some of his popularity with "Dorothy Vernon," and most of it with "A Forest Hearth," but this stirring new tale of the times of Charles the Bold should restore him to favor with the fickle reader of fiction. The heroine is just another vixen like Mary Tudor and Dorothy Vernon, as, indeed, she may be, for her father is that famous duke of Burgundy whom historians have dubbed "the Bold"—Mr. Major makes it "the Rash." She has been intended as bride for young Count Max of the house of Hansburg, and has sent him a ring, but her father has broken the tentative engagement to marry her to the imbecile son of Louis XI. Meanwhile Count Max—who with his tutor and friend Karl reminds one very strongly of Prince Karl Heinz and Professor Juttner in "Old Heidelberg"—has set out to see the world, he princess' ring upon his finger. When, escorting travelers through the Black Forest, they fall in with Yolanda, the maid of Burgundy, the reader knows at once that Yolanda is the Princess Mary, but Count Max, who learns to love her, is kept in the dark to the last. The many romantic episodes and hairbreadth 'scapes are contrived with the naive charm and dash that characterized Mr. Major's first book. It isn't exalted literature, but it is the healthy, heart-warming, blood-stirring Hoosier brand.

Mr. Phillips, with "The Deluge," reaches the highest mark of his latest manner, exemplified in "The Cost" and "The Plum Tree." He could not reach any higher without toppling headlong into utter bathos and sheer melodrama. In fact, he skirts dangerously close to both these perils in his new story of Wall street. The hero, Matt Blacklock, is obviously drawn from Tom Lawson. The hypocritical Henry J. Roebuck is evidently modeled upon Rockefeller. So one might go on identifying one Wall street personality after another. Of course, only the outlines of each have been used; the filling in of the character as well as the plot of the story are Mr. Phillips' own devising. The book inevitably reminds one of Frank Norr's "Pit" and of Harold Frederic's "Marketplace," with its schemes and machinations leading up to "Wild Week," and there are glimpses of New York's shoddy aristocracy quite broad enough for the pages of Life. Mr. Phillips has disdained the subtle tones and nuances of art—he is content to leave these to Mr. Herrick and Mrs. Wharton—the loudly obvious, the luridly effective he has here striven after. His hero is brutal, rather than forceful, and the style of the book sometimes reminds one of blasts from a tin horn. The way Matt forces his marriage through is perhaps the most impossible of all the episodes, but it with all the rest is made convincing by the sheer vigor of Mr. Phillips' method. The whole story gives one the impression that it was written with a stub pen—it is a tour de force, but a successful one.

THE PROPHET OF ISLAM.

Mohammed. By D. S. Margoliouth. New York: G. P. Putnam's Sons. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 481 pages, with illustrations and Maps. Price, $1.35.

Among the 40 volumes that have now appeared in the Heroes of the Nations series, none surpasses Mr. Margoliouth's monograph on Mohammed. Whether considered as an ethnological study, a psychological portrait, or a piece of historical writing, it is a masterpiece. Without the graces of style or the enthusiastic irreverence of the "Life of Jesus," it reminds one at many points of Renan's work. Mr. Margoliouth has written a historical romance with the Prophet of Mecca for its hero. It is a romance because of its intrinsic interest, though authorities are cited even for the most trivial detail—thus we are told on the authority of Musnad how "the Prophet bargained for a pair of breeches," that he snored when receiving his divine revelations, that he disliked garlic and unkempt hair, that he used to tar his own camel and take part in horse races, and a hundred other petty matters which make the man stand out before us, living and human, not the vague, unreal dreamer and fanatic Irving painted. Mr. Margoliouth's style is unpretentious, but never commonplace; it never carries one away, but it is always adequate. His knowledge of original sources is profound, as behooves a professor of Arabic at Oxford university, but he does not lug learned paraphernalia into his narrative. Whoever reads his work will gain a very clear idea of how shrewdness on the one hand, superstition on the other, could launch a world religion in that age—as Joe Smith did in the enlightened nineteenth century. Certainly Mr. Margoliouth has done a most remarkable work in portraying the rise of Islam as a natural phenomenon, and the personality of its founder as a human figure.

CLEVER SHORT STORIES.

Heinweh. By John Luther Long. New York: The Macmillan Company. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 345 pages. Price, $1.50.

A Thief in the Night. By E. W. Hornung. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 372 pages. Price, $1.50.

The Wood Fire in No. 3. By F. Hopkinson Smith. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 298 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50.

Sa-Zada Tales. By W. A. Fraser. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 231 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50.

The Deep Sea's Toll. By James B. Connolly. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 315 pages. Price, $1.50.

Five well-known short story writers are represented by these five volumes. John Luther Long's vein of pathos, which sometimes rises almost to the sublime of tragedy, and again flowers into delicious humor that is almost farce, is displayed in his stories of "the heavenly longing" for home. Mr. Hornung's volume details some further episodes in the career of A. J. Raffles, cricketer and cracksman, as pleasant a rogue as drew breath since Robert Macaire. Hopkinson Smith has chosen the inspiration of crackling logs for a group of stories that breathe kindly cheer and a holiday spirit, and have been fittingly enshrined in beauty by the book-maker. Mr. Fraser's volume is made up of animal stories, stories which the animals tell about themselves, and has not fallen into the formal rut of such tales—there is a Kiplingy flavor about the book. Mr. Connolly's stories of Gloucester fishermen, their homely virtues and hard lives, are invigorating as a tonic in the brine. Every one of these five volumes, in fact, is good, and fairly represents its author in his best mood.

THE ROAD TO SUCCESS.

Choosing a Career. By Orison Swett Marden. Indianapolis: The Bobbs-Merrill Company. 481 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50.

Mr. Marden, who is the editor of Success, and may be called the American Samuel Smiles, writes in a stimulating and helpful way of the problems that lie before parents and grown children at the threshold of adult life. What trade, what calling, shall the coming man or woman choose; what special aptitudes are required, what special advantages offered. Mr. Marden's book is comprehensive and practical—it will counsel any one who is getting out in life, and will also help those who have already started and may not be progressing as fast as they wish. The precepts are enforced by illustrious examples, making the volume most interesting reading.

NEW STEVENSON COMPLETE.

The Amateur Emigrant and the Silverado Squatters. By Robert Louis Stevenson. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 263 pages. Price, $1.60.

The Ebb-Tide. By Robert Louis Stevenson and Lloyd Osbourne. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 271 pages. Price, $1.00.

Weir of Hermiston. By Robert Louis Stevenson. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 297 pages. Price, $1.00.

Across the Plains. By Robert Louis Stevenson. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 295 pages. Price, $1.00.

The Merry Men and Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons. 422 pages. Price, $1.00.

The last volumes of the new Stevenson, the Biographical edition, have now appeared. This completes the series of 25 volumes, and makes as desirable a set as could be imagined. The handy size, good paper, clear print, and the introductions by Mrs. Stevenson are among the attractive points of the edition, to say nothing of the low price. We have said it before, but it will bear repetition—all lovers of Stevenson, which includes all lovers of good literature, should welcome this desirable edition of Tusitala's works

$1.08 FOR 50 CENTS.

The Czar's Spy. By William Le Queux. New York: The Smart Set Publishing Company. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 314 pages. Price, 50 cents.

To have a novel of the usual $1.50 (or rather $1.08) variety, bound in cloth, offered at 50 cents is itself an event of note. True, many of the $1.08 masterpieces are speedily reduced to the bargain counter and sold for even less than 50 cents, but to have a publisher tacitly admit that the price is exorbitant in the first place, is a distinct gain. It seems incongruous that any of the classics—Dickens, Eliot, Thackeray, Scott—can be bought at one-half the price asked for modern trash. Mr. Le Queux's romance shows no signs of inferiority to the great mass of such tales. Nihilist conspiracy and the Russian secret service furnish the materials for a plot of the intensely absorbing kind. All the usual ingredients of mystery and beauty are there—plots and persecutions, secret missions and thrilling escapes—and no reader will suspect that he isn't getting $1.08 worth.

A SAGE OF PRACTICAL POLITICS

Plunkitt of Tammany Hall. By W. L. Riordan. New York: McClure, Phillips & Co. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 188 pages.

George Washington Plunkitt is a Machiavelli of Tammany Hall, and these speeches of his are quite as frank as could be asked. He has made $2,000,000 in "Honest Graft," and he talks unblushingly, indeed with conscious pride, of the ways in which it is done. Civil service reform and college education are the two greatest evils he knows, and he inveighs against them continuously in picturesque invective. He is a Boss Croker turned Mr. Dooley, and some of his mots are exceedingly clever, like this one:

There ain't no more honest people in the world just now than the convicts in Sing Sing. Not one of them steals anything. Why? Because they can't.

FOOLISH, BUT NOT FUNNY.

The Woozlebeasts. By J. P. Benson. New York: Moffat, Yard & Co., 135 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.25.

Perhaps it is paradoxical to criticise nonsense verse for lacking sense, but Mr. Benson's rhymes and pictures are simply foolish without being funny. The Berlite, the Kyle, the Jumbiernu, the Si mus, the Bozalia and the rest are a rather melancholy aggregation. There is no danger that any one will go into convulsions of laughter over stanzas like this:

The lonesome, unusual Kree
Is homely as homely can be;
Perhaps that is why
He's so painfully shy
As he roams through his bogs by the sea.

THE QUEEN OF THE NORTH.

The Story of Edinburgh. By Oliphant Smeaton. New York: The Macmillan Company. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 427 pages, illustrated. Price, $2.00.

The latest volume in the Medieval Town series is based on the large and richly illustrated octavo which Mr. Smeaton published last year, but it has been almost entirely rewritten, and contains a considerable amount of matter which was not in the larger work. It tells the story of the "Queen of the North," the city Sir Walter Scott called "mine own romantic town," from its foundation by Edwin of Deria in 629 to the present day. The arrangement of the material is topographical rather than chronological, and this gives the volume a Baedeker-like look at the outset, but one need not go far to discover that it is a work of solid learning and research and real historical and literary value. There are 40 illustrations by Herbert Railton and J. Ayton Symington.

AN AUTO ROMANCE.

My Friend the Chauffeur. By C. N. and A. M. Williamson. New York: McClure, Phillips & Co. Pittsburgh: J. R. Weldin & Co. 324 pages, illustrated. Price, $1.50.

The literature of the automobile is growing space, for this makes the third motor-car novel by the authors of "The Lightning Conductor." It savors strongly of the two previous stories, for there is the same gentleman turned chauffeur, who this time conducts some wealthy Americans to European places of interest. The comedy in the book is also of the stereotyped order, the dialogue is of the kind professionally known as "breezy," and the scenes, of course, are laid in the Riviera. But the titled hero weds the wealthy American girl, and so what's the use of complaining. People who must read automobile stories might find worse ones than this.

LITERARY NOTES.

One of the most interesting books of the year, to be published immediately by Doubleday, Page & Co. under the title of "Flashlights in the Jungle," which has been translated from the German, "Mit Blitzlicht und Buechse," of C. G. Schillings by Frederic Whyte, and which will be illustrated by 200 of the most remarkable live animal photographs perhaps ever taken, has caused a little war between two prominent American publishing houses. Doubleday, Page & Co. say that the exclusive American rights were purchased by them for a very high price. In the face of this, they say, a "pirated" edition, under the title "With Flashlight and Camera," has been brought out by Harper & Bros. Doubleday, Page & Co. declare that their edition will be complete, and will contain all the illustrations of the German volume, which created an impression equaled only by Nansen's "Farthest North" and Bismarck's Memoirs.

Sir H. H. Johnston has written an introduction to the volume, and President Roosevelt has written the author to express his admiration of the achievement.

Schillings is a well-known traveler, hunter and scientist. In 1904 he went through equatorial East Africa with a caravan of 170 carriers and an elaborate photographic outfit suitable for telephotography and flashlight work; and the results of these expeditions show incredibly clear and intimate details of the wild life of lions, elephants, rhinoceroses, hippopotami, giraffes, hyenas, zebras and almost every other important beast and bird of the region. By long-distance photography and by means of flashlights at night, when the animal world was abroad, he has succeeded in depicting these wild animals in a manner never before attempted, showing them in their natural environment, and bringing their hidden life into view.

It has been claimed that Abraham Lincoln was descended from men who were connected with the law, but this is disproved by Frederick Trevor Hill in the opening article of his work on "Lincoln the Lawyer," which is to begin in an early number of The Century. He shows that the original Lincoln of Hingham, Mass., was a weaver; his son, a blacksmith, had a son who was a miller and blacksmith; he had a son who was a farmer who produced another farmer, and from still another farmer came a carpenter, who was Lincoln's father. It is said that Mr. Hill has been able to unearth a great deal of interesting new material in regard to Lincoln's practice at the bar, which, as President, McKinley said, was Lincoln's best training for the presidency.

The true name of F. Dickherry, author of "The Storm of London," in which the doings of the populace of London, after being deprived of all clothing are depicted, is Mme. E. Blase de Bury. She is at present in France engaged on another novel. The English publisher of "The Storm of London" has sold over 100,000 copies of the book.

Admirers of the short stories of Octave Thanet, whose first full-sized novel, "The Man of the Hour," recently appeared from the Bobbs-Merrill press, will be interested in knowing how the author, Miss Alice French, chose her pen-name. Octave was the name of one of her schoolmates, and was selected because it gives no hint as to whether the person behind the pen is a man or a woman. Thanet (pronounced Than-ette, accent on the second syllable), was adopted from a passing railroad car that Miss French chanced to see.

MAGAZINE NOTES.

The writing of plays has occupied most of Richard Harding Davis' time in the past three years, but in the Christmas Scribner's he returns to the short story with a tale entitled "The Spy." Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett has written a story for this number entitled "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," which pictures the slums of London and what one despairing man found there to save his life. Henry van Dyke will contribute one of his best poems, and one of his most elaborate in fancy and versification, under the title, "The Swarming of the White Bees."

The Technical World Magazine of Chicago has an article in its December issue by G. P. Blackiston, the Pittsburgh steel and iron expert, on "The Story of the Iron Industry." It is an exhaustive and richly illustrated presentation of the subject.

The Delineator for December is an unusually good number. There are stories by John Luther Long, Hamlin Garland and Gilbert Parker; an article on Shakespeare's Juliet, by Eleanor Robson; eight full pages in color by J. C. Leyendecker, illustrating the 23d Psalm; besides other tales, articles, poems, and the usual departments and fashion features.

A rare portrait of Lincoln will accompany Frederick Trevor Hill's "Lincoln the Lawyer," in the December number of The Century. The picture was discovered recently in Lee, Massachusetts. This picture represents Lincoln as he looked before entering the White House. There will be one of Myra Kelly's stories of East Side child life in the Christmas Century, "Star of Bethlehem," the tale of a little Jew's last Christmas. Maurice Francis Egan has written another "Sexton Maginnis" story for this number.

Atalee's for December is a Christmas number, and its leading feature is a story by Edith Wharton, entitled "The Introducers." Next to this comes Lloyd Osbourne's story, "Mr. Reb." O. Henry is another teller of fascinating tales who is a contributor to this number. Mrs. C. N. Williamson has a charming Christmas story, "The Man in the Moon."

The Christmas number of Harper's Magazine presents a formidable list of contributors: Maurice Maeterlinck, Grover Cleveland, Mark Twain, William Dean Howells, Poob Darlington, Jack London, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Harriet Prescott Spofford, Edmund Gosse, Mary E. Wilkins Freeman, Henry Mills Alden, Ernest Rhys, Henry W. Nevinson, Prof. Thomas R. Lounsbury, Mary R. S. Andrews, Josephine Preston Peabody and many others. The reproductions of Howard Pyle's four paintings, illustrating his own article on "The Fate of a Treasure Town," are remarkable color work.

The most dastardly act ever charged against "The System" is described in Everybody's for December.

Lawson says they manipulated the reports from the President's bedside to keep prices up in Wall Street until they got rid of certain stocks and bonds, then sold "short," expecting the market would drop upon news of his death.

A pretty tough story.

MOORE FAVORS SOME RED LIGHTS

Pittsburgh Director of Public Safety Would Keep Open the More Orderly Resorts.

MANY WOMEN LEAVING TOWN

Director Harry Moore of the Pittsburgh department of public safety has declared the social evil to be a necessity. He does not favor the wholesale closing of the resorts in the First ward. If his advice were followed the red lights would blink in many of the houses which are now tightly closed. Powerful influences are being brought to bear on both Alderman S. J. Toole and the municipal authorities insisting on the prompt opening of the district.

"I think the better class of houses should be opened, but they should be regulated," said Director Moore, yesterday. "Those infamous resorts in the lower districts, where thugs and gamblers make a living from these unfortunate women, must be kept closed. Immediate action will be taken by the police in any event where an effort is made to open their doors.

"Against the better class of establishments we have little complaint to make, but dens of vice, where criminals of the lowest type are harbored, will not be permitted. The men must leave the city and the women also will be banished."

"Then it is not true that the tenderloin district in the First ward is to be permanently closed?" the director was asked.

"Not so far as the jurisdiction or the purposes of my administration extends. The police are making no crusade against the better class of establishments. Of course Constable Joyce or anyone else can take legal measures to close the houses, but we have nothing to do with their manner of procedure. It is not the intent of the department of public safety to close any place in the Second ward where the people are quiet, but if we find men harbored there they will be shown no mercy."

The director's statement is particularly interesting because it is the first time that he has declared unqualifiedly the social evil to be a necessity. The expression he used in emphasizing the "better class of establishments" is indicated to mean the houses between Wood and Market streets. In this district the proprietresses are bringing all the influence they possess to obtain permission to reopen.

However, many of the inmates of these resorts are leaving town before they become financially embarrassed.

The Death Roll.

John J. Bothwell.

John J. Bothwell, a prominent resident of Allegheny, died yesterday at the Presbyterian hospital of pneumonia after an illness of three weeks. He was born in the Second ward of Allegheny in 1851 and had lived there all his life, being graduated from the public schools and Park institute. His business career started with the firm of J. P. Witherow Co., by whom he was employed as a mechanical engineer 16 years, superintending many of the large contracts of the firm. Later he was associated with Julian Kennedy and with the Riter-Conley Company in construction work. With A. M. Wilkie he organized the firm of Wilkie & Bothwell 10 years ago. The firm secured some large contracts, among them the erection of the Schoen car plant in Neville Island. Two years ago the partnership was dissolved and since that time Mr. Bothwell had been with William Miller & Sons, working on the Carnegie Technical schools. He was married 18 years ago to Miss Ida Young of Allegheny. From 1880 to 1884 he represented the Second ward in common council and for many years was chairman of the Republican ward committee. He was a member of the First United Presbyterian church of Allegheny. Surviving him are his widow and one son, Dale Bothwell. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon from the family residence, Clifton avenue.

The institute will continue throughout the week and the pupils will have several holidays.

HE WILL NEVER SUBMIT TO REDUCTION IN WAGES

President Mitchell Makes a Forcible Address to Miners at McDonald. Given an Ovation.

M'DONALD, PA., No. 17.—"As long as I remain in my official capacity I will never submit to a reduction of the present wage scale," declared President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America in his speech at McDonald yesterday.

All the mines were closed at noon in honor of Mitchell, and 3,000 miners flocked into McDonald. The streets had been decorated with bunting and flags, and they were filled afternoon and evening with enthusiastic men. A banquet was held in Mr. Mitchell's honor at the Commercial hotel in the evening, but he was unable to attend, being called back to the city on business.

In his speech Mr. Mitchell urged the miners to keep in constant communication with their local unions, to encourage gatherings such as that of yesterday and to make a study of labor and economic questions. After declaring himself in regard to lower wages, he said the operators as well as the miners suffered from cut wages, as they received smaller profits under a low wage scale, and in closing he urged the miners to take an interest in elections and vote for the candidate who would represent them best.

Mr. Mitchell was accompanied by William Dodds, secretary of the Fifth district, and clerk of courts-elect; Patrick Dolan, president of the Fifth district, and William D. Ryan, secretary and treasurer of the Illinois district, each of whom made a short address. Edward McDonald of McDonald, presided at the meeting, and 25 prominent miners, business and professional men acted as vice presidents. The speakers were escorted from the station to the hall by a brass band, and several thousand miners from Burgettstown, Canonsburg, Toms Run, Oakdale, Primrose, Midway, Santiago and Imperial.

PITTSBURGH FIRM GETS IT

FINEST SUITS AND OVERCOATS NOW SELLING AT $15

The biggest undertaking ever entered upon by a retail clothing concern in this part of the country has just been successfully completed by the Liberty Clothing Company of this city.

Ames Bros. & Co., of New York, placed on the market their entire surplus stock of suits and overcoats left over after their sales to the leading retailers of the United States. And the Liberty Clothing Co., of this city, secured the prize. In other words, this concern has purchased what is everywhere regarded as the most desirable stock ever offered by a manufacturer at a big price concession.

The sale of these goods, which will start today, is especially interesting to all men who want clothes of the HIGHEST STANDARD. And the item which is most interesting comprises overcoats, raincoats and suits of the best materials at Fifteen Dollars.

Ames Bros. clothing is celebrated all over this country because of the fact that it is without question the finest clothing produced.

Of course, this assertion may seem a little extravagant to some persons unfamiliar with the relative merits of ready-made clothing, but nevertheless, the firm's reputation and the garments comprised in this purchase will verify what we say in every detail. There isn't a custom tailor in Pittsburgh that can make a coat at any price that will embody the elegance of style which characterizes every garment bearing the Ames label. For example, two men of entirely different physique may try on the same Ames coat and find that it fits each perfectly. This may seem incredible to some, but it is true.

It is peculiarly fortunate for customers that this purchase comprises all sizes known in the trade as slims, stouts and extra sizes, the latter running up as high as 50-inch breast measure.

Fifteen Dollars is the lowest price ever named for such overcoats. The manufacturer's price is always considerably higher under ordinary circumstances. These are all hand-tailored and of the best imported fabrics, and come in the nobby 45 and 52-inch lengths. Also many paddock overcoats are in the lot. The raincoats are all the genuine Priestley cravenettes, in fancy effects, as well as plain black, and there are no better garments in the world for the money.

Men's suits at $15 are not by any means such as ordinarily are sold at this price. These are real business and dress suits, such as bankers and other business and professional men wear. They comprise fancy Scotch cheviots, plain black thibets, fancy gray worsteds, black unfinished worsteds, silk-mixed worsteds, fancy Scotch mixtures, gray diagonal worsteds, etc. And the styles! Well, it has never been the fortune of this company to show so many distinctly good styles at one time. These comprise suits with the medium length and long coats with those broad lapels, concave shoulders and middle or side vents. In short, all these little niceties which add so much snap to a suit are conspicuous in all of the productions of Ames Bros. & Co.

We cannot be too emphatic regarding the high character of these suits, overcoats and raincoats for $15. Their equal cannot be found in any other store for less than from $25 to $30, and we ask you, in your own interest, to verify this assertion. Look around town, see what others have, make careful comparisons, and satisfy yourself that this is the one big sale which interests men who want really high-class clothing at money-saving prices.

Of course, we have lower-priced clothing here of other makes, ranging from $7.50 to $10. These goods are strictly all-wool and excellently tailored, and are guaranteed to be the best values to be had anywhere at the prices named. All sizes and styles for all builds, so there will be no difficulty about fitting you, whether you are very slender or as big as John L. Sullivan. Should any slight alteration be necessary, they will be made by our expert tailors free of all charge to you.

Don't delay a minute if you are anxious to secure some of the tremendous values which this clothing sale affords. We know whereof we speak when we say that there never has been another sale of equal interest to the men of Pittsburgh and vicinity. If you live out of town, order by mail. Goods will be shipped anywhere by Express C. O. D. on receipt of $5 as evidence of good faith on the part of the customer.

LARKIN MAKING FEEBLE PROTEST

Once Declared Four-Year Light Contract Iniquitous and Sandbagging People.

HE MAKES NO THREATS NOW

Controller Larkin is not opposing a four-year electric light contract as vigorously as he did one year and two years ago. The controller now says of Director Bigelow and the mayor, "They can go ahead and make a contract without me," while last year, and the year before, when the same proposition was made by Director Bigelow, the controller declared he would not sign a four-year contract. He denounced the proposition as "iniquitous" and "sandbagging the people."

The controller now says that he will not oppose a four-year contract if there is a substantial reduction in the price, although he has not produced any evidence that there will be a reduction. One year ago, when the four-year proposition was up, and Director Bigelow asserted that under the new charter the light contract could be let for as long a period as 10 years, the controller, on November 28, 1904, declared himself as follows:

"No contract can be let for more than one year. The section of the new charter which provides that a light or water company contract can be made for a period not exceeding 10 years refers to 'territory not supplied with light,' as it states. No matter what councils or Director Bigelow may do, if the contract is for more than one year and it reaches me, I will not countersign it nor sign any warrant in payment of the contract."

Making No Threats Now.

The controller does not make any such threat now, although Director Bigelow declares his intention of letting the contract for four years. On the contrary, the controller made the following statement on last Wednesday:

"Of course, they can go ahead and make the contract without me."

The controller's independence seems to have weakened some since 1904 and 1903. The same issue of a four-year contract also existed them. When a four-year electric light contract was first proposed by Director Bigelow, in 1903, Controller Larkin denounced the project in unmeasured terms. On December 1, 1903, in speaking of the excessive cost of electric light in Pittsburgh, he said:

"The trouble in this city has been the lack of competition in light as in other matters, and those elected or appointed to serve the people have so arranged affairs as to serve the corporations and sandbag the people. The light project was advertised recently, with the limit of service at one year, but some one changed it to four years, so as to secure to the light monopoly one of the most iniquitous jobs in this city."

Bigelow Repeats Old Promise.

The controller now says he has received positive assurances that the Allegheny County Light Company will reduce the price of electric light to the city if it is given a contract for four years. President J. D. Callery of the Allegheny County Light Company, the only concern that can bid for the contract this year, does not confirm the controller's statement.

The only hope of lower prices Director Bigelow has held out to the people is in his statement that the Duquesne Light Company may bid and that J. G. Splane of the Duquesne company made the statement on the floor of councils, when asking for a franchise to operate in Pittsburgh, that if his company were given the contract to supply the city it would furnish light at $75 per arc lamp. This is identical with the statement Director Bigelow made on December 24, 1904, when he was trying to put a four-year contract through councils. Despite the assurance of Director Bigelow, the Duquesne Light Company did not bid for the contract in 1904 and is not in any better shape to bid this year than it was then. It still has a franchise, but no plant.

When Director Bigelow first proposed the four-year contract in 1903, only one bid was received for a term of four years at the old price of $96 per arc light. At that time Mr. Callery asserted that if he did not get the contract for four years the price would be raised above $96. In presenting his bid Mr. Callery also made a statement in writing, explaining the position of his company in reference to one-year and four-year contracts which, in part, was as follows:

Threatened to Raise Price.

"The bid of our company is, of course, on the basis of a contract for four years, and the contract could not be taken at that rate for one year. While any proposition to bid on a one-year contract would have to come before our company for consideration, and be decided by it, I am strongly of the opinion that our company would not bid at all on a contract for a single year."

Notwithstanding Mr. Callery's opinion, the Allegheny County Light Company reconsidered the matter when councils reduced the term of contract to one year, and did accept a one-year contract at the old figure. At no time since has there ever been an intimation on the part of the company that it would voluntarily, and without competition, reduce its price below $96, even on a four-year contract.

In 1903 Controller Larkin also said he would not sign a four-year contract unless councils made an appropriation for four years. On December 18, 1903, the controller said:

"I do not think that councils would make an appropriation for four years. It is a question whether they have the right to appropriate money for future councils."

On Thursday the controller said he would produce a company that would compete with the Allegheny County Light Company for the light contract. Yesterday he modified this by saying the company would bid to supply only a part of the city, and added that it did not have a franchise to operate in the city, thus practically rendering any bid from the company worthless.

Candidate for Fifth Vice President.

W. D. Huber last night announced himself as a candidate for the office of fifth vice president, to fill the vacancy caused by the retirement of Thomas I. Kidd. Mr. Huber is president of the Carpenters and Joiners, next to the miners the largest craft affiliated with the organization.

Cornelius P. Shea of Boston, head of the teamsters, arrived last night and attracted considerable attention in the Colonial hotel lobbies as the man who conducted the great strike of the teamsters in Chicago last winter. He called meetings of the teamsters Sunday afternoon and evening in Moorehead hall to organize a district council. While here President Shea will endeavor to start a movement for the organization of all the teamsters in the city. There are four locals in the city at present.

DISCORD EXISTS AMONG PLAYERS

McKeesport Musicians Asks Federation of Labor to Aid Them in Securing Charter.

RETAIL CLERKS WIN POINT

McKeesport occupied considerable time at the afternoon session of the American Federation of Labor convention yesterday. Like many other smaller cities, McKeesport has many bands. Delegate Boyd of the McKeesport Council of Labor by resolution asked that the Federation use its influence to have a local union of musicians established there. After a long fight the resolution was laid on the table.

The musicians of McKeesport are under the jurisdiction of the Pittsburgh local. Delegate Boyd told the convention that many musicians would join a local union, but they had made inquiry and were told that they were under the jurisdiction of the Pittsburgh local. The latter statement was disputed by the officials of the musician's union present, who declared no inquiry was ever received by them regarding conditions in McKeesport.

The retail clerks won a fight against an adverse recommendation of the committee on organization. The clerks desire all of their craft to be members of their organization, whether there is a local in the town or not. The idea is to extend the union into stores where there are only a few clerks employed until they can form a separate organization. The committee recommended that the clerks in isolated cases be members of federal unions of the A. F. of L. This was voted down and the plan of the clerks sanctioned.

Want One Style of Label.

The afternoon session was a busy one. Many committees reported, mostly on resolutions regarding matters affecting the different unions connected with the different trades. Matters pertaining to labels received considerable attention. There are scores of different labels in use, and there were several resolutions relating to the adoption of a universal label. The United Mine workers had one resolution in to adopt a uniform label. After a long discussion the matter was referred to the executive council. Special requests for organizers in different states were referred to the executive council.

During the afternoon the Rev. S. Edward Young, on behalf of the Ministerial union of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, extended an invitation to President Gompers to address the union at its meeting next Monday morning. He also invited the delegates to the meeting of his church in the Alvin theater tomorrow afternoon.

Denver, Lincoln, Neb.; Toronto, Ont., and Niagara Falls are making every endeavor to capture the next convention. Max Morris of the retail clerks is booming Denver. Yesterday he had badges distributed and during the day at regular intervals managed that Secretary Morrison received telegrams from different bodies in the mountain city, asking the convention to meet in Denver. The chances in favor of Denver, next to Toronto, are good. The Commoner, William Jennings Bryan's paper, extended an invitation to meet next year in Denver.

Favor Woman Suffrage.

One of the important actions yesterday was the adoption by the convention of a resolution favoring women's suffrage, as a necessary step toward raising them to a level with men in securing a proper scale of wages. The convention is making every effort to organize the women of all trades and a number of resolutions adopted bear on this subject.

In the report of the proceedings of Thursday is a resolution introduced by Delegate Frank P. Shalvoy of the hatters favoring single tax. It has not been referred to any committee, but is likely to come up any time and raise a warm discussion. One of the greatest tasks President Gompers has every year is to keep the convention from indorsing such resolutions or anything that has a socialistic tendency. Shalvoy's resolution places the Federation squarely in favor of the single tax theory, and it brought up will find many warm supporters.

There are a number of resolutions still to act upon. Committees have been seeing too much of Pittsburgh to get together much, and yesterday afternoon Chairman Gompers was compelled to speak sharply on the subject. A number of committees met last night and it is believed all will be ready to report today.

The telegraphers have arranged for a reception to all of their craft in G. A. R. hall tonight. The speakers will be the Hon. Daniel G. Ramsay, past president of the O. R. T. He was a candidate for judge of the superior court in Chicago at the recent election, but was defeated, although the Democratic ticket won by over 5,000 votes. Grand Secretary Quick of the O. R. T., L. K. Marr and M. J. Reidy will also make addresses.

TRAMPS 200 MILES TO SECURE A LAND PATENT

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

HARRISBURG, Nov. 17.—Because his neighbors are chopping down timber on a rocky tract of 150 acres near Uniontown, Fayette county, which David Enfield claims as his property, Enfield arrived in Harrisburg today after having traveled on foot the entire distance of 200 miles from his home to take steps at the department of internal affairs to make his title clearer.

Enfield is a farmer of 60 years and the land he claims constitutes the whole of his worldly wealth. He secured a warrant for the tract in 1882, but because of the expense of having the surveys made he never took out a patent which he now desires. Deputy Secretary of Internal Affairs Klein explained to Enfield today the necessary procedure to procure a patent after having the land surveyed, after which he left the department in good spirits.

He had enough money to take him to Johnstown, from which city he proposes to cut back through the mountains, finishing the trip home afoot.

"TECH" SCHOOLS HAVE TOTAL OF 458 STUDENTS

Still Hardly More Than One-Fifth of Those Qualified Can Enter—Space Exhausted.

Figures which show the surprising extent of the interest in the night courses at the Carnegie Technical schools, were reported by Director Hamerschlag to the committee on technical schools, at a meeting yesterday afternoon. The action taken later showed that it is impossible to admit hardly more than one-fifth of the number who are qualified apparently to take up the work.

The report showed that there had been 2,589 registered applicants for the night classes in the School of Applied Science. From this number 736 were eliminated on account of being too young, having insufficient preparation or desiring courses not included in the present year's curriculum.

As told in The Gazette, the number applying for examination was so greatly in excess of the capacity of the schools at present that the examinations were cut short. It was decided yesterday to admit from the whole number of 1,656 a total of 328 students, divided as follows:

Regular students to take the five-year night courses in engineering practice, 144; students in the special classes to receive instruction in mathematics, physics and English, 141; students for trial test in the Night School of Architecture, 50. With the 120 day students now at work, this makes a total attendance of 458.

All the available space has been filled by admitting this number of students, and until the School of Apprentices and Journeymen is opened in January, there can be no more additions to the night classes.

Applicants standing next highest in point of merit, who have not been admitted at this time, will be notified when vacancies occur, and be given preference over new applicants in filling vacancies.

LETTERS ARE ONLY FOOLISH.

Alienist Says Mrs. A. V. D. Reid, Placed in Insane Asylum by Relatives, Is Perfectly Sane.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Taking of testimony in the habeas corpus proceedings taken to secure the release of Mrs. Albert V. Deane-Reid from the Bloomingdale asylum, was concluded today. Dr. Spitzka, the alienist who had previously testified, was recalled to tell the result of his observation of Mrs. Reid since the trial began.

He said that his conclusion was that she was no more insane than the average individual, and that her letters, which he had heard read, were simply foolish. On the whole he thought her intellect was considerably above the average.

WOMAN FEARS DEATH.

Mrs. George Steger of Allegheny Says She Is Persecuted.

Mrs. George Steger of 13 River avenue has reported to the Allegheny police that she is in constant dread of bodily injury or death because of several assaults that have been made upon her recently. According to her story, she was knocked down by two men last Friday night in Rampart alley, near her home. On Tuesday night last she says she was struck again while on the street near her residence. Since then, she declares, several persons have tried to break into her house, and one night a man entered her room and began abusing her because she had brought suit against a woman in Lawrenceville.

Mrs. Steger says she knows who is responsible for her persecution, but is unable to produce the necessary evidence to prosecute them.

Fight May Have Fatal Results.

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The habit of C. R. Perry and Jefferson Hollenbaugh, bricklayers, of taunting each other, may result in the death of the latter. Hollenbaugh is alleged to have struck his companion on the head with a shovel yesterday and a fight followed in which Hollenbaugh received injuries which may end fatally. Perry was arrested.

THE ROOT OF THE MATTER.

He Cured Himself of Serious Stomach Trouble, by Getting Down to First Principles.

A man of large affairs in one of our prominent eastern cities by too close attention to business, too little exercise and too many club dinners, finally began to pay nature's tax, levied in the form of chronic stomach trouble; the failure of his digestion brought about a nervous irritability making it impossible to apply himself to his daily business and finally deranging the kidneys and heart.

In his own words he says: "I consulted one physician after another and each one seemed to understand my case, but all the same they each failed to bring about the return of my former digestion, appetite and vigor. For two years I went from pillar to post, from one sanitarium to another, I gave up smoking, I quit coffee and even renounced my daily glass or two of beer, but without any marked improvement.

"Friends had often advised me to try a well-known proprietary medicine, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and I had often perused the newspaper advertisements of the remedy but never took any stock in advertised medicines nor could believe a fifty-cent patent medicine would touch my case.

"To make a long story short I finally bought a couple of packages at the nearest drug store and took two or three tablets after each meal and occasionally a tablet between meals when I felt any feeling of nausea or discomfort.

"I was surprised at the end of the first week to note a marked improvement in my appetite and general health and before the two packages were gone I was certain that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were going to cure completely and they did not disappoint me. I can eat and sleep and enjoy my coffee and cigar and no one would suppose I had ever known the horrors of dyspepsia.

"Out of friendly curiosity I wrote to the proprietors of the remedy asking for information as to what the tablets contained and they replied that the principal ingredients were aseptic pepsin (government test) malt diastase and other natural digestives, which digest food regardless of the condition of the stomach."

The root of the matter is this, the digestive elements contained in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest the food, give the overworked stomach a chance to recuperate and the nerves and whole system receive the nourishment which can only come from food; stimulants and nerve tonics never give real strength, they give a fictitious strength, invariably followed by reaction. Every drop of blood, every nerve and tissue is manufactured from our daily food, and if you can insure its prompt action and complete digestion by the regular use of so good and wholesome a remedy as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, you will have no need of nerve tonics and sanitariums.

Although Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been in the market only a few years yet probably every druggist in the United States, Canada and Great Britain now sells them and considers them the most popular and successful of any preparation for stomach trouble.

ALDERMAN SULLIVAN MUST HAVE BEEN WRONG

Sure There Were No Errors in His District, But Gets a Chance to Reverse His Mind.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—Alderman Timothy P. Sullivan, Tammany leader of the Sixth assembly district, appeared before the board of canvassers today when it came time to examine the tally sheets of his district. He said he felt sure no errors would be found, and that he would fight all protests.

The first sheet examined showed that Hearst had not been credited with 33 votes which were cast for him. In the Third election district the returns showed no vote for Hearst and 33 for Crawford, the Prohibition candidate, but the tally sheet showed that these votes were cast for Hearst, while the Prohibition candidate received none.

The grand jury handed down six more indictments in the election fraud cases which they have been investigating for the past week.

Minor errors, apparently clerical, or resulting from the blunders of the election officers, were found in a large number of additional election districts. In one instance no return was made by the ballot clerk. The examination will be continued on Monday.

It was announced today by counsel for William R. Hearst that an application would be made to the supreme court either on Monday or Tuesday of next week, for an order to have the ballot boxes opened and counted.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—The police authorities today took a man into custody on information from New York that he was John Krup, the escaping illegal voter, who jumped his $5,000 cash bail. The man arrested was released after satisfying the police that he was not Krup. He said his name was William Roderick, and that he was a jockey on his way to Los Angeles, Cal.

THE LAXATIVE OF KNOWN QUALITY

There are two classes of remedies: those of known quality and which are permanently beneficial in effect, acting gently, in harmony with nature, when nature needs assistance; and another class, composed of preparations of unknown, uncertain and inferior character, acting temporarily, but injuriously, as a result of forcing the natural functions unnecessarily. One of the most exceptional of the remedies of known quality and excellence is the ever pleasant Syrup of Figs, manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., which represents the active principles of plants, known to act most beneficially, in a pleasant syrup, in which the wholesome Californian blue figs are used to contribute their rich, yet delicate, fruity flavor. It is the remedy of all remedies to sweeten and refresh and cleanse the system gently and naturally, and to assist one in overcoming constipation and the many ills resulting therefrom. Its active principles and quality are known to physicians generally, and the remedy has therefore met with their approval, as well as with the favor of many millions of well informed persons who know of their own personal knowledge and from actual experience that it is a most excellent laxative remedy. We do not claim that it will cure all manner of ills, but recommend it for what it really represents, a laxative remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers; those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., and in order to buy the genuine article and to get its beneficial effects, one has only to note, when purchasing, the full name of the Company—California Fig Syrup Co.—plainly printed on the front of every package. Price, 50c. per bottle. One size only.

CONDUCTOR PAUR IS PIANO SOLOIST

Appreciation of the Audience Is Shown by Enthusiastic Applause and Encores.

GOOD PROGRAM IS RENDERED

The encore rule was severely strained, but not broken, when Emil Paur appeared as soloist at the Pittsburgh orchestra concert last evening. When he seated himself at the piano for the first number the audience reminded him of the appreciation in which he is held on account of previous pianistic performances, and after each of his numbers he was compelled to acknowledge most enthusiastic applause. He had selected, in place of a concerto with orchestra, Busoni's arrangement of the Liszt "Spanish Rhapsody," a work hardly so serious as either of the Liszt concertos, but grateful to the soloist, and affording an excellent opportunity for technical display.

In the second half of the program Mr. Paur played three Chopin numbers, mazurkas in B flat minor and B flat major, and the E minor fantasie. These were delightfully done, and the performance of the entire piano program emphasized Mr. Paur's right to be classed among the first pianists of the day. His technical achievements are always a surprise to those who know of Mr. Paur's many and varied musical activities, for he plays as those who do nothing but practice the piano.

Should Be Heard More Often.

The musical worth of his playing is, of course, taken for granted, in view of his wide musical knowledge, his warm temperament and his authoritative interpretation of compositions of every school. It is a pity Mr. Paur is not heard in one or more solo piano recitals in Pittsburgh.

The program opened with Beethoven's "King Stephen" overture, a work which had not previously been played at these concerts. It is written for orchestra much as Beethoven was wont to write for voices, rather disdainful of limitations, and accordingly there are some precarious figures for certain instruments. Most of these were passed in safety, and the French horns are especially to be congratulated for their work in this number and throughout the evening. The new first horn player, Mr. Franzl, is proving a reliable artist and a valuable recruit to the orchestra. Schubert's "Unfinished" symphony was given an excellent performance. Mr. Paur did not allow its gentle resignation to become pessimistic, did not weaken the effect of the more tender moments by allowing them to be sentimental, and was not afraid to allow strength and virility when such were required. Pittsburgh audiences should be more familiar with this symphony than with any other, and the attention paid to it last evening showed that its beauty and its adequate performance were both appreciated.

Gains Favor Upon Repetition.

Mr. Paur is evidently fond of the Smetana "Vltava," which he played last year on the same program in which he was soloist. It has the characteristic fluency of Smetana, and if occasionally the orchestration is a little thick and the treatment verges on the commonplace, it is still a most enjoyable poem. It is another example of a work gaining in appreciation with the audience on repeated performance, for it was certainly appreciated more highly last evening than last year. A glowing reading of the prelude and finale from "Tristan and Isolde" brought the concert to a close. Mr. Paur knows how to get the best effects from these familiar excerpts, and his efforts were ably seconded by the men.

In general the playing of the orchestra throughout the evening showed the improvement due to continuous rehearsal and better acquaintance with the conductor and with each other. An occasional slip may be expected from any orchestra, but there are times when one could wish for better intonation, especially in the Beethoven overture, and many times during the evening on the part of the first violins.

Brass Is Somewhat Strong.

The vigor of the brass is sometimes in excess of the power of the strings, but probably this is due to the comparatively small number of string players and to the acoustics of the hall. In prompt response to the baton, and in refinement of shading, there is marked and continual improvement. Mr. Von Kunits conducted the accompaniment to the Liszt rhapsody with a firm hand, and was publicly congratulated by Mr. Paur.

The same program will be repeated this afternoon, and tickets may be obtained at the downtown ticket office until noon, or at the hall before the concert. Next week there will be no concerts, on account of the orchestra's first tour of the season. The next pair of concerts will be given Friday evening, December 1, and Saturday afternoon, December 2, with Mrs. Maria Sandal-Bramsen, soprano, as soloist.

Democrats Celebrate Victory.

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Citizens of Van Buren celebrated the recent Democratic victory with a banquet last night. The hit of the evening was made by J. B. Bolton, a leading Republican, who responded to the toast, "How it Feels to be Defeated."

RIVER BUSINESS IS DULL.

Arriving Packets Were Considerably Lighter Than Usual.

Not much activity was shown along the wharves yesterday, despite the arrival of three packets. The trade of the boats was considerably lighter than it has been for some time and the larger part of it was done at way points. The arriving boats yesterday were the Columbia, Greenland and Lorena. All of the boats got away during the afternoon.

Perhaps the heaviest trip of the day was by the Lorena. She carried a large amount of live stock, about 700 turkeys and 20 thousand geese. Very few eggs were brought in on the trip and they are reported scarce all along the rivers, as the farmers are holding them for higher prices.

The John A. Wood, J. B. Ginley, Sprague and W. W. O'Neil, which took tows of coal to New Orleans, are now returning with empties. They will probably not reach Pittsburgh this winter, but will be met with coal down the Ohio river.

The Virginia of the Pittsburgh & Cincinnati packet line, arrived late last night and will leave this afternoon for Cincinnati.

The regular meeting of Harbor 2 will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

On Tuesday, December 12, bids will be opened at Wheeling for the construction of dam No. 13, in the Ohio river, about six miles below Wheeling. It is thought the dam should be completed within two years, although the work on the lock at that point has been so slow that some say it will take at least three years. When these two important improvements are completed the Ohio river will be slackwatered as far north as Wheeling, and perhaps beyond, which will stimulate commerce in that section of the river to quite a perceptible degree.

"UNCLE JOE" CANNON FOILS PLOTTERS AGAINST BURTON

Effort to Stir Up Bad Blood Between the Speaker of the Last House and the Cleveland Congressman Fails.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Nov. 17.—Somebody has been trying to stir up trouble between "Uncle Joe" Cannon, speaker of the last house, and Representative T. E. Burton of Ohio. Evidence has come to light of a deep plot to make bad blood between these two prominent statesmen, but the plotters have been foiled. Mr. Cannon stated today that such a scheme would be fruitless and in a few emphatic sentences, delivered in his vigorous Illinois vernacular, he told what he thought of any such scheme. He intimated that no matter what anyone said, they would not be able to arouse any ill-feeling between himself and Mr. Burton.

A few days ago a report was put in circulation that Mr. Burton intended to enter the race for the speakership of the next house with the idea of developing enough strength to force Cannon to make him chairman of the committee on appropriations. The report was published and Mr. Burton, who is at Hot Springs, Va., came out with a denial that there was any foundation whatever for the report. The Ohio congressman is indignant that such a report should be started and he is anxious to discover who is responsible for it. Nobody seems to know, but there is a strong suspicion that the parent of the rumor is a western congressman who is himself ambitious to head the appropriations committee. Possibly it was hoped that by stirring up strife between Mr. Cannon and Mr. Burton, the chances of the latter for the chairmanship of the appropriations would be reduced.

While they do not agree on some questions of policy, yet the speaker and Mr. Burton are very close friends and the former has the highest opinion of the ability of the Ohio member. He considers Mr. Burton one of the best equipped members of the house of representatives, and has said so. In fact, he thinks so well of him as chairman of the committee on rivers and harbors that he will not be likely to take him from that place, even to give him the chairmanship of the committee on appropriations. Mr. Burton has done away with the "pork barrel" method of doling out river and harbor appropriations and it is admitted that he is the best posted man in the country on the improvement of the harbors and the internal waterways.

Already Mr. Cannon has begun to figure out the list of committees in the next house. There will be 151 vacancies to fill, 90 by Republican members and 94 by Democrats. Out of this total number there are but few important assignments, such as members make a scramble for. On the ways and means committee there are two Democratic vacancies and on appropriations there are four Republican and two Democratic places to fill. With this Chinese puzzle to work out, Mr. Cannon will have his hands full for the next few weeks.

MINISTERS ARE BEING TRIED FOR CONSPIRACY

Case Brought by the Rev. I. S. Lee of Pittsburgh Against 10 Pastors Is Being Tried.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 17.—On the charge of conspiracy 10 ministers representing as many African Methodist Episcopal churches are on trial in Judge McIlvaine's court. The Rev. Israel S. Lee, the prosecutor, who is a member of the conference to which the defendant ministers belong, charges his brethren with conspiring to have him removed from the church. The Rev. Mr. Lee has been prominently before the public recently as the result of trouble in the Bethel church, Pittsburgh.

In November, 1904, Mr. Lee was tried for insubordination and interference with pastoral relations. He was found guilty and suspended until the meeting of the annual conference. Each side is represented by strong legal counsel.

The defendants are the Revs. D. S. Bentley, W. H. Brown, C. M. Tanner, R. H. Morris, Carter Wright, C. J. Powell, R. H. Bumry, John W. Riley, B. Wheeler and H. C. C. Astwood.

SUES SALVATION ARMY.

Woman Who Assisted at Dinner for the Poor Gets Judgment for $3 60.

OIL CITY, PA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—In Justice of the Peace Gardiner's court at Siverly, Mrs. McCollough of that borough was today given a judgment in the sum of $3 60 against the Salvation Army of this city. It is alleged that two years ago Mrs. McCollough and her daughter assisted with the annual Christmas dinner prepared for the poor of the city by the Salvation Army. The food was donated and the services of those assisting were free.

A short time ago a rummage sale was held, and, it is alleged, the woman made purchases amounting to $3 without tendering payment. The $3 60 claim was again brought up, but later payment was made for the articles bought and the suit entered. Two lawyers of this city volunteered their services to the Army.

Prince Albert was born April 8, 1875, and was married October 2, 1900, to Princess Elizabeth of Bavaria. They have two children. Prince Albert is one of the most popular members of the reigning house of Belgium.

JUSTICE CROUSHORE ON RACK FOR TWO HOURS

Enters Plea of Nolle Contendere and Date Is Set for His Sentence by Court.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 17.—After being on the rack for two hours under cross-examination by District Attorney J. E. B. Cunningham, Justice of the Peace W. B. Croushore of Monessen entered a plea of nolle contendere and a former plea of not guilty to a charge of extortion, preferred John Dawson, was withdrawn. Dawson was arrested March 19, 1904, and placed in the Monessen lockup. Two days later he alleges Croushore released him on the payment of $64.

It developed on cross-examination that a fine of $50 was accepted as a penalty for a crime which, it is claimed, was never committed and for which no information had been made. It is also claimed costs were imposed for swearing false witnesses, for subpoenaes never issued and mileage not traveled. Sentence will be imposed November 23.

D. W. G. Cooper, the deposed chief of police of Monessen, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of illegally retaining $300 from Steve Fertkic, who had given bond for his appearance on a groundless charge of illegal liquor selling. Upon the payment of costs and the return of the $300 he was released.

Soft Coal Operators Looking for Men in the East to Displace Negro Laborers.

WILKES-BARRE, PA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—W. G. Clifford, a representative of a number of soft coal operators of Michigan, West Virginia and Tennessee, came here today to obtain 5,000 miners and laborers from the anthracite region to go to the coal mines of those states.

He will, he says, spend two or three months here picking men. He wants them to displace negro mine workers, and is ordered to get men who will work steadily. He says the soft coal operators have been having trouble with negro mine workers, because many of them will work only half-time.

GREENSBURG, PA., Nov. 17.—The body of Vincent Stokes, a negro, of Grove street, Pittsburgh, buried here two weeks ago, was exhumed today and an analysis of the stomach will be made. Pneumonia was assigned as the cause of death.

ANDREW CARNEGIE'S GIFT HAS EMBARRASSED CHURCH

East McKeesport Pipe Organ Is Rich in Musical Tones, but Congregation Too Poor to Pay Man to Play It.

The fact that the congregation is too small to keep a paid organist and pay a man to pump air into the instrument will probably cause the loss of the large $2,000 pipe organ at the East McKeesport Presbyterian church. The organ was presented to the congregation several years ago by Andrew Carnegie. The late Rev. Mr. Russ, who was pastor of the church at that time, was heartily in favor of receiving the organ, and worked hard to procure it. That there was any opposition to receiving the organ did not develop at that time.

Several weeks ago the fact became evident that the congregation could no longer afford to keep the organ, and it was proposed that it be disposed of and a smaller organ or a piano purchased. The question was referred by the officers of the church to the congregation, which body referred it back to the officers with hardly a dissenting vote. The report of the officers will be made public at the services Sunday morning. No officer would say last evening what the substance of their report will be, but it is thought they favor the selling of the organ.

There seems to be no serious dissension in the church, but there are, of course, a few who oppose the sale of the organ. J. J. Bebout, who was said to have left the church because of the organ controversy, was not at home last evening. One of the officers said Mr. Bebout had left for another cause, but would not say what that cause was.

When seen at his home in East McKeesport last evening, the Rev. R. E. Porter, the pastor of the church, refused to make a statement of any kind. He would not say as to whether or not there is trouble or if he had an opinion either way in regard to the sale of the organ. The elders are the Messrs. Steiner, Weston, Kelly, Allen, Graham and Gregg. The trustees are the Messrs. Edward and Thomas Taylor, Hassler, Williams, Steiner and Leffler.

ANNUAL SCHOOL GAME CREATES MUCH INTEREST

BIG GAMES SCHEDULED TODAY

The all-absorbing football topic of the day is the outcome of the Yale-Princeton championship game this afternoon at New Haven, Yale's home field. This is really the first championship game. Dartmouth, which has a victory over Princeton, plays Harvard today at Harvard, and Columbia will oppose Cornell at Ithaca. The Villa Nova eleven will tackle Penn. at Philadelphia. In the west the most important battle will be that of Wisconsin at Michigan. The battle will serve much towards determining the western championship. By winning today and then beating Chicago Thanksgiving the Wolverines will have won the title.

Locally the interest centers in the battle at Friendship park between Shadyside academy and Pittsburgh High school. This is the Yale-Princeton game of Pittsburgh. The Ohio Meds. will play the Western University of Pennsylvania at Exposition park.

Shadyside Academy and Pittsburgh High school meet this afternoon at football in their annual affair at Friendship park. This announcement alone is enough to pack the park with boys and girls, and they not alone like to turn out but the older persons as well, the graduates and those who follow the fortunes of the prep school boys.

This year the game promises to be an even and hotly contested affair. For the first time in years High school feels confident of winning, and for the first time in four years Shadyside has a team that approximates the weights and ages of the High school. Thus the High school adherents have nothing to fear because of disparity in weight and ages.

The Shadyside coaches are, as usual, confident of victory and the High school boys are counting on scoring at least two touchdowns. Both teams are in fine trim, despite the fact that stories have been emanating to the effect that such and such a player is on the hospital list. They have been accepted as "best stories."

The officials today will be William Church of Princeton and James Brownlee of W. and J. The kick-off will take place at 3 o'clock. Shadyside will present a different line-up today than it had in the Kiski game. The weights of the men on both teams follow:

Local football enthusiasts are hoping for a continuation of yesterday's ideal weather for the battle this afternoon at Exposition park between the somewhat crippled Western university eleven and the O. M. U. team from Columbus. Ever since last Saturday's contest with W. and J. the W. U. P. squad has been victim to an unusual number of annoying accidents and on the eve of today's game with the husky Ohio lads there is a great deal of uneasiness in the training quarters. The local eleven has indulged in very light practice all week, there being but one scrimmage game during that time. The coaches have been busy working the linemen into shape and as will be seen from the lineup, there will be but very few of the regulars in the game. Schmidt and Art Griggs, the regular half backs, have not been out in uniform all week, and will be out of the game altogether this afternoon. "Hank" Boisseau, who showed such fine speed in the F. and M. game three weeks ago, will start at quarter back. He has had charge of the varsity during the past week. The line will be greatly changed. Today's event has been declared a championship contest by the athletic authorities. Participation in three games of this class gives the right to wear varsity letters, and many of the players are anxious to boost their credits this afternoon. Mase, the Greensburg boy who played full back on the Medical, is the star of the team. The lineup today:

EAST LIBERTY QUITS THE FIELD

Trinity Hall Objects to Locals Using a W. & J. Academy Man for Substitution.

GAME LASTS ONE HALF

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 17.—The Trinity hall eleven had little trouble in defeating the East Liberty academy team here, this afternoon, by the score of 20 to 5 in one half. At end of first half East Liberty had its quarterback injured so that he could not continue in the game and because Coach Eckels would not allow them to use a W. and J. academy man instead of their own substitute, they left the field and forfeited their expense money. Their only score was made on a fluke. Trinity fumbled on their own five-yard line and the ball rolled over the line, an East Liberty man falling on the ball. The lineup:

Trinity Hall—20.		East Liberty—6.

State Plays Dickinson Today.

STATE COLLEGE, PA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The varsity squad numbering 28 men, drove in here this evening from the mountains, and leave tomorrow morning for Williamsport. The varsity squad is made up as follows: Captain Yeckley, Dunn, Kunkle, Wray, Gotwals, Putnam, Barr, Campbell, Moorhead, Henry, Miller, McIlvain, McGee, Zink, Partridge, Reese, McWilliams, Moscrip, Leonard, Shaw, Cyphers, Mackey, Leathers, Burns, Montz, Behee, A. Yeckley and Brandt. The eleven that lines up against Dickinson will average about 175 pounds. Quite a number of undergraduates gathered around the track house and cheered to the echo each varsity man.

Cy Seymour Has Brain Trouble.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—Cy Seymour has notified President Herrmann that he is about to have an operation performed to rid him, if possible, of brain trouble, which is causing him constant pains in his head and unfitting him for his duties. The batting champion has a growth in one of the frontal cavities and once before it was operated on, but the growth returned shortly after, and Seymour expects to go under the surgeon's knife within a few days. The operation, though painful, is not serious.

Association Football Today.

In the Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania association football league today the teams will play as follows: Braddock at Monongahela, McDonald at Roscoe, Madison at Morgan, Curry at East Liverpool, Jeanette at Ambridge. The different teams of the league are putting up good games all along the line.

Yale Freshmen at Harvard.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Yale's freshman football eleven left here tonight for Cambridge where tomorrow they will play the Harvard freshman team and "Teddy Roosevelt, Jr." as the players refer to the game. The game will be the final one of the two teams.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 17.—Banners of Yale blue, with here and there a color splash of the orange of Princeton, and throngs of lively, cheering graduates and under-graduates upon the city streets, were the most striking evidence of the fact that this was the eve of the annual football contest between the two universities. All day visitors poured into the city bringing with them that enthusiasm and good fellowship at the prospect of a royally good battle on Yale field tomorrow. Everything is in readiness for the game and as the best of weather is predicted the crowd promises to be a record-breaker.

The talk on all sides tonight was almost wholly upon the subject of tomorrow's game. A score in double figures is expected by Yale, but as it is a college tradition that Princeton always plays her best game against the Blue, the under-graduate body seems to be prepared for anything. The men of Old Nassau were not so much in evidence tonight as in the years when the Princeton team came here for over night quarters. The making of wagers on the outcome never before has been so insignificant.

A few bets with Yale giving odds of 2 to 1 were reported in cafes, but actually very little money was in sight. The Princeton team stopped over in New York tonight, but members of the vanguard from that college who have reached here report that every man is in prime shape and full of courage and especially happy over the prospect of good weather.

Trainer Mack of Yale says that every man who has been prepared for the Princeton game is in good condition.

A short signal practice at the Yale field this afternoon and another in the gym tonight was all the work done by the Yale team today and in both of those Erwin was at left guard. It was not until today that the coaches decided to start Erwin at guard for some of them favored Hockenburger and the question as to which of the two would be in the ranks in the first scrimmage tomorrow apparently was to be undecided until the men were on the field. Erwin is lighter than Hockenburger, who is the heaviest man on the squad, and during the past week fairly won his position by his great work with the scrubs.

The Princeton lineup is decided upon according to word from New York and the teams as they will face each other tomorrow is:

Yale.	Position.	Princeton.
Gates	Left End	Brasher
Forbes	Left Tackle	Cooney
Erwin	Left Guard	Rafferty
Flanders	Center	Carothers
Tripp	Right Guard	H. Dillon
Bigelow	Right Tackle	Herring
Shevlin (Capt.)	Right End	Tooker
Hutchinson	Quarterback	E. Dillon
Veeder	Left Halfback	Hard
Morse	Right Halfback	Daub
Flinn	Fullback	McCormick

The officials will be: Evans Wrenn, Harvard, umpire; J. C. McCracken, University of Pennsylvania, referee, and C. Daly, Harvard, head linesman.

In regard to weight, the teams are evenly matched, Yale has a very slight advantage.

Tonight many of the Yale players slept at the infirmary in order to escape the noise and excitement of the center of the city. Late this afternoon the players took rides and walks in the suburbs and are in the pink of condition.

Princeton.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The 3:40 train pulled out this afternoon bearing the team and a fair quota of students and it was followed by the enthusiastic songs and cheers of those who will follow tomorrow and of those so unfortunate as to have to stay behind and see the game by telegraph. Cheers were given again and again for the college, the team and the different players, and when the train wound out of sight around the curve, the lingering notes of Old Nassau followed them till they were far beyond hearing. When the Tiger team left Princeton two years ago for their struggle with Yale there was excitement and strong feeling enough to fill Princeton. The capacity for enthusiasm seemed to be reached then, but it must have increased in the meanwhile, for the crowd that cheered the train out of sight was, as one man expressed it, "nothing short of red hot."

Studies and lectures are forgotten by students and instructors alike and the whole college is fairly upside down with a maddened determination that if singing and cheering and shaking things up generally can do it, the Tiger shall wear dogskin gloves this winter and that they shall be of the exclusive brand procurable in New Haven only.

The confidence that is felt in the team is not due entirely to college loyalty. Princeton has been reading the newspapers and while realizing that Yale's fine record gives them good ground for assurance, the accounts have been so very confident that the college, while keeping still more or less has decided that Yale does not know Princeton and that the game that the Blue will have to meet tomorrow will prove a surprise they have not been counting on.

Professor Hiben, characterized in the "faculty song," as "the whitest man in all the fac," made a stirring speech last night at the final mass meeting and remarked that among common logical fallacies is the fallacy of comparative scores, and warned the students in his capacity as professor of logic, not to fall into it, even though Yale apparently had.

The team will spend the night in New York at the Netherlands hotel and will leave for New Haven Saturday at 11 o'clock. They will dine on the train and will go immediately to the Yale field on their arrival. After the game the squad will at once return to New York where they will witness the performance of "The Catch of the Season." They will return to Princeton Sunday.

Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—There is much confidence among Cornellians tonight that their varsity will not go down to the smashing defeat that the wearers of the Blue from New York now in Binghamton, are expecting to administer on Percy field tomorrow. The fast snappy work of the varsity this afternoon, somewhat overstepping the order that only limbering up exercises should be indulged in, was a source of encouragement to all who witnessed the work. It was the way the men went into it that gives confidence, and has been responsible for bringing the betting down to even money. Although the physical condition of Halliday and Martin in the back field is not perfect improvements have been made to strengthen the line which will give Coach Morley's men a much stronger barricade than they expected, providing Morley sticks to his intentions of making his best gains through the center of Cornell's line. Coach Morley is keeping his men over night in Binghamton.

The Cornell lineup, as announced tonight will be: Roadhouse and Van Orman, ends; Cook and Lyon, tackles; Thompson and O'Rourke, guards; Newman, center; Pollak, quarterback; Walder and Martin, halfbacks, and Halliday, fullback.

Yale.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—John E. Owsley, Yale's head field coach, said tonight of tomorrow's prospects: "We believe the game will be a good one, and it will be well played. The two teams are pretty evenly matched in weight and in all other respects. The Yale-Columbia score seems to have boosted Yale's stock generally, much more than with the Yale coaches and players. While we are hopeful and confident of the issue we are not over-confident and do not underrate Princeton. The Yale players are in good condition physically."

ANN ARBOR, MICH., Nov. 17.—On the eve of Michigan's first big game of the season the city of Ann Arbor is given over to football sentiment, and decorations in honor of the two elevens that will meet on Perry field here tomorrow. Every store in the business part of town is decorated with the colors of the universities of Michigan and Wisconsin. Although there is plenty of Michigan money going around at 3 to 2 on Michigan with the intimation that 2 to 1 will be given if there is any Wisconsin money forthcoming, it was impossible tonight to learn of any considerable betting being made. The Wisconsin players will arrive here tomorrow morning from Detroit where they practiced today. The weather indications for tomorrow are fair and colder.

RIVALS PLAY TO NO SCORE

TRI-STATE HAS NOT ASKED FOR PROTECTION

Allegheny Preps. and Allegheny High School Battle for a Championship.

WORCESTER IS THE STAR

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 17.—President T. B. Creamer of the Tristate league tonight made the following statement in reference to published reports that his organization has applied to the national commission for protection:

"The Tri-State league has not applied to the National baseball commission for protection, and for the present at least has no intention whatever of doing so. The reports from Cincinnati that Mr. Carpenter of Altoona has made overtures to the commission may be true, but Mr. Carpenter has no connection with either the league or the Altoona club. The Tri-State has never officially asked for protection."

ALTOONA, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The story published this morning from Cincinnati that C. F. Carpenter of Altoona had made application to the national commission to admit the Tri-State club to organization baseball is emphatically denied here by John R. Bockel, president of the Altoona club. In an interview he says that Mr. Carpenter went to Cincinnati as his representative on private business which had no connection with the affairs of the league. He further asserts that the Tri-State league has authorized no one to make any overtures and the present indications are that such an agreement will not be considered as the Tri-State would be expected to make concessions. This step would further interfere with the Tri-State making negotiations for desirable players. Bockel believes that the Tri-State has a large field at its disposal and the management figures this a great advantage for league baseball.

In a no-score game at Exposition park yesterday, Allegheny Prep school met Allegheny High for the championship game of the league. There were sensational runs by Worcester, Buka and Em. Murphy. Herd made fine tackles. The day was an ideal one for football, and many members of both schools were out in force to "root" for their school.

High school kicked to Prep. Shilton got the ball and ran back 20 yards. Prep fumbled. High school kicked and Em. Murphy was downed on the two-yard line. The Prep advanced the ball to the middle of the field, where they fumbled. Buka made an end run of 10 yards, and the ball was on Prep's 40-yard line when time was called.

In the second half the Prep kicked to High school, which advanced the ball to the 30-yard line, where Buka took it around the end to Prep's five-yard line. High school was held for downs, however, only one foot from the line. From here Prep, by superb line plunges, carried the ball to their opponent's 20-yard line. Worcester made a touchdown, but the ball was brought back for holding. Worcester failed at a trial for field goal. The remaining five minutes of the half was played without any incident of importance, time being called with the ball in Prep's possession on High's 20-yard line. The lineup:

WITHOUT A SCRATCH.

Joe Alton Easily Defeats Joe Campbell in Six Rounds.

ALTOONA, PA., Nov. 17.—Before a crowded house here tonight Joe Alton of Pittsburgh, one of Red Mason's boxers, made a grand showing against Joe Campbell of Washington, D. C., and had the latter all but out at the finish. It was only by continually holding on that he was able to stay the sixth round out. Campbell has beaten several boxers here in short order and was a favorite before tonight's contest, but they had hardly put up their hands when it was seen that Alton had him at his mercy. Alton came out of the contest without a scratch, while Campbell was badly beaten up around the face and body.

W. and J. Meets Normals.

WASHINGTON, PA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—The Washington and Jefferson football squad ended the week's work this afternoon with light practice. Tomorrow they will go up against the California Normal team, and from reports received here it is understood that the Normalites are expecting to spring a surprise on the local team. It is likely that several good second team men will go into the lineup as Coach Flekarski does not want to have any of the regulars crippled for the Carlisle game next Saturday in Pittsburgh.

Irwin Beats Railroad.

IRWIN, PA., Nov. 17.—The Irwin basketball team defeated the Railroad Athletic club of Pittsburgh this evening by all around good play. Lineup:

Douglass	F.	Stewart
Andrews	F.	O'Neil
Dias	C.	Somers
Davis	G.	Misel
Jones	G.	Harrington

Pittsburgh's New Third Baseman.

The Pittsburgh club has a new third baseman in the person of Thomas Sheehan, a member of the Tacoma club of the Pacific Coast league. He was drafted by President Dreyfuss and the draft was sanctioned by the National commission. Sheehan made a good record on the diamond and is said to be a star. Manager Clarke saw him at play and was much impressed by the way the youngster handled himself.

PRIZE FIGHT IN NEW YORK.

British Jackie Has the Better of an American Sailor in Three Rounds.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A three-round boxing exhibition between William E. Cockayne, a royal marine from the cruiser Drake and middleweight champion of the British navy, and Jack Reine of the battleship Iowa, said to be the champion in his class in the American fleet, took place tonight in Tom Sharkey's gymnasium. The British marine was easily the best man. He was said to weigh 157 pounds. The American was said to weigh 154, and beside his antagonist looked light.

In the first round Cockayne drew blood. The gong saved the American from a knockout in the second and he was on his knees taking the count when the gong closed the third and last round. No decision was given by Referee Sharkey, but he said the cup for which the men fought would go to Cockayne as having made the best showing. Arthur Donivan of the British fleet was Cockayne's second and Billy Rodenkamp was in the American's corner.

The hall was packed. None of the higher officers of the fleet was present. There appeared to be no betting, as the unknown quality of the American made his fellow countrymen cautious with their money.

VILLA NOVA WEAKENED FOR THE QUAKERS TODAY

VILLA NOVA, PA., Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Villa Nova college plays the powerful University of Pennsylvania team tomorrow at Philadelphia. Penn will undoubtedly be very fast, thanks to the complete rest the players have enjoyed this entire week, after their wonderful victory over Harvard last Saturday. One year ago under exactly similar conditions Penn beat the Indians 35 to 0.

Unfortunately Villa Nova is in very poor shape for this important game. Notwithstanding the fact that both regular halfbacks and one end are out, owing to severe injuries, McAteer and Coleridge, quarterback and end, put the team in a worse plight by deserting just at this critical period. No explanation of their unsportsmanlike action has been forthcoming, but scholarship deficiency and desire to be at home are probably the real reasons. Both gave promise of developing into good players in their positions, and their loss will be felt coming at this late hour and with almost no time to develop substitutes. The college is indignant over the entire affair, but gratified that Woods, the other Pittsburgh boy, stuck.

FINE SCORES BY LEAGUE ROLLERS

Allegheny Rolls Up a Score of 912 and Wins Two Out of Three.

NEWS FROM MANY ALLEYS

The Alleghenys and Millvale Independents of the Allegheny section met on the Social alleys last night in a championship match. Fine bowling was done except in the third game, when neither team reached the 800 mark. In the second game the Alleghenys rolled a score of 912 and felt so proud that they fell down in the next, but won out all the same by 78 pins. The players certainly pulled out in the second game, when four 200 scores were made. Hornberger hung up 237 and Capt. Yokel 202. On the other side Volz rolled 216 and D. Houlahen 212. Joe Damm helped his side by rolling an average of 177, playing a steady game all through. The best work was done by Hornberger, who made a high score of 226 and best average of 187 2-3. Danny Houlahen was only four pins behind him, getting an average of 186 1-3. Volz also did fine work, getting an average of 181 1-3. It was a fast match with everybody doing his level best. Scores:

In the Drug league last night on the Wylie avenue alleys, the Kelly team won all three games from the Pharmacy. No player on either team had dope enough to accomplish any startling results, but all the games were interesting just the same. Herron proved the best compounder with high score and best average. Todd was there also with the dope and weighed up a very consistent game. The scores:

If you meet any amateur bowler in the city in the near future, just ask him "Who am I?" and he will say "Y. M. I." for the Y. M. I.'s trimmed the Ivory so badly last night in the amateur league that they now look like billiard ivorys. If you see a chesty bowler it is H. C. Vanner, captain of the Y. M. I.'s and secretary-treasurer of the amateur league. He was the bright shining star of last night's contest, tying the high score record of the league at 212, and also putting up the best average in the league of 187 1-3. Beecher was there also with a good score and average, but he was outclassed by his captain. For the Ivorys Mugele had high score of 196, and the other players have an equal argument as to their relative merits. Scores:

Last night on the Wilmerding alleys in the Monongahela Valley section, the Wilmerding and McKeesport teams met in a league contest and the Wilmerdings won all three games. The scores as a rule were low and it behooves some of those teams to get a hustle on and put up some scores that will be a credit to the league. The Bankers' league teams will not bowl next Wednesday owing to the banquet of the Bankers and Bank Clerks' Mutual Benefit association, to be held at the Schenley on that evening. The games scheduled will be rolled the following week, thus extending the season one week.

Secretary Hutchison of the Bankers' league will compile the averages of the players and they will be published in The Gazette.

The Harvard team accepts the challenge issued by the Maplewoods of Wilkinsburg, and would like to hear from the Arsenals, Seng's Colts and the Centrals of Sharpsburg.

The match scheduled last night between the Bloomfield and Friendship teams of the Pittsburgh section, was postponed until some day next week.

The corrected schedule of the Allegheny section calls for the Millvale Independents to play on the Cecelia alleys on December 7 and the Cecelias on the Millvale alleys on February 8.

A match was yesterday arranged between Dan Heulahen of the Independents and Joe Milfelt of the Ungers for $50 a side. They will bowl best three out of five games, two games to be played on the Millvale alleys, two on the Friendship alleys and the fifth, if necessary, on neutral alley.

TRAVIS A LIKELY TOURNEY WINNER

H. C. Fownes, G. W. Wurzell and E. E. Giles Win in First Beaten Eight.

J. O'H. DENNY PLAYS WELL

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Nov. 17.—Owing to the luck of the draw Walter J. Travis had the unpleasant duty to perform today of putting out two of his club mates. It was not a case of testing his mettle, as he had no desire to defeat one of his own team too badly. He had William S. Eddy as an opponent in the morning and he defeated him by 6 up and 3 to play. His opponent in the afternoon was Arden M. Robbins. Travis again did the course in 78, while Robbins required 87.

One of the surprises of the morning was the defeat of N. W. Perrin by F. Oden Horstman. Perrin is a former Philadelphia champion and it was expected that he would meet Travis in the final round. They both played fairly good golf, doing the course in 85, Perrin leading by 4 up at the turn, but Horstman came up strong on the finish. Perrin was beaten again in the afternoon by Charles L. Tappin in the first defeated eight set.

The summary follows:

First sixteen—W. H. Farr, Philadelphia Cricket, beat C. M. Sherwood, Wilmington, by 4 up and 3 to play; F. S. Sherman, Atlantic City, beat H. C. Fownes, Oakmont, by 2 up and 1 to play; Arden M. Robbins, Garden City, beat G. W. Wurzell, Oakmont, by 5 up and 3 to play; W. J. Travis, Garden City, beat William S. Edey, Garden City, by 6 up and 5 to play; J. O'H. Denny, Oakmont, beat E. E. Giles, Pittsburgh, by 2 up and 1 to play; H. W. Smedley, Merion, beat O. C. Lafferty, by 6 up and 5 to play; F. Oden Horstman, Chevy Chase, beat H. W. Perrin, Philadelphia Cricket, by 1 up. Garry B. Adams beat Charles L. Tappin, by 4 up and 3 to play.

Second round—Farr beat Sherman by 2 up; Travis beat Robbins by 5 up and 3 to play; Lafferty beat Denny by 4 up and 3 to play; Horstman beat Adams by 2 up and 1 to play.

First beaten eight: Fownes beat Sherwood by 2 up; Wurzell beat Edey by 1 up in 19 holes; Giles beat Smedley by 6 up and 5 to play; Tappin beat Perrin by 6 up and 4 to play.

COMMISSION IS PUT INTO COURT

WORK OF THE BALL JUDGES

CINCINNATI, Nov. 17.—A legal contest against a decision of the National Baseball commission was begun in the United States district court today by Michael J. Kelley, manager of the St. Paul American association team, who filed a petition for an injunction against the commission to restrain it from putting into effect its decision that Kelley should play with the St. Louis American league team.

Kelley declared that he was not under contract to the St. Paul club, and could not therefore be sold by Owner George Lennon of that organization. Kelley asserted that if he should, after the decision of the commission, undertake to play with any other than the St. Louis club, he would be prevented forever from engaging in baseball as a means of livelihood. He declared that of the members of the commission, August Hermann and Ban Johnson, as well as John E. Bruce, secretary of the commission, had a pecuniary interest in the decision and that these members of the commission were prejudiced against him. Kelley, therefore, asked for an injunction restraining the members of the commission from any action whereby any professional baseball club in the United States is prevented from engaging him as a player for next season. A temporary restraining order was issued.

The adoption of the following additional rule was announced:

"Rule 39. No sale of a minor league player by one minor league club to another shall be permitted within six days of the first drafting day of each year. All sales of minor league players by one minor league club to another shall be reported by the secretary of the National association to the secretary of the National commission at least four days before the first drafting day of each year."

The commission finds the adoption of this rule absolutely necessary in order that the club possessing title to any player may be definitely known before the drafting season commences.

Jimmy Sebring, the player lately signed by the Chicago club, may yet be initiated into the order of the big tin can. Sebring's case will be taken up at a later date by the commission.

In discussion of it President Johnson of the American league said: "I believe that Sebring is a contract jumper and should be declared ineligible. The commission briefly discussed the Sebring case and from the statement of it, as made by President Herrmann, I should say that Sebring has violated his contract with the Cincinnati club."

This statement by President Johnson is indicative that Sebring will have to pass through the fire of inquisition before he can again play in organized society, and he may be ruled against in the same manner as were Heydon and Owens yesterday.

AMONG THE BOXERS.

A telegram from San Francisco says that Bob Fitzsimmons made arrangements over the telephone to train at Croll's gardens at Alameda. This was the place where he fitted himself for his fight with George Gardner. He could have trained at other resorts near the city, but he picked Croll's because of the spacious gymnasium. "I want a large place to work in so the public can come over and see me box," said Bob. "I don't care to be cooped up in a cigar box where I can't have a crowd. Reports have been circulated here that I can't train any more, and I am anxious to satisfy the public that such is not the case." Billy Delaney sent Fitz word that he could have the services of Al Kaufmann as a sparring partner. Bob probably will employ the big fellow. He also will engage a clever middleweight to spar with him, and this man will be Harry Foley if he is disengaged. Jack O'Brien will train at Sheehan's at the Beach, where he has been since he arrived here.

Jack McClelland and Billy Ryan of Syracuse have signed articles to box 15 rounds at Monongahela on December 11. They agreed to meet at 127 pounds.

Gus Bezenah is still waiting for his railroad tickets from Frisco. The latest word he received from the coast was that he is wanted at Oakland for a fight on December 1. His opponent is not named in the telegram sent by Manager John Reid. Bezenah will leave town as soon as transportation arrives.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Frank Gotch has a 10-weeks engagement at $900 a week, to wrestle all comers, with a vaudeville company.

Battling Nelson is said to have saved $40,000.

Billy Nolan and Joe Humphreys met at New York Thursday to talk over the bout between Battling Nelson and Terry McGovern. Nolan seemed inclined to favor the New Tuxedo club, which is being organized outside of Philadelphia, and that they thought there would be a purse of $15,000 offered. The meeting, however, was postponed until next Monday and nothing definite was decided on.

STENOGRAPHER WANTS PAY FOR STOLEN PAPERS

J. Ogden Armour Refuses to Give Tribute and Has Former Employe Arrested.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—William S. McSwain and William Cole, his brother-in-law, were arrested today, charged with attempting to blackmail J. Ogden Armour and other members of Armour & Co., for $40,000, in connection with the beef trust investigation by means of letters which they are alleged to have stolen from the files of Armour & Co.

McSwain was employed by Armour & Co., for four years as a stenographer. Since the recent beef investigation was begun, it was charged, McSwain has taken letters from the files of the concern. Three weeks ago, it is said, McSwain went to Armour and threatened to turn the letters over to Federal officers unless Armour paid $40,000. Mr. Armour refused to listen to the proposal. McSwain, it is alleged, made similar demands on other officers of Armour & Co.

With the hope of leading McSwain and his companion into a trap, several meetings were held between McSwain and Attorney Rosenthal, of the packing company. "At each of these meetings," said Mr. Rosenthal, "the sum was gradually reduced, until McSwain agreed to give up the letters for $15,000. A meeting was arranged with him at the Auditorium hotel where, it was agreed, $10,000 should be paid him on the delivery of the letters, and $5,000 a week later."

When McSwain and Cole appeared at the hotel, this afternoon, they were arrested by detectives.

WORKERS OF ST. ANDREW CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Addresses Made by National President Gardiner and H. W. D. English. Special Communion Thanksgiving.

Anniversary exercises were held last night by the Brotherhood of St. Andrew, in Trinity Protestant Episcopal church, Sixth avenue. Members from neighboring parishes were present. Many ministers of the different churches also took part.

The speakers were Robert H. Gardiner, national president of the brotherhood, and H. W. D. English of this city, former national president. President Gardiner said special attention was being given to organizing chapters in colleges and among traveling men. More traveling secretaries are needed, as it is the intention to establish senior and junior chapters in every parish in the United States. Mr. English spoke on the objects of the brotherhood. The real anniversary of the brotherhood falls on Thanksgiving day, and a special communion will be held in the morning for members of the order in Trinity church.

COSTS WILL BE HEAVY.

A. G. Marshall Must Pay About $1,000 to Cover Court Expenses of Long Trial.

The costs in the case in which A. G. Marshall was acquitted of the charge of insurance swindling, but assessed with the costs, will amount to about $1,000. Other cases remain against Marshall and Frank G. Dunbar, who has never been apprehended. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud insurance companies. It is not known when the cases will be tried.

Attorney Kahle was surprised at the verdict, as he fully expected a conviction. Attorneys W. A. Blakeley and Elmer W. Moore of the firm of McCreedy & Moore, who defended Marshall and practically rested on the evidence of the commonwealth, were congratulated by many members of the legal fraternity who had watched the long case.

Arrangements for Two Overflow Revival Meetings Tomorrow Afternoon.

Twenty young ministers from Bethany college, Bethany, W. Va., will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning to invite employes of business establishments to attend tomorrow afternoon's meeting at the Nixon theater at 3 o'clock. The Netz sisters will sing and solos will be sung by evangelist singers A. K. Brooks and W. F. Lintt.

This is expected to be one of the largest attended meetings yet held. Arrangements have been made to house the overflow crowds in two nearby churches, where the same program will be carried out as at the theater. Thousands of invitations to attend the meetings have been distributed this week, and the banner crowd is expected tomorrow. The Rev. John G. Slayter will preach the sermon.

WILL HEAR ARGUMENTS.

Date is Set for Hearing Enterprise Bank Directors' Defense.

The arguments for the directors of the Enterprise bank and the state treasurer in the matter of the judgments filed against the board by State Treasurer Mathues will be heard in common pleas court No. 2 next Friday. The directors filed a petition asking that the judgments, amounting to $2,500,000, be opened and they let into a defense. The directors are bonded for the $1,032,000 of state funds on deposit in the Enterprise bank.

Attorney Thomas M. Marshall, counsel for the state treasurer, has filed no answer to the petition of the attorneys for the directors, but will do so on Monday morning. Eugene Mackey, attorney for W. H. Andrews, has filed no answer yet to the suit of Receiver Cunningham for $91,000 alleged to be owed the institution by Andrews on promissory notes.

Looking for Theater Site.

George W. Verbeck of Oil City was in Homestead yesterday looking for a site on which he might erect a theater. He wishes to add to a circuit which he now operates in the larger towns of Eastern Ohio and Western Pennsylvania.

COURT REFUSES LEVIN'S REQUEST

Cases of George Loughran and Matt Cavanaugh Will Not Go Back to Grand Jury.

PROPER NOTICE IN FIRE LOSS

Judge Macfarlane refused the petition of Assistant City Solicitor L. S. Levin asking that the cases of George Loughran alias William Johnston and Matt Cavanaugh, charged with stealing $128.50 from H. A. Lande, which had twice been ignored, be returned to the grand jury for a rehearing. This case attracted considerable attention at the time because it developed a controversy between District Attorney Stewart and former Police Superintendent Wallace.

Attorney Levin in his petition had intimated that the grand jury had been improperly influenced in making its return. The court says the petition did not aver misconduct, but stated that "it is believed an effort was made to influence the grand jury in its findings." He says the court cannot review findings of any tribunal of equal independence charged with and executing the duty of deciding the credibility of witnesses appearing before it, unless there has been improper influence, oversight or mistake.

In the case of Redick Otto against the German American Insurance Company to recover on a policy of insurance, a question of law as to the proper notification arises in the United States courts that is of interest to every holder of an insurance policy. Otto claimed he notified the local agent and not the home office in New York. The counsel for the defendant then raised the point that he should have notified the home office and sent his proof of loss. Decisions of the supreme court of Pennsylvania were quoted to uphold the point, but it was overruled by the court. Otto owned the Hotel Metropole, Braddock avenue, Braddock.

Eleven Women Plead Guilty.

Eleven women charged with keeping disorderly houses and selling liquor illegally in Allegheny, the cases growing out of the recent "graft" crusade, appeared in criminal court and entered pleas of guilty. As in the cases of the women who pleaded guilty on Thursday, sentence was postponed until all cases against women of this class now pending are disposed of. The women who pleaded guilty are: Charlotte Coll, Ben Dagney, Kit Baker, Lillie Wallace, Lillie Wilson, Grace Gordon, Lena Huber, Blanche Carlin, Pearl Gardner, Lib Stoner and Pearl Gordon. The following women of Allegheny, each of whom are charged with two offenses, will be tried Monday: Maria Young, Margaret Sterling, Nell Stewart, May Russell, Mabel Russell, Margaret Leroy, Stella Howard, Annie Gray, Annie Reed, Bertha DeLacey, Minnie Gordon, Mabel Brown, Grace Brown, Lou Bradley, Matt Steele, Eva Allen, Alice Scott, Mrs. J. Young, Ida Ballard, Stella Boyd, Annie Steiner, Olivet Graham, Margaret George, Bertha Devine, Ida Dunn, Dora Freshman, Leah Gray, Margaret Cease, Goldie Carroll, Leon Sanford, Sue Stevenson, Ida St. Clair, Sadie Painter, Lida McIntosh, Edna Merten, Kizzie Kerr, Mary Klugley, Essie Knox, Grace King, Edith Harris, Minnie Hunter and Sadie Clark.

He stabbed Joseph Zadzunos in a street fight at McKees Rocks on June 19.

Speakeasy in a Tent.

Fred Lutz was convicted of keeping a speakeasy in a tent a short distance from the city limits in Penn township. Gottlieb Stower, tried with him, was acquitted. Because the raid was made by the city police, the attorney for the defense tried to prove it grew out of politics and was not made in good faith. Lutz testified his place was a "rod and gun club" and that liquor was never sold.

Cashier George C. Watt of the First National bank of Braddock transferred his suit charging Stephan Bernolak, foreign clerk, with the embezzlement of $5,000, from the county to the United States court, and a commitment was lodged against him yesterday. He will be given a hearing before Commissioner Lindsey Thursday, at 4 o'clock. Bernolak has been in jail since August 14.

Annie E. Bloomer of New York was given a verdict of $4,000 in the United States court for injuries received while getting off a street car in Wilkinsburg. Julia E. Dean was given a verdict for $750 against the Pittsburgh Railways Company, for the death of her husband, Z. W. Dean.

William M. Price, trustee, has filed an answer to the rule obtained by Mrs. J. O. Bridgeman to show cause why a judgment he obtained against her husband should not be opened and she allowed to defend. Mr. Price says as Bridgeman's attorney he visited him in jail after Bridgeman had been convicted and sentenced three months to the workhouse, and Bridgeman told him he was about $1,200 in debt. Mr. Price says the note was given by Bridgeman to meet claims against Bridgeman and as trustee he was to pay these claims for his client with the proceeds of the sale of the property levied on in order that Bridgeman might be saved costs and expenses of suits on these claims, while he was in the workhouse.

Elizabeth H. Ellsworth was granted a divorce from Samuel A. Ellsworth on grounds of desertion. The commissioners in the suits of Sophia C. D. Krenz against William Krenz and Evelyn M. Coyle against L. B. Coyle, filed their reports. Desertion is alleged in each case.

TO PREVENT ROBBERIES BY BEING FOREWARNED

Police Bureau Wants to Know of the Residences That Are Being Temporarily Vacated.

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety, yesterday undertook to prevent robberies in the residence districts by asking occupants of houses to inform the police when homes were to be temporarily vacated. The new order is contained in a letter to E. J. Kenelly, acting superintendent of police, which is as follows:

There have been a number of complaints of robberies recently of residences, and in almost every instance at such times of the day or evening as the people or occupants of the houses have all been absent. I believe a little assistance on the part of the public generally would obviate many of these which are actually occurring. With this in view you are hereby directed to issue instructions to all men under your charge that the patrolmen be requested to inform the families living on their respective beats that this department would appreciate their information and would give their homes special consideration if such occupants of houses would inform the said patrolmen of the particular afternoon or days or nights in which there shall be no occupant in their homes, or if these persons cannot conveniently meet the patrolman if they would kindly telephone to the nearest police station, giving the information that the premises will be unoccupied for a certain length of time, said patrolmen can give these houses special attention, and we would probably be relieved of many of the light robberies now actually occurring.

Thieves who plunder homes usually make themselves sufficiently well acquainted as to the time when such places are unoccupied, and the officers of the police bureau, being ignorant of the vacancy of such homes, cannot give them special attention. If we are informed it will be an easy matter to pay a little more attention to the premises than would ordinarily be done, and thereby materially lessen the opportunities for such depredations.

READY FOR CAMPBELL.

Allegheny Graft Cases Will Be Pushed Against All Defendants, High and Low.

Melvin H. Campbell, former superintendent of police of Allegheny, who was convicted of extortion and granted a new trial, will be placed on trial November 27. While no definite time has been fixed for the trial of Director Thomas B. Scandrett, it is likely his trial will follow shortly afterward. The superior court is expected to announce a decision in the case of former Captain James Wilson early next week.

Attorney John Marron said yesterday that there will be no abatement of the cases and that, as far as he and John C. Haymaker are concerned, all of the cases will be tried as fast as possible. Scandrett along with the rest. He says they promised to clean up Allegheny and they expect to accomplish this before they are through. Just as soon as the district attorney places the cases on the trial list the attorneys will go ahead with them.

GRAND BALL ENDS ANNUAL REUNION

DUQUESNE GARDEN FAIRYLAND

That Duquesne Garden could be converted into the fairyland that greeted the eyes of those who entered the great building last evening to attend the ball which ended this year's reunion of the Scottish Rite would have been considered impossible. Out of the barrenness of the structure there had been created a realm of beauty and of dazzling light of many colors. From the center of the roof extended in all directions long festoons of colored electric lights. Intertwined with these festoons were others of southern smilax, while colored bunting hid the barrenness of the walls. At the east end glowed a great flag of the United States, made up of red, white and blue electric globes. These, combined with the other decorations, produced the scenic effect to which the music of orchestra and band added attraction.

Close to 3,500 members and guests of the bodies of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry of the valley of Pittsburgh gathered in this brilliant garden and no ball ever held in Pittsburgh exceeded in its imposing size and skilful arrangement the crowning event of the reunion of 1905.

Many Guests of Honor.

The crowd began to gather shortly after the doors opened at 8 o'clock, and the first part of the evening was given over to the reception. There were many guests of distinction present, among them being the following from Canada:

Benjamin Allen, 33d degree; A. T. Freed, 33d; Thomas Lee, 33d; F. J. Howell, 33d; D. Webster, 33d; George Moore, 32d; G. R. Lloyd, 32d; I. W. Sutherland, 32d; J. E. Ridell, 32d; J. G. Lidell, 32d; C. A. Hunter, 32d; Charles E. Conley, 32d; W. A. Spratt, 32d; J. J. Evel, 32d; William Irwin, 32d; W. Atchison, 32d; J. G. Gould, 32d; R. A. Bromfield, 32d.

It was 10:30 before the grand march commenced. Through all the winding movements of the stately procession nearly 2,000 persons went, until, 16 couples abreast, they marched down the floor, and the dignified harmony of Guenther's "Ingersoll march," changed to the sprightly two-step which the orchestra began, the marchers turned from their places to enjoy the first dance.

No essential or non-essential was lacking from the arrangements for the evening, and the work of the committees won encomiums from all present. To the ever-active banquet committee, consisting of Herman Junker, Eli Edmundson, Jr., and George Watt Wilson, especial thanks were given for their able assistance in rendering the evening the success it proved.

ELECTION DAY ECHOES.

Two Men Are Held for Court, One for Fighting, and the Other for Illegal Voting.

A. C. Leftridge, a negro policeman of Central station, was held for court in $300 bail on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by B. J. Jetter, also colored, at a hearing before Alderman Toole yesterday. The case grew out of a dispute between the two men at the polls of the Second district, Twentieth ward, on election day.

G. W. Galner, who was to answer a charge of illegal voting in the Second ward on election day before Alderman Toole, waived a hearing and furnished $1,000 bond for court.

RAMSEY NOT IN FIGHT.

Denies He Is Concerned in the Move of the Protesting Committee of Bondholders.

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—(Special.)—Joseph Ramsey, Jr., has taken an office at 100 Broadway. Mr. Ramsey flatly and unequivocally denies the report that he is associated, either as an adviser or otherwise, with the protesting committee of Wabash debenture B bondholders.

"What I had to say about the Wabash, I said openly in my published letter," said Mr. Ramsey, "and while my fight in the election is intended to result to the benefit of the bondholders, I have no part in the controversy."

BOYS HAVE LONG WALK.

Two New York Lads Are Stranded in Allegheny City.

The Allegheny police last night gave lodging to Matthew Dolier and James Durant, 15-year-old boys, whose homes are in New York city. The lads were picked up by Detective Leon Einstein on Federal street, and taken to the office of Acting Superintendent John Glenn. They said they had been brought on from New York by a glass firm in Rochester, and were to go to work. After arriving here the boys were told there was nothing for them to do. Early yesterday morning they started to walk from Rochester and got into Allegheny at 7 o'clock last night.

The 26-mile jaunt over the Beaver road put the lads in a condition pretty close to starvation and utter fatigue. Detective Einstein took them to a restaurant in the Diamond where they ate heartily for half an hour. They slept last night in the "tramps' room" down in the cellar, and will likely be given transportation this morning to New York.

EXPRESS CLERK FINDS THIEF IN BIG PACKAGE

He Stows Himself in Box So That He Could Rob a Warehouse and Is Only Found by Accident.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 17.—A thief who entered the Security Storage Company's warehouse in an express package was caught today as he was about to leave the warehouse, hidden in the same package along with $700 worth of stolen goods. Last night he climbed out of his package and after rifling the warehouse again repacked himself and his plunder.

When caught today he said his name was John Schmidt and told the story of his robbery. Yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock two packing cases were taken to the company's warehouse at 212 Spring street. Schmidt was in of them, which was fitted with spring locks so as to be opened from the inside. With him was a bottle of whisky, a set of burglar tools and a dark lantern. The other box was used for packing his plunder.

Schmidt emerged last night and plundered the place, and at 7 o'clock this morning was safely repacked with his plunder. But an employe saw one of the boxes move unaccountably as it stood alone on the floor, and peeking through a knot hole in the top saw the burglar's hat. He immediately smashed the packing case open. Five minutes later an expressman called, asking to remove the two boxes which contained the burglar and his plunder. The police went with the expressman to meet the man who sent him after the boxes. This man, who gave the name of Robert Arnold, was found waiting at the Bowery and Second avenue and was arrested.

May Abandon Christmas Treat.

The Christmas treat of the Farmington Aid society has reached such proportions that the society is forced to consider the advisability of abandoning it this year and substituting in its place some other method of distributing Christmas presents among the 700 children who are now its beneficiaries. For years the society has held its annual treat the day before Christmas in the Cyclorama building in Irwin and Beech avenues, Allegheny, but the hall is not large enough to accommodate the big Christmas tree which occupies the center of the room and the hundreds of little children who gather around it and receive their toys and the treat of ice cream, cake and candy. The young women composing the society are averse to abandoning the Christmas tree, and possibly will not, but are now considering some other method. It has been suggested that the toys be sent to the children in the 50 baskets containing a family Christmas dinner, which are distributed the day before Christmas, together with several other plans, but none has been adopted yet. If the society could confine its work to those children who do not attend any Sunday school and for this reason have no other Christmas treat the number would be considerably lessened, but discrimination of this kind has been found to be impossible.

The trained nurse whom the society employs for visiting and nursing in the families of the poor where there is sickness has been unusually busy during the last few weeks, there being a great many typhoid fever cases under her charge. The society has also provided whole wardrobes for many little new arrivals in the families of the poor.

The Farmington Aid society is composed of the girls and women in Pittsburgh and Allegheny who have ever been enrolled among the students in the fashionable Farmington school in Connecticut. This year four new members have been added to the roll—Miss Marjorie Rea, Miss Mary Flinn, Miss Margaret L. Barr and Miss Martha Chambers. These are all Briar Cliff girls, but they are received into the Farmington society, since the Briar Cliff school is under the same management. Making a Town Beautiful.

The little town of Ingram has profited by the contest instigated by the Ingram Civic league last spring. Throughout the summer there has been a spirited rivalry among the citizens and the result has been vast improvement in the care of the lawns and grass plots, the fathers and sons of Ingram hurrying home from their office or shop to push the lawnmower or rising betimes and wakening their less ambitious neighbors with the whirr of the cutter as they pushed it over the dew-covered grass. Flowers were zealously cultivated by the mothers and daughters and there has been a luxuriance of roses clambering over piazzas and a wealth of rich color in the ornamental flower beds which dotted the grounds about the cosy homes during the past summer. The result of the contest is now announced by the Ingram Civic league, which has made its award for the best-kept lawn to Davis N. Glass, the prize for the best collection of flowers being captured by Mrs. J. M. Swearingen. The competition closed when the frost came and destroyed the beauty of the flower gardens. A large number of the people of the town entered with enthusiasm into the competition, and those who did not take an active part looked on from the side lines and cheered as they saw the result in the improved conditions of grounds and the increase in the esthetic taste of the people through their work among the flowers. There is a long list of honorable mentions made, the judges having had much difficulty in finally deciding upon the winners, the improvements being so general and showing such excellent results.

Personal Recollections of Southern Life.

With descriptions of famous southern homes and personal recollections of the wide-open hospitality of the southerners of nearly three-quarters of a century ago, the members of the Woman's Southern society were carried to the scene of the homes of their girlhood. Particularly interesting were the personal recollections of "Monticello" and the famous people who visited the home of Jefferson during the first half of the last century, embodied in the paper prepared by Mrs. L. C. Fawcus' mother and read by the daughter. The family home of Mrs. Fawcus' mother adjoined "Monticello," the stately home of Thomas Jefferson, and her recollections of the men and women who visited there four presidents being guests at dinner at one time, were full of quaintness and picturesqueness, as though the people had stepped out of their heavy gold frames in the picture gallery. "Westover," Col. Byrd's home, was described by Mrs. Hugh Pendleton Allene, the paper being read by Mrs. J. D. Underwood, while "Greenaway Court," the Fairfax home, was pictured by Mrs. James Parker. Mrs. James D. Murray, Jr., was the leader for the afternoon; Mrs. Ellison L. Costin, the first vice president, presiding in the absence of the president, Mrs. Allen, who is in Atlantic City. Miss Fallie McKinley sang, and after the program tea was served. Mrs. W. K. Hall, Mrs. J. D. Underwood and Miss Matilda Alexander presiding at the tea table.

Social Meeting Postponed.

The Epoch club has postponed indefinitely the social meeting and tea which was to have been held December 1 in the home of Mrs. Frank Hogg because of the death this week of Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, an honorary member of the club. Resolutions touching her death were adopted by the club. The meeting yesterday was conducted in the home of Mrs. Frank L. Slocum in South Linden avenue, East End. "Roman Architecture" was discussed by Mrs. Samuel B. Griffith, who described many of the famous buildings of Rome, whose ruins today are the admiration of the world. Mrs. Francis D. Glover traced the early history of Italy, comparing the national traits of the Romans, the Etruscans and the Greeks. A reading, "The Coliseum," by Lord Byron, was given by Mrs. E. E. Phelps.

The club yesterday elected Mrs. Jens G. L. Schreuder a member of the program committee for next year, in place of Mrs. Charles S. Eaton, who has resigned. Mrs. Frank L. Slocum was made chairman of the committee.

CONDUITS FOR ITS TELEGRAPH LINES

Pennsylvania Planning to Place Wires Underground — Subjects for Club Dinner.

WABASH MEN TRANSFERRED

The Pennsylvania, known for several decades as the "standard railroad of the world," is about to undertake a proposition that shows the management is looking far ahead. This is the burying of the telegraph wires in conduits. In recent years the big railroads have been facing a hard problem in getting poles for the lines. Pole timber is becoming even more scarce than the tie timber, although not nearly so large an amount is needed.

The burying of telegraph and telephone wires in conduits is not new to the scientific world. While the use of conduits for placing the wires under the surface of the ground has been successful in the cities, electricians are not agreed that long-distance conduits are feasible. The conduits would cost as much as or probably more than the poles for the first installation, but afterward they would be a great economy. All the wires would have to be covered so as to secure insluation. The wires being underground would afford less trouble to the operating department because of snow, ice and wind wrecking the telegraph lines and thus tying up traffic.

The Philadelphia division will be the first to receive attention. Along some portions of the main line the Pennsylvania has about 40 telegraph wires for its line, while along the entire main line there are probably no less than 25 wires at any one point.

Subjects for Traffic Club Dinner.

Announcement was made yesterday by President D. F. Hurd of the Traffic club of Pittsburgh of the subjects selected by the speakers at the autumn dinner to be held at the Hotel Schenley next Monday evening. In addition to the club members there will be a number of invited guests. Col. J. M. Schoonmaker, vice president and general manager of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, will speak on "Camaraderie in Business," John B. Cockrum, general attorney for the Lake Erie & Western, of Indianapolis, on "Regulation of Railway Rates;" J. C. Whitney, vice president of the Merchants and Miners Transportation Company, of Baltimore, on "The Merchant Marine;" E. A. Butterworth, historian of the club and commercial agent of the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton-Pere Marquette system, on "The Press—In Several Shades." A. L. Ralston, traffic manager of the Pittsburgh Steel Company, will sing a topical song of humorous turn.

Will Test P. R. R. Electric Engine.

The first of the electric locomotives that the Pennsylvania railroad has had built for experimental purposes in preparation for the opening of the tunnels under the North and East rivers in New York has just been completed and sent to the Long Island railroad, where it will be tested next week. This is a single reduction engine. Another engine to be built and tested is the direct connection type. Comparisons of the tests will be tabulated and the engine that will serve the purpose best for the tunnel operations will be adopted. The first engine's frame and machinery was constructed at the Altoona shops of the company. Its electrical equipment was installed at the Westinghouse works.

Pittsburgh Lines in the Lead.

Figures showing the comparative work of the medical examiners' divisions of the Pennsylvania lines' voluntary relief department give the total number treated in the Pittsburgh district at 4,767 disablement cases from sickness and accident. This district is designated as the first in order in the superintendent's report. The membership of this district is 4,886, or 14 per cent of the entire membership of the relief on the Pennsylvania lines.

TROUBLE IS EXPECTED FOR DOMINICAN PRESIDENT

Morales' Supporters Are Outnumbered Five to One by Opponents of the Government.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

SAN JUAN, P. R., Nov. 17.—The United States cruiser Cleveland arrived here today from Samana bay, Santo Domingo, and will return there immediately after coaling here. Her officers say that while discontent is widespread in Santo Domingo, no outbreaks have occurred and comparative quiet prevails. It was persistently rumored, however, before the Cleveland left Samana bay, that trouble might be expected before November 20, as the anti-Morales party, locally termed "Bolos," was gaining strength and would soon outnumber the government supporters by 3 to 1. The headquarters of the "Bolos" are at Santiago, whence the trouble, of any, will originate.

It was also reported that Gen. Rodriguez, who is Morales' most persistent rival, received a few days ago arms and ammunition, probably by way of the Haitian frontier, as the ports are well guarded.

Vice President Ramon Caceras and Gen. Vasquez, the minister of public works, who is the power behind Morales' throne, had an altercation recently over Caceras' opposition to certain clauses of the customs convention with the United States, which ended in a fistic encounter, but the quarrel was patched up. Conservative business men unanimously support President Morales and the convention, but these interests are in the minority.

Fireman Is Overcome.

Fire of unknown origin yesterday morning partially destroyed a new residence in the Walker plan, Eleventh ward, Allegheny. The blaze was discovered by a workman passing the place. Fireman T. H. Kelley was overcome by smoke while in the house and was carried out by William Kim. The house is owned by S. T. Bailey of Bellevue and is insured.

WHOSE SAY-SO IS BEST?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone and exclusively as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their owners' and makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines. Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. Jno. King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow and scores of others equally eminent.

The writings of these have been for the various medical journals and for publication in standard medical books for professional reading and instruction, and hence are the more valuable as they relate to Dr. Pierce's medicines, since the writers did not know that they were endorsing and recommending articles that enter into the composition of these medicines and had no personal interest whatever therein. Hence, their great value as endorsements.

A brief synopsis, of a small part only, of these extensive writings, which apply to the several ingredients entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—the world-famed remedy for weak stomach, or dyspepsia, torpid or congested liver, biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels and kindred ailments—has been compiled for publication in book form. These extracts also treat of the several ingredients entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, over-worked, "run-down," debilitated, nervous women, who find in it a priceless boon.

Send your name and address by postal card or letter, with request for this little book, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will be mailed free to your address. From it you will learn why "Golden Medical Discovery" cures catarrh of the nasal passages, even though of years' standing. It is a most potent constitutional remedy for this terribly common and generally unsuccessfully treated malady. The cure will be facilitated if Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy be employed to cleanse out the nasal passages at the same time that the "Discovery" is employed for the constitutional treatment.

The "Discovery" is equally efficient in the cure of catarrh of the stomach and bowels, and in cases of ulceration of these organs. Read what Doctors King, Scudder, Grover Coe, and others say of the curative properties of Golden Seal root and of Stone root in cases of the above diseases. Both these roots are important ingredients of "Golden Medical Discovery." From the writings of these same authors you will learn, why the "Golden Medical Discovery" cures chronic, or lingering ailments of the throat and bronchia attended with hoarseness, cough, soreness and kindred symptoms. Several of the ingredients in the "Golden Medical Discovery" are highly recommended for their specific, curative effects in laryngitis, or "Speakers' sore throat," as well as in incipient consumption and obstinate, lingering coughs, which, if neglected or badly treated, are apt to end in consumption.

From the same little book you may learn why Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anti-version and retro-version and corrects irregularities, cures painfull periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, sometimes known as pelvic catarrh, and why inflammation of the ovaries and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women, readily yield to its marvelous curative potency. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and cheerfully takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

That every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has the endorsement of the leading medical writers of the age amply attests its harmless character as well as its sterling curative value. Send your address for the little book and read what some of the most eminent medical men of this century say of the curative properties contained in the several ingredients which go to make up Dr. Pierce's leading medicines. No other medicines are backed up by such marvelous, disinterested, professional endorsements. This one fact is worth more and should have more weight in determining whether these non-secret medicines, or some secret compounds without professional endorsement and with only the makers' praise to recommend them, are best and most likely to effect important cures.

In favor of Dr. Pierce's medicines is the frank, confiding, open statement of their full composition, giving every ingredient in plain English, without fear of successful criticism and with confidence that the good sense of the afflicted will lead them to appreciate this honorable manner of confiding to them what they are taking into their stomachs when making use of these medicines.

Dr. Pierce's medicines are made from harmless but efficient medicinal roots found growing in our American forests. The Indians knew of the marvelous curative value of some of these roots and imparted that knowledge to some of the friendlier whites, and gradually some of the more progressive physicians came to test and use them, and ever since they have grown in favor by reason of their superior curative virtues and their safe and harmless qualities. The little free book mentioned in the preceding column will tell you all about the properties and uses of these most valuable medicinal roots. Send for it NOW.

Your druggists sells the "Favorite Prescription" and also that famous alterative, blood purifier and stomach tonic, the "Golden Medical Discovery." Write to Dr. Pierce about your case. He is an experienced physician and will treat your case as confidential and without charge for correspondence. Address him at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., of which he is chief consulting physician.

It is as easy to be well as ill—and much more comfortable. Constipation is the cause of many forms of illness. Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, two a mild cathartic. All dealers in medicines sell them.

Dr. Pierce's 1000-page illustrated book, "The Common Sense Medical Adviser," is sent free in paper covers on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of mailing only. For 31 stamps the cloth-bound volume will be sent. It was formerly sold for $1.50 per copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

What McClure's Is Really Worth

Roderick McDonald of Dawson, Yukon Territory, pays one dollar a copy to get McClure's Magazine because, as he said, it is worth it. If McClure's is worth one dollar to a man who cannot get it otherwise, is it not worth ten cents to you? A magazine is worth, not what it costs, but what it brings to you. Judge McClure's by this test. Buy the December number and apply the test. Out next Saturday.

SURPRISING STRENGTH IN NEW YORK STOCKS

The Market Opened Higher, Advanced Steadily and Closed at the Best—Call Money Easy—Recovery in Philadelphia Company.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Wall street was surprised at the strength displayed by the stock market at the opening yesterday. Initial quotations were from ½ to 1 per cent higher than the close on Thursday, and instead of a flood of liquidating orders, there was a good demand for stocks all day, and the market closed at or near the highest prices. The business was well distributed, and the total sales exceeded 1,000,000 shares.

The foreign markets did not reflect any of the weakness which was reported to have prevailed late on Thursday as a result of developments in Russia, and American securities in London were fractionally higher. Traders quickly reached the conclusion that they had been made the victims of a shake-out based upon unfounded rumors from abroad, and those who had sold short quickly ran to cover. The pools in the specialties seemed to be supplied with unlimited money and courage, and in the case of American Smelting common and Tennessee Coal and Iron the net advance reached 4¾ per cent.

The strength of Amalgamated Copper and Union Pacific, however, was regarded as of more significance than the skyrocketing of the pool stocks. Amalgamated had the benefit of the third successive advance in the price of the metal, and the stock rose from 82¾ to 84½, the net gain for the day being 1⅝ per cent. Union Pacific rallied from 131½ to 133 and closed at the top, a gain of 2⅛ per cent. The interests back of these two stocks are the dominating ones in the general market, and the fact that they led in the upward movement was interpreted as indicating the attitude of the big men toward the market.

Reading rallied to 141½ and closed 2¾ higher than on Thursday. Pennsylvania closed 1⅝ higher, but Baltimore & Ohio gained only ½ per cent. The October report of this company showed a large increased operating expenses. St. Paul and Canadian Pacific each closed 1⅝ higher, Louisville & Nashville 2⅜ higher and the remainder of the railroad list from ½ to 1 per cent higher. The rally in this part of the list, in fact, restored prices to nearly the highest level of the week.

United States Steel issues were fairly active and firm, the common closing ¾ and the preferred ⅝ higher. Republic Iron and Steel preferred closed 2⅞ higher. The executive committee of the company had a meeting at which it is inferred the matter of making good the deferred dividends was considered, but no conclusion was reached.

The news of the day was not of a very striking character. The directors of New York Central authorized an increase of a little more than $17,000,000 new stock, to be allotted at par to stockholders of record December 15, and the "rights" were quoted on the curb at 5⅛@5⅜. As already stated, there was another advance in all grades of copper.

The money market was distinctly easier. Call loans ranged between 6% and 4 per cent, the final loan being at 4 per cent. It is estimated that the banks have lost something like $3,000,000 cash during the week, but the liquidation which took place in the stock market is expected to be reflected in another large decrease in loans, and possibly in a restoration of the reserve to the legal requirement.

The bond market was less active, the total sales slightly exceeding $5,000,000. The Japanese issues, Erie convertibles and Wabash debentures were the most active.

In the local stock market the only gain of note was in Philadelphia Company common, which recovered to 52⅜, but closed offered at 52¼, a recovery for the day of ⅛. No formal announcement has yet been made regarding the proposed deal in the stock, and while Pittsburgh does not seem to be greatly interested, so far as the market is concerned, eastern holders are discussing the terms as published, with much interest. Apparently the majority holders are dissatisfied, and it may be that the figures given out were in the nature of a "feeler." Tonopah Extension sold to the extent of 1,400 shares at $5.50, a decline of 30 cents a share. Lustre Mining sold unchanged at 20½ for regular delivery, but at 21⅜ buyer's option 60 days. Pittsburgh Oil and Gas declined 2 per cent to 56 on the sale of 100 shares. The other natural gas shares were quiet but steady. Crucible Steel common and preferred closed ¼ lower. The Coal stocks and the Westinghouse issues were quiet and unchanged. Independent Brewing bonds closed ¼ lower at 107.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

If today's New York bank statement does not show a restoration of the reserve to the legal limit there is likely to be some disappointment in speculative circles at least. The great change in the money market yesterday, as compared with a week ago, was the most influential factor in the stock market's recovery, and if the banks have not strengthened themselves during the week, the money question will again become prominent. The news agencies yesterday estimated the loss in cash at between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000. There is no doubt that the banks have shipped currency on balance also to the interior on the regular exchange operations. With last week's deficit of $2,423,500 this movement would seem to indicate the necessity of a much more violent contraction of loans to restore the legal reserve than there has been any indication of in the stock market. But it is believed that special movements of each have taken place which serve largely to offset the apparent loss on regular exchange operations. Large amounts are known to have been received from Canada and it is current belief that shipments have been received from interior points for deposit in New York to be used in placing loans in the stock market. The loan account of the banks is expected as a matter of course to show a large reduction.

A. J. T.—The Philadelphia Company does not guarantee the dividend on Consolidated Gas preferred stock. The Philadelphia controls and operates the plant through its ownership of the common stock and turns over to Consolidated Gas the net earnings after all expenses are paid. In August this year the semi-annual rate was reduced from 3 to 2½ per cent because of the insufficiency of earnings to meet the full dividend requirement.

Morris, Brown & Co. were the sellers of 1,400 shares Tonopah Extension at the decline. Robinson Bros. bought 1,000 shares. Whitney, Stephenson & Co., Hall, Lotz and Cambell Bros. bought the remainder.

The announcement of the issue of New York Central treasury stock to stockholders at par was a stimulating influence upon standard railroad stocks. The announcement has been expected, but information varied as to whether the subscription privilege would be at par or at 125, the latter being the rate at which the preceding issue was allotted.

The directors of the Philadelphia Electric Company have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2½ per cent, payable December 15.

It is stated that the Philadelphia Company has added 6,000 new gas customers since the end of the fiscal year on March 31.

The work of constructing the dam, canal and power house of the Whitney Co. at Whitney, N. C., is said to be about 25 per cent done and will be completed, according to the company's officials, in 1907.

The Manufacturers Record says within less than 23 miles of Shreveport, La., there have recently been struck five natural gas wells, each with a capacity of from 6,000,000 to 15,000,000 cubic feet per day.

A Philadelphia holder of Philadelphia Company stock says: "From the standpoint of a holder and investor in Philadelphia Company stock the offer of such an exchange of securities as suggested is not attractive. The net income from Philadelphia Company common stock is now 6 per cent, while an exchange for bonds and stock of a foreign corporation would be subject to four mills tax in this state, and even assuming that the new bonds would be worth par, the income of present holders of Philadelphia Company stock would be reduced from 6 per cent to about 5¼ per cent." Another interest in quoted as saying: "I have seen a synopsis of the offer for the Philadelphia Company stock and it appeals to me as one of the most comprehensive of its kind that I have ever examined. There will not be a holding company. The offer will come from the United Railways Investment Company of San Francisco. This company proposes to give $97.50 per share in a new collateral trust bond with its own guarantee attached and $20 a share of its own stock for each share of common stock of the Philadelphia Company. The plan is to put the united Railways Investment Company stock on a 6 per cent basis within a short time."

The earnings of the German National bank from November 10, 1904, to November 9, 1905, were $103,000, or nearly 21 per cent on the capital of $500,000.

A New York dispatch said: The mission of J. J. Hill abroad has been successful. In 48 hours he obtained all the money and backing he required, both for the financing of expansion southward and building of new lines westward.

ACREAGE DEAL AT M'KEESPORT

SUBURBAN SALE OF $60,000

William L. Curry of the McKeesport Tin Plate Company has just completed the purchase of one of the finest manufacturing sites in the Pittsburgh district at McKeesport. The deal, which involved $140,000, was made through the office of J. A. Young & Co. of the East End, and the property comprises 48 acres of land in Christy park, McKeesport, directly opposite Port Vue. Thirty-six acres of this land was secured from W. S. Brown, the gun merchant, for $103,000, or $3,000 an acre. The remaining 12 acres, which adjoins the Brown tract on the south, was bought from C. B. Lovait & Co. of Philadelphia for $31,125.

The site lies between the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Youghiogheny river, having a frontage of about 2,000 feet on each. It is near the end of the Thirteenth street bridge and just above the McKeesport garbage plant. On the opposite side of the Youghiogheny is the big plant of the McKeesport Tin Plate Company, which covers about 15 acres and employes several hundred men. The site is part of the well known Christy park property, the upper part of which, across the railroad, is plotted and partly improved.

Few sites of this size can be found near Pittsburgh which have so good advantages. The long Youghiogheny river frontage affords the best of facilities for bringing up coal and the Baltimore & Ohio frontage makes it possible to run in switches. Across the river is the Pittsburgh, McKeesport & Youghiogheny railroad, to which, it is said, a new bridge may be built. Mr. Curry is largely interested in manufacturing and secured this site for another big plant. Regarding the nature of this venture he declined to say anything last night, as the plans for it are not fully formulated.

Club Buys a $60,000 Farm.

The most important deal made for property beyond Wilkinsburg for several months is that for the A. McMillan farm of 60 acres, which it was reported was closed yesterday. None of the owners could be reached yesterday afternoon, but the report was generally credited, as it was known that a deal for the farm had been pending for some time. The McMillan homestead, as it is called, is on a level strip on the crest of the hill overlooking Verona, about one mile this side of that town. It is intersected by the Wilkinsburg & Verona street car line and is less than a half mile south of Sandy Creek station on the Allegheny Valley railroad. The price is $60,000, or $1,000 an acre. There are no buildings of special value on the farm, so that this figure may be considered a fair valuation for level land in that neighborhood. A few years ago part of the original McMillan farm was plotted and sold off in lots. The remainder of it was wanted two years ago for a race track, but the project never went through. Owing to its location and its being one of the few level farms in that vicinity, it is especially valuable and several good offers have been made recently for the property, one of them being by a prominent downtown shoe merchant who desired it for a country home. The present buyer is said to be the Concordia club, which already owns a small plot up the Allegheny and will, it is said, fit this place up for a model club resort, providing golf links and other out-door amusements.

Exchange Deal Totals $112,000.

A big exchange deal which is practically closed involves the sale of the Friedman & Rosenfeld holding at the northwest corner of Carson and Fourteenth streets, South Side, for about $75,000. The property includes 71.5 feet in Carson street and 92 feet in Fourteenth street and is improved with four three-story brick stores and dwellings. These are said to be rented for about $6,000 a year. Friedman & Rosenfeld secured the property in May, 1903, from the German Savings & Deposit bank, paying $55,000. The buyer in this case is reported to be S. Perelstine, who tenders in part payment two 10-room brick houses on 100x46 feet at Clark and Logan streets, which are put into the deal at about $37,000. The houses have lately been remodeled and are rented for over $3,000 a year.

Through the Aronson Realty Company James Fullerton, the undertaker, has bought from I. Leonard Aronson and Jacob Sloan the property at 2007-2009 Fifth avenue for $20,000 cash. The lot is triangular shaped, facing 80 feet in Fifth avenue and measuring 67x17 feet on the other two sides. The same brokers have the articles of agreement signed in a deal for $34,000 involving outer Fifth avenue realty.

Goudie & Connolly, who have been prominent in the development of the Crafton valley, are preparing to pave all the streets in the West Ingram park plan, including Potter, Cobb and Warren avenues and Greenwood street. Recently these men sold 12 lots, 30x125 feet each, in the plan to persons who will improve them at once with houses costing on an average $4,000 each. Some of the buyers were West Virginia oil men, who of late are buying quite liberally in the suburban allotments around Pittsburgh. Goudie & Connolly also sold this week to a local investor 60x120 feet in the West Ingram plan as a site for a three-story brick apartment house which will cost $15,000. The building, which will be the first of its kind in that neighborhood, will contain six suites of six rooms and bath each.

At last the first steel to be used in the construction of the Pittsburgh Coal Company building at 232 Fifth avenue has arrived. Workmen were busy yesterday getting it placed in the excavation and erecting a derrick to assist in unloading. After months after the plans for the building were completed by Architects George S. Orth & Brothers it was announced the work had been held up by the non-arrival of the structural steel. This delay succeeded another which was the result of a legal tangle, so that when the work of erecting the 12-story building is actually under way it will be a great relief not only to the owners and architects, but to the Fifth avenue public, who are tired of the unsightly hole in the ground.

Will Probably Lease Armory Site.

The deal for the location of an amusement park on the old Clark property at Forbes and Craft avenues, Oakland, is apparently progressing well. It is understood the deal for the purchase of the four acres belonging to Murry Verner has been closed through Heldridge, Watson & Co. for $200,000. Whether the amusement syndicate will buy or lease the rear of the seven-acre plot is to be decided, although it is probable that the latter course will be adopted. It is said that if this is done the Eighteenth regiment, which now occupies the rear plot with its armory and drill ground, may use the land in conjunction with the amusement people.

Two Allegheny realty companies have received their charters. The Brighton Heights Company, capitalized at $5,000, is composed of W. P. and John D. Frazer and George T. McDonald and was formed to handle the Brighton Heights allotment and the adjoining Harbison tract, which it lately acquired for $150,000. The other concern is the E. W. Klein Realty Company, which also has a capital of $5,000. The members are Edwin E. Klein and Herman A. Bostler of Allegheny. The firm is now engaged in the real estate business in North Diamond street.

George L. Kibg of Bellevue, J. L. Welsh and C. Clarence Long have chartered for the Suburban Improvement Company, which proposes to develop considerable vacant frontage in East Bellevue and to build houses.

The Third Ward Building and Loan association has received a new charter after having been in business 55 years. The incorporators are Charles Walz, Theodore Lamb, Ferdinand Manns, Charles M. Johnson and John E. Frazer.

HIGH-GRADE CELERY FINDS A GOOD SALE

Ohio Stock Is Most Prominent on Local Market and the Demand Is Good.

Trade in the local markets yesterday was very good. Perhaps the best selling article on the market is celery. While the price is good, it is not considered high, and a good-sized bunch of the best quality can be obtained for 25 cents. This is all Ohio stock. Cranberries are also finding a good sale, with the prices favoring the buyer.

Apples continue to arrive in better quality and the market is steady with a good demand. Grapes are holding steady, with a fair demand when of the best quality.

The market for Irish potatoes is weak under better offerings than for some time past. Sweet potatoes are moving slowly at unimproved figures.

The market for butter is going along about the same lines as it has for several weeks. There is scarcely enough high-grade strictly fresh creamery butter and prices for such are firmly maintained.

The supply of chickens continues to be large and receipts are heavy. Chickens will be numerous at Thanksgiving time and the prices will favor the buyer.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 3 cars corn and 3 cars hay; Baltimore & Ohio, 2 cars corn, 4 cars hay, 1 car straw, 1 car corn and oats; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 4 cars hay, 1 car corn and 1 car straw.

Receipts in all lines were light yesterday and the market was firm. Bidding was active on change and sales were easily effected at prevailing prices. Clover and clover mixed hay, especially No. 1 grade, is strong and in demand. No change in corn. Straw continues strong.

TYLER COUNTY TEST WELL PRODUCES 75 BARRELS A DAY

On Pursley creek, Ellsworth district, Tyler county, W. Va., the Melrose Oil & Gas Company's test well on the W. T. Leazure farm is attracting some little attention. The well is in new territory and is producing 75 barrels a day from the Keener sand. Holders of territory in that locality are getting ready to do some development work. The Southern Oil Company holds leases on a number of farms and has made the location for a test on the Boreman farm, one-fourth mile northwest of the Melrose Oil & Gas Company's producer on the Leazure farm. In Union district, Tyler county, H. Kane & Co. have completed their test on the J. T. Hugas farm and have a duster in the Big Injun. In the same locality, the Furman Oil Company has completed a second test on the Lewis L. Correll farm and has a show for a very light pumper in the Big Injun formation.

In the Folsom district, Wetzel county, the South Penn Oil Company is making a deep test of its No. 15 on the G. W. Talkington farm. When drilled through the Gordon, this well showed no oil and was then drilled for a test in the lower sands. It found the fifth sand and is now drilling at a depth of 3099 feet below the Gordon and has no oil or gas. In the Salem district, Harrison county, the same company has drilled its second test on the J. H. Riffee farm 9 feet into the Gordon and has only a light show of oil. Unless it improves with deeper drilling it will make a very light pumper. In the same district, the South Penn has drilled its test on the B. F. Jones farm 86 feet into the Big Injun and has developed no oil or gas. Near Bula, Monongahela county, the South Penn has drilled No. 30 on the Georgia Eddy farm into the fourth sand and has developed some gas. This well was formerly a producer in the upper sand and was drilled down.

In the Yellow Creek field, Calhoun county, the Ann Oil Company has drilled its No. 10 on the David Matthews farm into the Maxon sand and has a show for a 10-barrel pumper at that level. It will be tested before drilling to the Berea grit. In the same district, the Carter Oil Company has shot its No. 8 on the J. E. Snyder farm and increased its production to 150 barrels a day. The South Penn's No. 3 on the G. W. Silcott farm is good for 100 barrels a day.

The Berea grit development east of Woodsfield, Monroe county, Ohio, is still furnishing some very nice producers. In this district, the Fisher Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the John Duffy farm and has a show for a 40-barrel producer. In the Wolf Creek district, Washington county, the Pure Oil Producing Company has completed its No. 12 on the R. H. Murdock farm and has a show for a 15-barrel pumper in the shallow sand. Davis & Son have completed a second test on the Dye farm and have a show for a very light pumper in the first (Cow Run sand.

In the new development on Wills creek, near of Steubenville, Jefferson county, Castner Bigham have completed their No. 1 on the R. B. Elgin farm and have a 50-barrel producer in the Berea grit. As soon as drilled into the pay the well began to flow. In the Cornong district, Athens county, Johnston & Nutting have completed their No. 5 on the C. A. Snow farm and have a light pumper.

In the Georgetown district, Beaver county, Pa., Clark Boughman & Co. have completed a test, located in advance of developments, on the John Gallagher farm and have a duster. In the same district, C. J. Hummel has completed No. 9 on his own farm and has a light pumper in the Berea grit.

The Wool Market.

BOSTON, Nov. 17.—The Commercial Bulletin will say tomorrow of the wool market:

Worsted and woolen mills have been buying to a considerable extent during the week. Values are steady and firm. Territory wools have sold as well as the depleted lines permitted. Staple wools continue in their strong position of months past, but clothing wools have not the demand that the former have. Half-bloods and three-eighths are very scarce, and consequently small prices. Fleeces have sold moderately well and a small movement in California wools have taken place. Pulled wools are rather quiet, with occasional small sales of As and Bs reported. Full Californias is bringing 60@65c, scoured, in the state, but purchases are not extensive. The Kerrville (Texas) sales open the first of next week, with about 500,000 to 600,000 offerings. Contracting in the west by eastern dealers continues. The shipments of wool from Boston to date from December 29, 1904, according to the same authority are 214,452,210 pounds, against 219,415,551 pounds at the same time last year. The receipts to date are 258,808,541 pounds, against 202,613,092 pounds for the same period last year.

WHEAT BREAKS ONE CENT ON HEAVY SALES

Liquidation Weakens All Lines and Grain Market Has Heavy Relapse.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Nov. 17.—Heavy liquidation by prominent holders today caused a break in the wheat market here of over 1c per bushel. The market closed at about the lowest point of the day, with the May option showing a net loss of ½@⅝c. Corn was down 5c. Oats were unchanged. Provisions were 2½@10c lower.

Weakness in the wheat market developed toward the end of the first hour. Early in the session the prevailing sentiment was bullish and moderate gains were recorded. At the opening the May option was unchanged to ⅛c higher at 83½@83¾c. On active demand from commission houses and local shorts the price quickly rose to 85¾c. The buying was largely the result of the strength shown in the price of wheat at European grain centers, all the foreign markets being somewhat above the prices of yesterday. Small shipments from Argentina and the continuance of disturbed conditions in Russia apparently formed the basis of the strength abroad. Small receipts in the northwest lent also a bullish influence to the market. On the other hand there was a less urgent demand for cash wheat at Minneapolis, which resulted in a reduction of its premium over the December option. Near the end of the first hour the market showed signs of weakness. Prices broke sharply on liberal selling by several prominent bulls. Rumor credited one house with the sale of over 1,000,000 bushels of May wheat. Almost immediately there was a general rush on the part of pit traders to sell. The decline brought out numerous stop-loss orders in the commission houses, the execution of which gave impetus to the decline. For May the lowest point of the day was reached at 82¾@82¾c. The market exhibited but slight recuperative power during the last hour of trading, the sentiment continuing decidedly bearish. The close was weak, with prices near the lowest point of the day. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 194,500 bushels. Exports of the week as shown by Bradstreets were equal to 4,430,200 bushels. Primary receipts were 1,205,000 bushels, against 1,040,000 bushels one year ago, Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 814 cars, against 1,031 cars last week and 889 cars one year ago.

The slump in wheat caused heavy profit-taking in corn, resulting in a considerable decline in values. Early in the day the market was firm on renewed buying of the December option by shorts. Clear weather and prospects of increased local receipts were additional bearish influences. The market closed weak. May opened a shade to ⅛@¼c higher at 45¾c to 45¾c, sold up to 45⅝@45¾c, and then dropped to 44¾c. Final quotations were at 44¾c. Local receipts were 434 cars, with 19 of contract grade.

Notwithstanding the break in wheat and corn the oats market closed steady. An improved demand from shippers was the reason for the comparative firmness. There was some profit-taking following the decline in wheat, but offerings were readily absorbed by commission houses and cash interests. May opened unchanged to a shade higher at 32½@32⅝c, sold between 32¾c and 32¾c, and closed at 32½c. Local receipts were 128 cars.

Provisions were firm early in the session. The cause for this was the fair demand created by the orders of a local packer. Weakness of grain caused some liquidation and in consequence an easier tone developed. May pork closed 10c lower at $12 72½; lard was off 2½@5c at $7 00; ribs were down 2½c at $6 75.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 115 cars; corn, 344 cars; oats, 192 cars; hogs, 13,000 head.
